ADJOURNMENT UNTIL MONDAY

Whether President Coolidge Will Permit Access to Government Letters on Dispute Is Undisclosed.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—The courtmartial trying Col. William Mitchell, held today that he was within his rights in asking for the testimony of a long list of witnesses, including three Cabinet officials, in defending himself against the disciplinary charge growing out of his attack on the Government's air policy.

After the court had examined the list, Major-General Robert L. Howze, president of the tribunal, directed the prosecution to take immediate steps to proceed to facilitate the defense by obtaining the witnesses and documents called for. An adjournment then was taken until Monday, to permit preparation and service of subpenas.

On the list are Secretaries Davis of the War Department, Wilbur of the Navy Department and Jardine of the Agricultural Department; Everett Sanders, Secretary to President Coolidge, and many high-ranking army and navy officers, as well as others in civil life who have had contact with aeronautics.

To Air Entire Controversy.

Some of those named are in Honolulu and other distant points, and it was indicated that no decision had been reached as to whether all of them would be brought here.

The action of the court apparently means that Mitchell will be given a free hand in threshing out the whole aircraft controversy in court, in an attempt to prove that he was justified in charging that the army and navy air service were being administered with criminal and almost treasonable neglect of the best interests of the country.

Voluminous documents now in the Government's files, including War and Navy Department records and copies of such letters as may have been written and received by President Coolidge in regard to the air controversy, are called for as a part of the case of the defense. Whether the right of the courtmartial to demand access to all of these documents will be recognized by the White House and the departments concerned remains undisclosed.

Trial May Last Several Weeks.

A trial running into several weeks now seems certain, and as a result the debate over the Government's aircraft program doubtless will be carried over into the session of Congress which begins early next month.

Mitchell again was overruled by the courtmartial today when he sought to have the charges against him dismissed on the plea that the prosecution had presented no proof of his guilt.

The decision was handed down without delay after an argument of counsel, during which Representative Reid of Illinois, counsel for Mitchell, declared the prosecution had rested yesterday without producing one scintilla of proof that the air officer violated army discipline by his utterances in the air controversy.

This contention the prosecution denied.

The Court was told by Reid that the prosecution had been unable to find in the whole country "One single, solitary individual, man or woman, soldier or civilian, to come here and say he thought from reading these statements they were issued with a malicious and wicked intent."

"Alone Against 100,000,000."

"And so, the prosecution stands all alone on its claim," he continued, "deserted by the whole world, and would have the court accept its interpretation of these statements as opposed to the opinion of 100,000,000 Americans. What a farce it is!"

"No evidence was produced by the prosecution that might conceivably have shown that these statements were insubordinate. In fact, the only evidence on that point was just the reverse. Lieutenant-Colonel George L. Hicks, the prosecution's own witness, said on cross-examination that he did not consider the statements insubordinate.

"The same remarks apply to the term 'highly contemptuous and disrespectful.' It cannot be said for a Japanese Copies Bible on Scroll.

Correspondence of the Associated Press.

TOKIO, Oct. 11.—A complete copy of the Bible on a single strip of paper has been made by a Japanese Christian missionary, Dr. Ishizuka. The paper scroll is about 110 inches long and 30 inches broad. The strip can be read, but only with the aid of a magnifying glass. The text is in Japanese, more than 1,000,000 characters covering the scroll. It required four years and three months to complete. At its conclusion Dr. Ishizuka fell into a long swoon.

Depew Votes With Machine.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Chauncey M. Depew, former United States Senator, who now is 91 years old, cast his ballot, unassisted, with one of the new voting machines in the New York election today. He chuckled over his success at operating the levers and showed special interest in the mechanism. Mrs. Depew voted just after him.

CALIFORNIA EDITOR GETS 1000 DAYS IN JAIL FOR CONTEMPT

CALLED THE STATE'S AID "STOOL PIGEON"

Sentence Imposed by Court During Trial of Criminal Libel Action Brought by Student.

By the Associated Press.

EUREKA, Cal., Nov. 3.—Declaring that the freedom of the press is involved in his sentence to imprisonment for contempt of court by Superior Judge Denver Sevier, Alfred Lindsley was editing his newspaper, the Humboldt News, from a cell in the County Jail today. He started serving a 1000-day term yesterday.

Lindsley was found in contempt for referring to Fred Wiley, University of California student, working as a prohibition enforcement agent for the District Attorney, as a stool pigeon and declaring that his own arrest was a political smoke screen raised by the District Attorney.

The contempt sentence was passed during a trial of a criminal libel action against Lindsley on charges brought by Wiley.

Lindsley has appealed for a writ of habeas corpus and bail.

Wiley last summer, during the college vacation, got employment as a Deputy Sheriff of Humboldt County. He brought about the arrest of Dowling Bunce and Edna Wiborg in a dance hall near Eureka on a charge of having liquor in their possession. Wiley charged that they threw away a bottle of liquor when he appeared and both denied possession of liquor. The girl said she believed Wiley was going to attack her and that this accounted for her resistance when he approached.

Lindsley, in his paper, a bi-weekly, said Wiley was not a fit man to be employed as a Deputy Sheriff.

DETROIT TOO WET, DEPUTY ZONE CHIEF QUITS HIS JOB

City Is Worst to Which He Ever Has Been Assigned, Declares A. B. Stroup.

By the Associated Press.

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 3.—A. B. Stroup resigned today as deputy administrator in charge of Federal prohibition forces here, coupling his resignation with a statement in which he declared Detroit is the "wettest" city to which he has ever been assigned.

Stroup said his resignation had been accepted, effective Dec. 1.

"I can't say I was much surprised by the conditions I found in Detroit, for I was warned," he said. "I have worked in several parts of the country and observed conditions carefully, and I can say without hesitation that nowhere else is the law so openly violated as it is here."

Stoup said his office was crippled by lack of agents. There were 26 under his direction, he said, whereas there should be double that number. "Even with 75 we could not do much with the blind pig situation," he added.

"I go to church twice on Sundays," Stroup concluded, "and it is nothing to step out of church and meet a woman of the streets who will offer to take you around the corner to a blind pig."

HIGH BONDS FOR GIRL ROBBERS

Chicago Pair, Held in Sum of $200,000 Each.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—Mrs. Marie Maxfield, 19 years old, and Mrs. Violet Hammond, 17, confessed robbers, who made a specialty of robbing taxicab chauffeurs, were held to the grand jury in bonds of $200,000 each on four charges of robbery today by Municipal Judge Lyle. Vernon Maxfield, husband of Marie, has been arrested in Denver and is charged with participating in one of the robberies which his wife confessed.

COMPARES DOCUMENT TO VIVID MELODRAMA

Denies That Famous Players Dominate Film Industry and Defends Theater Ownership.

By JAMES ROBBINS,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Characterizing the Government brief in the Federal Trade Commission's investigation of the motion picture industry as a lurid melodrama spun by counsel for the commission, Cravath, Henderson and De Gersdorff of New York, attorneys for Adolph Zukor and the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, contend in the first part of their brief, filed yesterday, they have "pricked the bubble of monopoly bloyn in the imagination of commission's counsel."

They say a picture was drawn of Famous Players as a monster well on the road to swallowing the industry, and that a large part of it was based on "mere backstairs gossip."

"Every melodrama must have its villain," it is stated. "In casting about for someone to play that role in their 'thriller,' commission's counsel naturally hit upon the man who has been most prominent in the development of the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, Mr. Adolf Zukor."

But it is denied that Zukor is a superman. He is described as a man who has been able, by associating with himself experts in every detail of his business, and by a keen appreciation of the American sense for entertainment, to build up in a single decade a company that has "dignified a heretofore discredited industry."

Denies Domination.

Famous Players has never dominated or controlled the motion picture industry, it is said, its position never having measurably approached domination or control as a whole, or in production, distribution and exhibition.

True, the advertisement of the "largest, grandest collection of famous players ever assembled by any moving picture organization," was a bit boastful, but the members of the commission are asked not to forget their own youth and the superlatives they swallowed when the circus came to town.

Defense counsel's analysis of the facts is that the merging of producing and distributing units of which so forbidding a picture was drawn, was nothing but the run of "four little producing firms," their joining of forces with their own distributing agencies and their organization of a few small subsidiaries, "either to satisfy the vanity of a star or to meet some minor problem of administration."

The brief is written in defense of the right of the American manufacturer to sell his product directly to the consumer without the interposition of middle men, which is declared to be the issue of the case. Divesting themselves and their correspondents of all theater interests, which counsel for the commission have asked for, would entail the disposal of property of a probable value of more than $100,000,000.

Direct-to-Consumer Plan.

The exhibition of their own pictures, defense counsel contend, is not illegal, but commendable. They state it is no more than a manufacturer selling to the public on the direct-to-the-consumer plan, the theater, really being the retail store.

Also there is the reminder that the courts have sustained direct sales and confirmed that co-operative efforts on the part of retailers, wholesalers or others to interfere with the course of direct dealing is itself a violation of the anti-trust law.

It is admitted that an order which purported to deny Famous Players the right of controlling theaters would be an abridgment of the copyright of its films "to exhibit in any manner or by any method whatsoever."

Reasons for Owning Theaters.

Five reasons are set forth for the ownership of theaters by producers: First is the advertising of pictures on their initial runs; second is the importance of their having a favorable setting and of music; third, that first-run theaters in key cities furnish from 25 to 40 per cent of the total revenue received by producers and distributors in

WALES FALLS INTO WATERY CHASM DURING FOX HUNT

By the Associated Press.

LEIGHTON BUZZARD, BEDFORDSHIRE, England, Nov. 3.—The Prince of Wales today took his first tumble from horseback since returning to England from his South African and South American journey.

The fall came in the course of an exciting fox hunt when the Prince's horse failed to take an awkward fence. The Prince was unhurt.

The Prince's hunter had been chasing a fox for an hour, and the hounds were in full cry. Coming to a fence with a big ditch in front of it, his horse failed to take the jump and both the Prince and his mount disappeared into the watery chasm. The Prince scrambled out, but his horse was mired and was released only with difficulty. The royal huntsman then gave up the chase and returned to London.

Several other hunters in the party had bad falls on account of the wet grounds.

U. S. EXPORTS TO RUSSIA IN YEAR WORTH $70,000,000

America Leads World in Shipments; Demand for Farm Machinery Increases Trade.

By the Associated Press.

MOSCOW, Nov. 3.—The United States led the world in exports to Russia during the first nines months of 1925. Soviet trade returns show that nearly $70,000,000 worth of American goods, representing 35 per cent of Russia's total imports, was bought by the soviet government during this period. Imports from England were second, totaling $68,000,000.

Imports from Germany came third in the list, amounting to $59,000,000.

Before the war, Russia's average imports from United States amounted to only $40,000,000, or 6 per cent of Russia's total import trade.

The soviet government has stated that it will spend $35,000,000 in the United States during 1926 for equipment for its oil, metal and other industries.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—An unusual demand for agricultural machinery in Russia is said to be responsible for the record export movement from this country to Russia. An increased demand for machinery of all kinds has been noted this year, according to the Amtorg Trading Corporation, but purchases of farm implements has been unprecedented.

DOG DIES IN FIVE-DAY VIGIL AT ICE HOLE WHERE MAN SANK

By the Associated Press.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., Nov. 3.—After a five-day vigil beside a hole in the ice of Lake Manawa, near here, where presumably his master fell through and was drowned, a faithful dog was found dead yesterday.

The dog was discovered beside the break in the ice last Thursday. It ignored all attempts to coax it away, and the ice was too thin to allow anyone to approach. Finally some men chopped a passage for a canoe and set out to rescue the animal, but found it dead, presumably of hunger and exposure.

Police are preparing to drag the lake for the body of the master.

By the Associated Press.

PRAGUE, Czecho-Slovakia, Nov. 3.—A new thrill came to Pilot Hrazdil yesterday when, while piloting a Government-owned passenger plane between Passau and Preesburg, he was attacked by a passenger who apparently had become insane. Although the passenger attempted to choke Hrazdil, he retained control of the machine with one hand and beat off the madman with the other, meanwhile planing to the ground and making an emergency landing.

The raving passenger was turned over to the police at Pressburg.

Sheriff's Widow Gets His Job.

By the Associated Press.

TEXARKANA, Ark., Nov. 3.—Mrs. Lilly Barber, widow of E. F. Barber, Miler County Sheriff, who was slain in a shooting affray last Friday, yesterday was notified by Gov. She co-operated with her husband from the time he took office and was in complete charge of the county jail much of the time.

DOCTOR IS ASKED FOR HIS OPINION IN STEPHENSON TRIAL

WOMAN NEIGHBOR HEARD SCREAMING

Prosecution Hopes to Rest Before Adjournment Today in Case of Former 'Dragon' of Klan.

By the Associated Press.

NOBLESVILE, Ind., Nov. 3.—The State is nearing the end of its case against D. C. Stephenson, Earl Klenck and Earl Gentry charged with murder in connection with the death of Miss Madge Oberholtzer of Indianapolis. William Remy, prosecutor, said he hoped to rest the case before adjournment today.

Dr. Virgil Moon, pathologist of Indiana University school of medicine, was under cross-examination today. He testified yesterday injuries the woman suffered after her alleged abduction to Hammond last March were partly the cause of her death. She took poison in a hotel in Hammond. One of the murder indictments charges that the defendants withheld medical aid after they had learned that Miss Oberholtzer had taken poison.

Tests Poison Tablet.

Dr. Moon today dropped into a glass of water at the direction of Eph Inman, defense counsel, one of the tablets such as Miss Oberholtzer took, but when Inman asked the doctor to tell the jury just how rapidly the tablet broke up, the pathologist answered: "Not very rapidly," and Inman had to turn to detailed questioning to bring out his point that the poison tablets disintegrated rapidly and did their work speedily.

Inman was only partly successful in bringing such testimony from the witness. Miss Oberholtzer's dying declaration said that she did not notify her captors of her self-poisoning until five or six hours after she had swallowed the tablets.

The testimony of Dr. Moon was highly technical throughout his cross-examination. Yesterday he had said, in answer to a hypothetical question, propounded on direct examination, that death under circumstances related by the State, and conforming to the conditions it alleges in Miss Oberholtzer's case, was the result of complications of self-administered poison and of wounds and injuries, and not alone the result of the poison she swallowed.

Died 29 Days Later.

She died 29 days after swallowing the poison and Dr. Moon said that every case he had found in medical records showed that if a victim of such poisoning lived 25 days, recovery had followed.

Inman sought to develop today that when Miss Oberholtzer signed a "dying statement" on March 28 she really was on the road to recovery. He based this on Dr. Moon's testimony that when organs affected by the poisoning began functioning again—usually about 12 days after the poison had been taken—the patient was getting well.

Inman also sought to show that Miss Oberholtzer had been given opiates when it was not necessary, but the witness would not commit himself on that line. It previously had been testified that Miss Oberholtzer had been given narcotics twice on the day she signed the statement accusing Stephenson, Klenck and Gentry.

Earlier in the cross-examination, Inman asked the witness what was the immediate cause of Miss Oberholtzer's death.

"In my opinion the immediate cause of death was an infection carried through the blood stream, localizing in the lung and in the kidney, particularly in the kidney. That was the immediate cause. There were other contributory causes."

Inman brought out that Dr. Moon usually got $10 0a day for his testimony. Dr. Moon denied, however, that he had even dis-

SAYS 300 POLICEMEN TOOK LIQUOR GRAFT

Attorney for Genna Gangsters Declares He Will Give Evidence to U. S.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—Charges of graft involving 300 policemen and payments of $8000 a month have been made by Patrick H. O'Donnell, attorney for two members of the Genna gang, leaders of an alcohol ring, on trial for killing two policemen last June.

O'Donnell offered as evidence to prove his charge, records which he said showed each policeman's star number opposite the amount paid him. Barred from introducing the evidence in the murder trial as irrelevant, O'Donnell said he would give his information to the Federal Government.

Police Had List of Plants.

Some of the policemen took their pay in alcohol from the 15 plants controlled by the Gennas in basements and tenement rooms on the West Side, and bootlegged it themselves, declared O'Donnell. Duplicate lists of these plants were furnished detectives squads so that the places would not be raided by mistake.

The charges were made, the lawyer said, in an attempt to show that "most cordial business and personal relations" existed between the gang and the police and that Genna and his henchmen would not have attempted to kill any of them.

"Mike Genna and his partners paid 300 policemen, 150 of them from the Maxwell Street Station, and another from the State's Attorney's office, $8000 a month, and I have the books to prove it," said O'Donnell in court.

Police Spied for Gennas.

Three squads kept the Gennas informed of other large stills so that Mike could go to them, demand tribute and threaten them.

"Once a Genna truck was arrested by mistake and the police called their headquarters. 'It's all right,' they were told. 'Mike has it all fixed.'"

The charges were the second sensation of the trial, the first coming when two court attaches were discharged after they had accepted presents of whisky from O'Donnell.

FIRM OWED $3,300,000 AT TIME OF CRASH

HEAD OF CONCERN PERSONAL DEBTOR

Forrest Ferguson Turns Over Assets Which He Tells Bankers Represent His "Last Dollar."

The Post-Dispatch was informed today by a man familiar with events preceding the bankruptcy of the Ferguson-McKinney Manufacturing Co., that the company was able to obtain $3,300,000 of credits from banks and elsewhere through criminal falsification of its statements of assets and through entries upon its books of fictitious annual profits, amounting to $1,000,000 in the last three years. In those years the company actually lost large sums.

In one of those years, the company's statement showed a profit of $500,000, but now it has been discovered that it suffered a loss, the sum of which has not been determined. The falsification was maintained to the extent of paying a Federal income tax of $20,000 last year, indicating a profit of $160,000.

Admission of Employes.

This deliberate and criminal falsification of the company's books has been admitted by salaried employes who, however, have pleaded that they did it under instruction of superiors. The identity of these superiors has not yet been revealed.

It is expected that the audit now in progress will disclose the identity of all who may be held responsible in any degree for the falsifications and that this information will be given to the Circuit Attorney for the purposes of prosecution.

Manner of Padding Assets.

The manner of the padding of assets for purposes of obtaining loans now is clear to bankers, whose institutions were thereby defrauded.

Business institutions of the size of the Ferguson-McKinney company, whose sales last year were $8,000,000, commonly establish a line of credit with the banks once a year. The banks depend, for the purpose of determining how much credit they will extend, upon an audit made by some outside auditing company. These audits disclose accurately the financial condition of the company.

There has been a community of interest between the Ferguson-McKinney company at 1201 Washington avenue, and the Carleton Dry Goods Co. at 1143 Washington avenue—just across Twelfth boulevard. A third company, the Carleton-Ferguson Co., has controlled both.

Banker's Version of Deception.

"When the time for an audit of the Ferguson-McKinney company was approaching there would be a flow of cash from the Carleton Dry Goods Co. across the street to the Ferguson-McKinney," said a banker connected with one o fthe creditor banks, but who would not permit use of his name. "By the time the date o fthe audit arrived, the Ferguson-McKinney company would be in possession of several hundreds of thousands of cash in bank—a sufficient sum, not only to give credence to statements that the company was making a profit, but to create a showing of assets sufficient to give the company a large line of credit.

"When the auditors had finished and their reports had been submitted to banks and the banks had set the sum they would loan to the company, the cash in bank that had come from the Carleton company would begin to dribble back across Twelfth boulevard to the Carleton company in time to show as cash in bank when auditors arrived to check up the Carleton company for the purpose of establishing its credit."

Carried On for Three Years.

How many years this was going on has not been determined beyond the fact it did occur during the

STILLMAN AGREES TO DIVORCE, HIS WIFE DECLARES

INTENDS TO JOIN DAUGHTER IN INDIA

Has Rented New York Apartment and Expects to Sail for Europe After Christmas.

By ALLEN NORTON,

CAMP STILLMAN, GRANDE ANSE, Quebec, Nov. 3.—James A. Stillman has agreed to give his wife a divorce.

That was the news exclusively told to the New York World and Post-Dispatch by Mrs. Anne U. Stillman in the isolation of her snow-raked Grande Anse camp.

About her lay the great Canadian woods and their memories—back of her, five years of bitter court battle; before her, freedom.

Both Mrs. Stillman and Fowler McCormick, who is with her, deny any intention of marrying. They deny it singly and together, but do not deny the great bond of sympathy between them. McCormick is the son of Harold F. McCormick of Chicago.

"I am too old and he is too young," was Mrs. Stillman's answer to the direct question whether she and McCormick planned to marry. She did not seem displeased that it was asked, however. Nor did McCormick.

"Being married and unmarried at the same time is a poor position," said Mrs. Stillman, explaining that in seeking a divorce she was only pursuing her original objective of five years ago, when she, for the first time, asked Stillman for her freedom.

Mrs. Stillman was radiant in one of the gayest of her many famous bandana effects, a short red velvet jacekt, immense pearls about her neck, a plain short skirt and a pair of beaded moccasins. She related for the first time and in full the story of her present action, which she asserted Stillman has agreed not to contest.

For the six months, he has continued to send her $750 monthly, which brings her yearly allowance to the old $90,000 figure which the Court formerly directed Stillman to pay pending settlement of his suit. That suit has been settled since June, when the highest New York State court decided against Stillman. But the banker pays the full stipend, anyway.

Why? Because a "great change" has come over him in the interim, and because Mrs. Stillman asked him to do so.

Seated with Fowler McCormick, in a dimly lighted room looking out on the shimmering St. Maurice, impassable to traffic, Mrs. Stillman explained that Stillman agreed to a divorce last summer. An understanding, she said, was reached then through the offices of a mutual friend, who acted for the two. No lawyers were concerned, she said, in reaching this understanding.

Everything Agreed On.

Now everything is agreed on, except the terms of the financial settlement. And in view of Stillman's willingness to continue her allowance at the $90,000 rate, Mrs. Stillman thinks there should be little trouble.

True, once before, five years ago, Stillman agreed to her divorcing him, she says, and then reneged, holding "what he thought was a club over me," and starting his "unpleasant divorce suit."

But several factors, principally Florence Leeds, have been eliminated from the picture since then, Mrs. Stillman says, and she does not fear any difficulty in settlement. As to the money feature, there might me a brief hitch, Mrs. Stillman agreed, "for there are always hitches over money."

Mrs. Stillman admits being practical about money and her lawyers admit it for her. Still, she said she believed money difficulties could be ironed out for certainty. But "I wouldn't move one inch unless I got what I thought belonged to me."

Baby Guy Provided For.

Mrs. Stillman explained that Baby Guy, whose parentage Stillman denied and sought to disprove at the first trial, was taken care of no matter what the outcome of her divorce action. She displayed the opinion of the Court of Appeals of June 2 last, which directed that:

"The judgment appealed from should be modified by striking out all reference to the legitimacy of the infant defendant, and as so modified is affirmed."

Mrs. Stillman said this made sure Guy's inheriting his share of the millions left in trust by the late James Stillman for his grandchildren.

As part of the pre-divorce arrangement, Mrs. Stillman said she "give back to Stillman their place at Pleasantville, N. Y.—several hundred acres which formed part of the old Stillman divorce story."

The Pleasantville place, unlike that at Grande Anse, belongs to Stillman. But Mrs. Stillman, at least once in the last two or three years, has taken possession against Stillman' orders. At other times he has had guards watching it.

Apartment Rented.

But Stillman "loves" Pleasantville, and Mrs. Stillman said she was giving it back to him. So certain is Mrs. Stillman that the divorce will go through that she has rented her New York City apartment, Fifth avenue and Seventy-second street, to Mrs. H. P. Davison, and is going after Christmas to join Mrs. Stillman's daughter, Mrs. H. P. Davison Jr., in India.

Davison and Anne Stillman were married more than a year ago. They are in London.

Mrs. Stillman was asked about her husband's "changed attitude," and said he and she were now "perfectly good friends."

"When I ask him to do something he usually does it," she added. She explained that of late Stillman had taken her advice on all matters pertaining to the children. She thought he would take her full advice regarding her present suit, which is for a divorce on statutory grounds, the only grounds provided under New York State laws.

No Answer to Suit.

If Stillman has interposed any answer, she knows nothing about it. The 20 legal days required for an answer were up yesterday. Mrs. Stillman said a letter from a lawyer, which she received Saturday, said no answer had been filed up to date of writing.

It takes a full week for legal documents to penetrate to the Stillman camp, and some answer may have been entered by Stillman's lawyer by now.

However, Mrs. Stillman said she thought any move by Stillman would be merely a request for postponement to give them time to decide mutually on the settlement terms.

Mrs. Stillman was putting Guy, now 6, to bed when the correspondent arrived. Miss Oliver, Guy's nurse, had gone to New York City to look after the broken arm of Alexander Stillman. The arm, hurt early in the summer, has been slow in mending, and Alexander was sent to New York by Mrs. Stillman to stay with his father.

Mrs. Stillman believes in the children, seeing Stillman on all possible occasions. Alexander, she said, had been with his father in Florida last winter. James ("Bud") Stillman is at Princeton, and Mrs. Stillman said proudly that he was popular there, a member of a good club, had rowed on the second Princeton crew and had been active in water polo.

Reasons for Secrecy.

She said she thought her children had lived down whatever "odium" attached to the divorce suti and might, indeed, profit from the lesson of it.

She bears no bitterness toward Stillman, she said, but it was an "untidy" five-year period.

The only reason for secrecy in her present divorce action, Mrs. Stillman explained, was that she thought she'd "start a suit politely and not in the James A. Stillman fashion," that was all.

She has received countless telegrams from newspapers asking for information of her suit, but Mrs. Stillman has grown shy in the game of being interviewed and failed to answer any. She likes the reporter looking for information to make the several hundred mile trip to Grande Anse and then, politely opening the door of Stillman Lodge, to ask for Madame Stillman. It is as Madame Stillman that the natives know her. This reporter paid her the visit in the Stillman manner.

MRS. ANNE U. STILLMAN.

Mrs. Stillman's Attorney Denies She Plans a Divorce.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Isaac N. Mills, an attorney for Mrs. Stillman, said last night he was sure there is some mistake when informed she had confirmed reports that she planned a divorce. He declined to say specifically, however, that her statements were incorrect.

"I am sure there is some mistake," he said, "and I cannot discuss the matter further than to say I am sure Mrs. Stillman has not been correctly quoted or understood. I have never authorized such a statement and I do not believe she would make it. I cannot even understand how anyone could get her to discuss such a matter."

DOCTOR IS ASKED FOR HIS OPINION IN STEPHENSON TRIAL

cussed what amount the State would pay him for his two days' service in the trial. He was paid $100 daily when he served as a witness for the defense at the bail hearing here last June, Inman developed. Dr. Moon also admitted that he had refused to testify unless paid that amount.

Dr. J. A. MacDonald of Indianapolis testified he believed Miss Oberholtzer died from a complication brought on from self-administered poison and blood poisoning resulting from injuries she received in an alleged attack.

One hypothetical question yesterday related all the circumstances alleged by the State in the case, and asked directly what, in the opinion of Dr. Moon, caused death.

"In my opinion," he replied, "in the hypothetical case, death resulted from complications rather than from the direct effects of self-administered poison."

Answering another hypothetical question about the nature of the blood poisoning which he testified might have been caused from the girl's wound, he declared that "recovery was almost certain in the absence of the complications set forth."

Tells of Post Mortem.

Dr. Moon said that he performed a post mortem examination on which he based conclusions to which he testified regarding the nature of Miss Oberholtzer's poisoning, both that by her own hand and that which he said resulted from infection of her wounds.

On cross-examination the witness answered in the affirmative an inquiry by Eph Inman, defense counsel, as to whether the poison which Miss Oberholtzer took in the hotel at Hammond, was the deadliest of its kind.

Mrs. Josephine Lowes, residing near the Stephenson home, and Mrs. Delia Hadley, a neighbor, told of incidents about the place on March 17.

Heard "Terrible Screams."

Mrs. Lowes was awakened after midnight the morning of March 17, she said, by the "terrible screams" of a woman and by howling dogs, which she said she knew to be Stephenson's. Mrs. Hadley told of seeing a man known as "Shorty" washing a car on the back lawn of the Stephenson estate about 6 o'clock that morning, and of seeing a man whom she had heard called Earl Gentry, carrying a tray to the garage, with what appeared to be food on it. The State alleges that Miss Oberholtzer was returned from Hammond by automobile the night of March 16 and kept prisoner in the Stephenson garage overnight and until about 11 a. m. the next day.

Dr. MacDonald concluded his direct examination with the statement that in his opinion a skin infection was the originating point of the blood poisoning found in an autopsy performed on Miss Oberholtzer. He testified that opiates given the girl would not have dulled her mental faculties, and might have stimulated her mind. On cross-examination, the witness said Miss Oberholtzer had taken almost twice enough poison to cause death to some persons.

No Libel From Ghosts, Court Rules

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—Ghosts can tell anything they wish, and their mediums cannot be held responsible for libel, Judge David ruled yesterday. He instructed a jury to find in favor of Ezekial Morris, negro medium, who was sued for $25,000 by another negro medium, Mrs. Julia Johnson. Johnson charged Morris had told sensational stories about her.

ADCOX RECRUITED PUPILS FOR HALF OF P. & S. TUITION

Convicted Diploma Mill Operator Testifies He Had Written Agreement With Dr. Briggs.

HE GIVES EVIDENCE AT OUSTER HEARING

Tells of Canvassing Likely Prospects to Induce Them to Enroll in Medical College.

Dr. Robert Adcox, 4414 Delmar boulevard, who is at liberty under bond pending appeal from a 2-year penitentiary sentence resulting from his implication in the operation of a "diploma mill" for the sale of medical certificates, testified in the suit to revoke the charter of the St. Louis College of Physicians and Surgeons this afternoon that he received a share of the tuition fees from students he brought to the institution under a written agreement with Dr. Waldo Briggs, dean of the school.

Dr. Adcox, testifying for the State over the objection of counsel for Dr. Briggs, indicated by his opening testimony that he was prepared to tell all he knows of the manner in which the College of Physicians and Surgeons was operated. He said that he received a written appointment as a solicitor for students for the institution from Dr. Briggs, under which he received 50 per cent of the tuition fees paid by Junior and Senior students whom he brought to the institution, and 50 per cent less laboratory fees from freshmen and sophomore students.

Solicited Prospects.

Dr. Adcox said he solicited "likely prospects" and, upon inducing them to enroll at the College of Physicians and Surgeons, vollected the tuition fees in advance. The money was then turned over to Dr. Briggs by him, Dr. Adcox said, and half the sum was then returned to him. Dr. Adcox said the operating agreement which he received from Dr. Briggs was seized in a raid on his home by Circuit Attorney Sidener and detectives Oct. 17, 1923.

Hearing of the suit, brought by Attorney-General Otto on allegations that the College of Physicians and Surgeons was not properly conducted for the education of medical students, was resumed today with Dr. Emmett P. North, former president of the State Board of Health, as the first witness.

The hearing is before E. J. Bean, special commissioner, in the latter's office in the Boatmen's Bank Building.

Dr. North, who began his testimony yesterday, testified committees of the State Board of Health, of some of which he was a member, made inspections of the school and found that records were loosely kept, mutilated or missing and that the departments were not so fully equipped as schools that keep pace with the advancement of medicine and surgery.

Testimony of Shortening, of Course.

Other former members of the State Board of Health, Drs. James R. McVay of Kansas City, T. H. Wilcoxen of Bowling Green, T. A. Son of Bonne Terre and Rudolph Vitt, Coroner of St. Louis, gave testimony similar to that of Dr. North at yesterday's session.

The testimony of these doctors as a whole showed that students might get through the school in two years, although the catalogue held out a four-year course as being required, and that an inspection of the methods and equipment employed indicated a lack of efficiency and thoroughness in the conduct of the school.

Dr. Waldo Briggs Present.

Dr. Waldo Briggs, 69 years old, dean of the institution, whose personal license to practice medicine in Missouri was revoked following a survey of medican conditions in Missouri for his conection with the school, attende yesterday's session.

He did not appear worried by the charges against his school, and told reporters the school had been reorganized. He said his son, Dr. G. C. Briggs, was acting as dean and that the schoo lopened this year with a fair enrollment of students. It is located at Jefferson avenue and Gamble street.

Ferguson-M'Kinney Books Criminally Falsified

last three years. It resulted in the credit of both companies being maintained at a high figure, though the Ferguson-McKinney company now is known to have been bankrupt for a long period and the Carleton Dry Goods Co.'s business was dwindling until its liquidation, now in progress, is expected to net the holders of $4,000,000 of its stock no more than 50 cents on the dollar.

These sums in bank for the Ferguson-McKinney company seemed to support its false entries of profit in its statement, and the result was that New York and St. Louis banks set the credit of the company so high that at the time of its failure it had obtained $1,900,000 on its notes from banks, $900,000 on other commercial paper and had bills payable of $500,000—a total of $3,300,000. Had this deception not been practiced upon them it is probable that the banks would have refused any credit.

Debts About $4,000,000.

After a meeting of creditors today, it was said that the obligations of the company might mount to $4,000,000, and that the probable recovery of creditors was dwindling until it might be no more than 25 cents on the dollar. It had been hoped that the creditors would get as much as 50 cents. Holders of the $2,500,000 stock of the company will receive nothing. The $1,000,000 of preferred stock is widely held. The $1.500,000 of common is held by the Carleton-Ferguson Co.

Falsification of credits is punishable under State law by a penitentiary sentence up to five years or a fine up to $1000 or both; or a jail sentence up to one year or a fine of $1000 or both.

Circuit Attorney Ready to Act.

Circuit Attorney Sidener said today that newspaper accounts indicated clearly unlawful acts. He said that if the receiver or any of the banks or any of the stockholders should make complaint to him, he would undertake a searching investigation of the company.

The creditors' committee, meeting this morning at the offices of the Ferguson-McKinney company, had under discussion the question of submitting the facts to the Circuit Attorney.

The first inkling the banks had that their loans were in jeopardy and that the Ferguson-McKinney company was bankrupt came last Friday afternoon. At that time, Murray Carleton, 73 years old, president of the Carleton Dry Goods Co. and of the Carleton-Ferguson company, and treasurer of the Ferguson-McKinney company, who is critically ill at St. Luke's Hospital following an operation for a bladder ailment, sent for his attorney, Morton Jourdan, and instructed him to summon bankers and tell them that the company was in financial distress.

Carleton dominated both companies and it was he who arranged for loans at banks in behalf of both companies over a period of years.

Receiver Named for Firm.

The bankers took charge Saturday morning, as told exclusively in the Post-Dispatch that day, and almost immediately discovered the lack of assets. This was followed yesterday by an involuntary petition in bankruptcy and the appointment of Eugene H. Angert, an attorney, as receiver under instruction from Federal Judge Faris to close the company and wind up its affairs at once.

President Ferguson of the company, declined to comment for publication upon the revelations of the bankers. Other officers and directors expressed astonishment and dismay and total ignorance of the deplorable condition of the company's finances.

Ferguson said today that the dominance of Carleton over the Ferguson-McKinney Co. was established through the Carleton-Ferguson, which owns all the common stock of the Carleton-Ferguson Co. Ferguson said he himself owned none of this holding campany stock.

Receiver Angert said today that the time intervening since his appointment was so short that he could make no accurate statement concerning the company's affairs.

It has been disclosed also that Forrest Ferguson was a personal debtor to his company in some undetermined sum in excess of $100,000. He has turned over to the company assets which, he told the bankers, represented his "last dollar." These include a show farm of 1300 acres at Dyersburg, Tenn., which has been in the Ferguson family for generations without a change in title being recorded on the register's books of that county. A news dispatch from Dyersburg states:

"Forrest Ferguson, some years ago, decided to make the Ferguson farm an outstanding example of modern farming. He brought specialists here. A battery of incubators was installed and last year 160,000 day-old barred rock chicks were hatched and sent throughout the country. Blooded Holstein cattle and Duroc jersey hogs were purchased and sent to some of the fairs of the country where they captured first awards."

Wynne Ferguson of New York, a director of the company, is a nationally-known authority on bridge and the author of several works on that game.

One of the largest holders of the company's paper among the St. Louis banks is the Boatmen's Bank, of which Murray Carleton is vice-president and a director. Other St. Louis banks holding notes of the company are First National, American Trust Co., State National Bank, National City Bank, Liberty-Central Trust Co. and McCluney & Co.

The Creditors' Committee.

The creditors' committee, which instituted the receivership is composed of E. B. Pryor, president of the State National Bank; Richard S. Hawes, vice president of the First National Bank; James McCluney of McCluney & Co., and George R. Baker of the Catham & Phoenix National Bank of New York.

It is understood that of the $1,900,000 in notes, $1,100,000 are held by St. Louis banks and the remainder in New York.

Recent Conviction Here for Making False Financial Statement.

There has been only one prosecution in St. Louis under the Missouri statute prohibiting the making of false statements in obtaining credit. A week ago William Hoffman, formerly an Easton avenue shoe dealer, was prosecuted in Judge Mix's court, and was convicted of having obtained a credit of $5000 from the Hamilton-Brown Shoe Co., through a false financial statement. He was sentenced to imprisonment for six months and to pay a fine of $1000.

The only previous case in Missouri was a conviction in Kansas City, which was upheld on appeal to the Supreme Court.

Assistant Circuit Attorney Bowcock today said that in a prosecution of this character it would be permissible to introduce evidence of the making of false income tax returns to show a false profit.

Federal officials said there was no law prohibiting the payment of taxes which were not owed, but that the making of false financial statements to obtain credit, if the statements were sent through the mail, would come under the Federal law, prohibiting the use of the mails in the furtherance of schemes to defraud, the penalty for which is imprisonment in the penitentiary not to exceed five years, or a fine of not to exceed $1000, or both.

STATE LAW PROHIBITING USE OF FALSE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS TO GET CREDIT

THE Missouri law, prohibiting the making or use of false statements to obtain property or credit, or for the extension of credit or discount, which bankers point out is applicable to the Ferguson-McKinney case, follows:

Sec. 3367. Prohibiting the making or use of false statements to obtain property or credit, or for the extension of credit or discount.—No person shall knowingly make or cause to be made, either directly or indirectly, or through any agency whatsoever, any false statement in writing, with intent that it shall be relied upon, respecting the financial condition, or means or ability to pay, of himself, or any other person, firm or corporation in whom he is interested, or for whom he is acting, for the purpose of procuring in any form whatsoever, either the delivery of personal property, the payment of cash, the making of a loan or credit, the extension of credit, the discount of an account receivable, or the making, acceptance, discount, sale or indorsement of a bill of exchange, or promissory note, for the benefit of either himself or of such person, firm or corporation; nor shall any person knowing that a false statement in writing has been made, respecting the financial condition or means or ability to pay, of himself, or such person, firm or corporation in which he is interested, or for whom he is acting, procure, upon the faith thereof, for the benefit either of himself, or of such person, firm or corporation, either or any of the things of benefit mentioned hereinabove; nor shall any person knowing that a statement in writing has been made, respecting the financial condition or means or ability to pay of himself or such person, firm or corporation, in which he is interested, or for whom he is acting, represent on a later day that such statement theretofore, if then again made on said day would then be true, when in fact, said statement, if then made would be false, and procure upon the faith thereof, for the benefit either of himself, or of such person, firm or corporation, either or any of the things of benefit mentioned above.

Sec. 3368. Penalty. — Any person, firm or corporation who shall violate any of the provisions of the next preceding section shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by imprisonment in the penitentiary, not exceeding five years, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding 12 months, or by a fine not exceeding $1000 or by both such fine and imprisonment.

these territories; fourth, the reduction of overhead cost and waste motion, and fifth, the ability to establish standards for the betterment of pictures generally.

"While we insist," counsel states, "that Famous Players has the absolute right to devote all the time of its theaters solely to the showing of its own pictures, the great majority of the time of theaters in which it has an interest has been taken up in the exhibition of the product of its competitors. This is because many of its theaters, due to a policy of frequent change of program, use many more pictures than the company manufactures."

Comparative Theater Ownership.

In connection with a recital of Famous Players' determination to fight for its own preservation against what is termed the inroads of First National, tables are given on theater ownership. One shows First National had 639 theaters on Sept. 1, 1924; Famous Players, 159; Metro-Goldwyn 114, Fox 30 and Universal 12. Only 165 of First National's were first run houses in key cities, while Famous Players had 99 of these, more than 62 per cent of its total. It is stated that Famous Players has had at least 12 large producing and distributing companies in active competition with it.

There are about 100 smaller producers, it is claimed, who distribute through State's right organizations. In August, 1924, there were 120 producing organizations in Hollywood, it is said. It is stated Famous produces only about one-eighth of the total feature pictures and never has produced more than one-fifth of the total.

It is set forth that there are 1162 first run theaters in 221 key cities of more than 25,000 population, and that over a period of three years the total number of Famous Players' first runs was 22,497, or approximately 17.96 per cent of a total of 125,256.

Another table showing the number of feature pictures contributed in 1923, the last year given, credits state righters with 108; Universal, 63; Famous Players, 61; Metro and Goldwyn, which had not then combined, 60; Fox, 55, and First National 46.

Block Booking.

As to block booking, it is said there is no evidence that when an exhibitor attempted to purchase less than a lot of pictures the prices of selected pictures were raised from 25 to 75 per cent. It is admitted there is evidence that when only one or two pictures were selected from 20 or 30 the prices asked for the chosen few were increased, but not more than an average of 25 per cent.

Famous Players never controlled 75 per cent of the stars, as charged, and never had more than one-third of the stars "of any class, character, sex or description."

Testimony was cited that at no time did Famous Players have more than 37.1 per cent of the outstanding stars, nor more than 38.5 per cent of the outstanding directors, and never more than 15.4 per cent of the secondary stars.

ELECTRIC PUMP FIGURES IN JACK DANIEL WHISKY THEFT CHARGES

TRIALS TO BE HELD AT INDIANAPOLIS

Six Witnesses, Including George Remus, Are Expected to Appear for the Government.

An electric pump figures in the conspiracy indictments returned in Indianapolis against 22 St. Louisans and 17 others, as the means by which the "milking" of 893 barrels of whisky, in the Jack Daniel warehouse here, was accomplished in the summer of 1923.

The transporting of the electric pump from Cincinnati, through Indianapolis, to St. Louis, is one of the seven "overt acts" which are cited in the indictments, to establish the charge of conspiracy against the list of 39 defendants, including Arnold J. Hellmich, suspended yesterday from the office of United States Collector of Internal Revenue here State Senator Michael Kinney, former Congressman Fred Essen and former Circuit Clerk Nat Goldstein.

Charge in Indictment.

The indictment charges that on July 1, 1923, one of the indicted men, John Marcus, in furtherance of the plot, transported the pump from Cincinnati to St. Louis. It is not stated that the pump was used in siphoning the whisky from the arrels in the bonded warehouse t 3960 Duncan avenue, but it is understood that the Government will charge the use of this method of unlawfully removing the liquor without a permit. The whisky passed through a rubber hose leading to a small building 150 feet from the warehouse, and it was there placed in new containers and removed for sale at prices which yielded a profit of more than $1,500,000.

To prove a conspiracy, it is necessary to establish an overt act as being in furtherance of the plot. The seven overt acts cited in the whisky conspiracy indictments are:

First: That William Lucking and George R. Landon obtained $50,000 in Cincinnati and delivered it o Leonard Garver Jr., to be rought to St. Louis and used for the purchase of the whisky in the Jack Daniel warehouse in furtherance of the alleged conspiracy.

Third: That on Aug. 25, 1923, Harry Boyd transported 110 gallons of the Jack Daniel whisky, through Indianapolis from St. Louis to Cincinnati.

Fourth: That in Oct. 1, 1923, Boyd transported 115 gallons of the whisky from St. Louis to Cinnnati.

Other Transportation Charges.

Fifth: That on Dec. 15, 1923 Ben Doncaster and John Marcus transported 200 gallons of the liquor through Marion County, in which Indianapolis was situated. They were arrested there.

Sixth: That on Aug. 15, 1923, Harry S. Stratton and George Klug, transported 258 gallons of the liquor to Cincinnati.

Seventh: That on Sept. 21, 1923, Bernard Brink and George Lenhart transported 100 gallons of whisky into Shelby County, Indiana.

The trials of the accused persons, will take place in Indianapolis. Juries for the Federal Court in Indianapolis are drawn in considerable part from rural sections where strong dry sentiment prevails, as ntrasted with St. Louis and some of the counties adjacent to this city. It is anticipated that the defendants will make every effort to keep their cases from going to a jury.

Probable Witnesses.

Six witnesses, including George Remus, one-time wealthy Cincinnati bootlegger, are expected to appear for the Government. The Indianapolis indictments name Remus and the five others are co-conspirators, but they were not named as defendants, indicating a purpose to e them as witnesses. Those charged with having participated with Remus in the conspiracy are Harry Boyd, his chauffeur; George Klug, George Lenhart, Elmer Case and Frank J. Forrester. All appeared as witnesses last week before the Federal grand jury in Indianapolis.

Seven of the St. Louis defendants, including the more prominent ones, gave bond yesterday. The first to furnish bond today were Richard P. Fitzgibbon, a salesman, and John P. Connor, associate of Toney Foley, who also a defendant, in St. Louis County gambling establishments. Both denied knowledge of the alleged conspiracy.

Tony Foley appeared soon after Connor. He gave his address as rice and Ladue roads, St. Louis County, and his $2500 bond was signed by Clarence L. Owen of 106 North Fourteenth street.

SUIT OVER FIREMEN'S PAY RAISE ARGUED

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 3.—Refusal of the St. Louis Board of Estimate and Apportionment to recognize validity of an initiativ ordinance by which St. Louis vo ers gave city firemen a pay increase of $25 a month, was attack ed as "official lawlessness" by roy S. Phillips, attorney for the firemen, in their suit to get the increase, before the Supreme Cour en banc today.

The board had refused to abid by the ordinance on the groun that it appropriated money, with out the board's consent, as require by Charter, Phillips asserting tha the effect of this argument vir tually would be to destroy the pow er of the initiative, declared th board's approval was required on on bills originating in the Bo of Aldermen.

"The platform on which the officials (the Mayor, Comptroll and President of the Board of Al dermen, comprising the Boar of Estimate) were elected," sa Phillips, "promised enforcement laws, and one of their first offici acts was to cast aside a legally en acted ordinance passed by the peo ple. They thereby announced, 'W are your masters; you cannot ena your laws without our permis sion.'"

Phillips declared further that th firemen's initiative ordinance wa not an appropriation bill, but mere ly fixed the amount of salary to b paid designated employes.

City Counselor Senti and Conwa Elder, for the city, pointed to Charter provision vesting legis tive powers in the Board of Alde men, and asserted that this ha taken from the people all their di rect legislative power, giving th Aldermen the exclusive legislati power. There remains nothin which the people can lawfully d but propose ordinances for adop tion by the Aldermen, they con tended. To have included the fire men's increase in the municip budget would have required a ta levy for revenue exceeding th constitutional limit, they added.

The suit was brought in name of an officer of the U formed Firemen's Association. T increase would make the pay privates in the department $180 month.

Six Witnesses, Including George Remus, Are Expected to Appear for the Government.

An electric pump figures in the conspiracy indictments returned in Indianapolis against 22 St. Louisans and 17 others, as the means by which the "milking' of 893 barrels of whisky, in the Jack Daniel warehouse here, was accomplished in the summer of 1923.

The transporting of the electric pump from Cincinnati, through Indianapolis, to St. Louis, is one of the seven "overt acts" which are cited in the indictments, to establish the charge of conspiracy against the list of 39 defendants, including Arnold J. Hellmich, suspended yesterday from the office of United States Collector of Internal Revenue here State Senator Michael Kinney, former Congressman Fred Essen and former Circuit Clerk Nat Goldstein.

Charge in Indictment.

The indictment charges that on July 1, 1923, one of the indicted men, John Marcus, in furtherance of the plot, transported the pump from Cincinnati to St. Louis. It is not stated that the pump was used in siphoning the whisky from the barrels in the bonded warehouse at 3960 Duncan avenue, but it is understood that the Government will charge the use of this method of unlawfully removing the liquor without a permit. The whisky passed through a rubber hose leading to a small building 150 feet from the warehouse, and it was there placed in new containers and removed for sale at prices which yielded a profit of more than $1,500,000.

To prove a conspiracy, it is necessary to establish an overt act as being in furtherance of the plot. The seven overt acts cited in the whisky conspiracy indictments are:

First: That William Lucking and George R. Landon obtained $50,000 in Cincinnati and delivered it to Leonard Garver Jr., to be brought to St. Louis and used for the purchase of the whisky in the Jack Daniel warehouse in furtherance of the alleged conspiracy.

Third: That on Aug. 25, 1923, Harry Boyd transported 110 gallons of the Jack Daniel whisky, through Indianapolis from St. Louis to Cincinnati.

Fourth: That in Oct. 1, 1923, Boyd transported 115 gallons of the whisky from St. Louis to Cincinnati.

Other Transportation Charges.

Fifth: That on Dec. 15, 1923 Ben Doncaster and John Marcus transported 200 gallons of the liquor through Marion County, in which Indianapolis was situated. They were arrested there.

Sixth: That on Aug. 15, 1923, Harry S. Stratton and George Klug, transported 258 gallons of the liquor to Cincinnati.

Seventh: That on Sept. 21, 1923, Bernard Brink and George Lenhart transported 100 gallons of whisky into Shelby County, Indiana.

The trials of the accused persons will take place in Indianapolis. Juries for the Federal Court in Indianapolis are drawn in considerable part from rural sections where strong dry sentiment prevails, as contrasted with St. Louis and some of the counties adjacent to this city. It is anticipated that the defendants will make every effort to keep their cases from going to a jury.

Probable Witnesses.

Six witnesses, including George Remus, one-time wealthy Cincinnati bootlegger, are expected to appear for the Government. The Indianapolis indictments name Remus and the five others are co-conspirators, but they were not named as defendants, indicating a purpose to use them as witnesses. Those charged with having participated with Remus in the conspiracy are Harry Boyd, his chauffeur; George Klug, George Lenhart, Elmer Case and Frank J. Forrester. All appeared as witnesses last week before the Federal grand jury in Indianapolis.

Seven of the St. Louis defendants, including the more prominent ones, gave bond yesterday. The first to furnish bond today were Richard P. Fitzgibbon, a salesman, and John P. Connor, an associate of Toney Foley, who is also a defendant, in St. Louis County gambling establishments. Both denied knowledge of the alleged conspiracy.

Tony Foley appeared soon after Connor. He gave his address as Price and Ladue roads, St. Louis County, and his $2500 bond was signed by Clarence L. Owen of 106 North Fourteenth street.

Michael J. Whalen of 4872 St. Louis avenue, Democratic City Committeeman from the Twenty-second Ward, and Daniel O'Neil of the Belcher Hotel, former Deputy Constable, whose bonds were fixed at $10,000 each, appeared with their lawyer, William Baer, and their bonds were made returnable Nov. 12 before United States Commissioner Atkins here. This was taken as indicating that their lawyer will attack the jurisdiction of the Indianapolis Federal Court in their cases.

Some Waive Hearings.

The other defendants giving bond thus far have waived preliminary hearing, and their bonds have been made returnable in the Federal Court in Indianapolis at 10 a. m. Saturday. Whalen and O'Neil, however, chose to exercise their right under the law and have a preliminary hearing in this jurisdiction.

Isidore and Sidney Martin, the next two to give bond, waived the preliminary hearing, and will be arraigned in Indianapolis.

United States Marshal Hukriede today asked Chief of Detectives Kaiser to aid in arresting the defendants living in St. Louis who do not appear voluntarily.

Chief Kaiser said that one of the defendants, whose name appeared in the indictment only as Houlihan, was known to him as J. J. Houlihan. Among the others whom Kaiser's men will seek are Harry (Fat) Levin, who was a Deputy Constable under the late Constable William Egan, and John Marcus, a former convict.

An Associated Press dispatch from Cincinnati tells of the arrest of four accused persons there. They are John and Ada Gehrum, former owners of "Death Valley" farm, near Cincinnati, said to have been the headquarters of the bootlegging band; Bernard Brink, a Cincinnati broker, and Edward Meininger, who figured as one of the purchasers of the liquor from Lem Motlow, chief owner of the stock in the St. Louis warehouse. Mrs. Imogene Remus, who is suing the Government's chief witness for divorce, and who was indicted by the Indianapolis grand jury, has not been apprehended.

It is expected that Motlow will be arrested at his home in Tennessee. He is under a previous indictment in the St. Louis Federal Court, in the same case. He was acquitted in the Circuit Court here, a year ago, of the murder of a Pullman conductor whom he shot in the course of an argument with a negro porter.

Suspension of Collector Hellmich from his official position by an order issued at the Treasury Department, was announced in Washington soon after the fact of his indictment became known there yesterday. Officials of the department said it had been the rule to suspend officials who are indicted or otherwise officially charged with dereliction in duty. Such a suspension remains in effect until the charges are disposed of.

Frank M. Kleiber, Chief Deputy Collector, has been placed in charge of the St. Louis office.

Hellmich, before being notified of his suspension, sent a telegram to President Coolidge, tendering his resignation, effective at the President's pleasure. He said he was entirely innocent, but did not wish to embarrass the administration. He was an appointee of President Harding. It was said today at the White House that the President would consult the Treasury Department before acting on the resignation.

Several Give Bond.

Collector Hellmich was the first of the defendants to furnish bond, his $5000 bond being signed before Commissioner Atkins at 12:30 p. m. yesterday. His former deputy, William Kinney, was the next to appear, and his $2500 bond was signed by David D. Israel, Democratic politician and hotel owner, and Mrs. Israel.

Kinney declined to make a statement, saying that he had told what he had to say to officers of the Special Intelligence Unit in 1923 and could not divulge the purport of his remarks.

Kinney was followed by Morris Multin, who gave $10,000 bond but declined to make statement.

The fourth defendant to come in was Nat Goldstein. He furnished $5000 bond signed by David Sommers, capitalist, and William Huebele, Seventh Ward Republican Committeeman and former City Marshal.

Goldstein, earlier in the day, issued a statement, in which he said that his only connection with the case was that he acted as an intermediary in the preparing of a bond, indemnifying Lem Motlow against loss of his property if the purchasers, by unlawful acts, rendered it liable to seizure by the Government. He said he received a commission on the bond, which was placed with the Southern Surety Co. He said he knew Remus only casually.

Others Appear.

Robert E. Walker, former Deputy Sheriff, surrendered at 3 p. m. "I don't know any more about the case than you do," he said to a reporter.

Fred Essen appeared at the Federal Building at 4 o'clock with his attorney, and his bondsman, Jacob Babler, former Republican National Committeeman. He brought a sheaf of typewritten statements which he distributed to reporters when asked for a statement. They read:

"I have friends and I have enemies and I have a lawyer. My friends will not believe any charges made against me and my enemies will continue to think ill of me and my lawyer has advised me to say nothing. I had no connection whatsoever with this matter."

Essen is a member of the Board of Free Holders preparing an annexation measure.

WOMAN DRIVES AWAY AFTER RUNNING DOWN BOY, 8

Stopped Car, Brother of Victim Says, but Left Scene, Refusing to Give Name.

A woman, whose Essex coach struck and seriously injured Jake Kopolow, 8 years old, son of Louis Kopolow of 5229 Wells avenue, at 6:30 p. m. yesterday on Union boulevard between Wells and Easton avenue, halted, but refused to give her name and drove on.

The child's 10-year-old brother, Meyer Kopolow, told police that the woman appeared to be 30 or 35 years old, about 5 feet 7 inches tall, and weighing 135 pounds. Kopolow was taken to the Children's Hospital, with a fracture of the right leg, internal injuries and scalp cuts.

INNOCENT OF FLEEING SCENE

Karl Thieret Didn't Know of Accident; Jury Frees Him.

Karl Thieret, 23 years old, 2301A South Jefferson avenue, was acquitted by a jury in Circuit Judge Mix's court yesterday on a charge of feloniously leaving the scene of an accident.

The machine Thieret was driving struck Charles F. Stienhaus, 49 years old, 1728A California avenue, in front of 1620 Jefferson avenue April 18. Thieret declared he did not know he had struck Stienhaus.

HEAD OF HOSPITAL FOR NEGROES OUSTED

Dr. Roscoe Haskell Ascribes Replacement by Dr. O. F. Perdue to Political Motives.

Political motives were ascribed by Dr. Roscoe Haskell, superintendent of the city hospital for negroes since it was founded in 1918, to the request for his resignation, which becomes effective today.

Dr. Haskell, a negro, said he had voted for Mayor Miller in the mayoralty election and for the Republican in nomination for Governor, but had voted for Louis P. Aloe for Mayor in the Republican primary. When he was asked if he considered that his removal was an attempt to make room for a political favorite, he said, "They didn't just try—they did it."

"I understand that Hawkins, custodian of the city hall, is also custodian of city jobs for colored people," he added.

Successor Dr. O. F. Perdue.

His successor, whose appointment was announced yesterday by Acting Hospital Commissioner Rohlfing, is Dr. Omar F. Perdue, a negro, of 2801 Franklin avenue. The appointment is made pending an Efficiency Board examination. Salary is $200 a month for the first year and $225 a month thereafter.

"About Oct. 20," Dr. Haskell related, "Dr. Rohlfing sent me a phone message to come to his office. When I got there he told me he had been requested by the administration to ask me to send in my resignation. They had 'just decided to make a change—not that there was anything wrong with my work out here.'

"He went on to suggest that I say in my resignation that I was tiring of hospital duties and desired to go back to private practice—either that, or that I was going to leave the city. I didn't agree to that, since, as I told him, I was not resigning because I wanted to.

Change Opposed by Jordan.

"I went out to see Hospital Commissioner Jordan, who was sick then. As soon as he saw me he said he had heard some bad news about me. I told him I knew it, and he said it was 'a dirty shame.' He remarked, 'Some weeks ago Director Salisbury of Public Welfare told me the administration had decided to make a change out there, and I told him nothing doing, I wouldn't stand for it.' I believe that they took advantage of Dr. Jordan's illness to remove me, and that if Dr. Jordan were alive today he'd stand by me."

Dr. Haskell said he knew Dr. Perdue slightly. He obtained his degree from Meharry Medical School, Nashville, where Dr. Perdue was graduated. Dr. Haskell received medical training also in Howard University, Washington, D. C., served a 14 months' interneship in Kansas City and practiced here for seven years before his appointment. He was appointed 11 months before the hospital was opened, and in the intervening organization period was coached in hospital administration by the late Supt. Rolla Henry of the City Hospital.

Suffers Broken Back in Fall.

James Garvey, 66 years old, of 151 Sidney street suffered a fractured spine late last night when he fell 15 feet over the rail of a porch at the home of George Adolph, 3507 South Second street where he had been visiting. He was about to leave the home when he lost his balance and fell over the rail, police reported. He was taken to City Hospital in a critical condition.

OFFICER GOT HIS MAN AT COST OF OWN LIFE

Muskegon, Mich., in Mourning for Brave Detective Slain by "Dutch" Anderson.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

MUSKEGON, Mich., Nov. 3.—Charles Hammond of the Muskegon police department, noted for his courage and coolness in time of danger, upheld his reputation when, though mortally wounded, he wrested from "Dutch" Anderson that criminal's revolver and shot him down.

Hammond knew no such word as fear, and when Anderson jerked away from him and started firing, the detective's one thought was to get his man. Without taking time to draw his own revolver, covered with his buttoned overcoat, Hammond ran into the alley after Anderson, and even though he received a fatal bullet wound, he saw to it before he fell that Anderson was in like condition.

Dying, Hammond remained cool. He was assisted into the police station and remarked to Chief Hanson as he handed over Anderson's revolver, "He got me, Pete."

At the hospital Hammond talked calmly with William Feeney, his partner for eight years, and his own son, Nathan Hammond, 20 years old, and related how the shooting took place. "I got him, anyway," Hammond told Feeney. "I never had a chance myself. He started firing before I knew it."

Member of Force for 12 Years.

For 12 years Hammond had been a member of the Muskegon department and there was never too tight a place for him. Several times previously Hammond had faced revolvers and failed to turn back, but always captured his man.

"I do not believe there was another police officer in the world as fearless as Hammond," said Chief Hansen. "No one connected with the department ever knew of Hammond flinching in the face of danger."

"My one regret today is that Charlie did not know the identity of the man he killed," said Feeney, his partner, "Charlie would have been happy had he known."

In the two-story house being purchased on a contract, Mrs. Hammond, the widow, and her four children sat today. They have given little attention to the fact that the man Hammond killed was Anderson. Their thought is of the death of the husband and father.

Hammond was a home-loving man and it was there he spent practically all his time off duty. He was the sort of man that helped his wife with the housework and saw to it that things were made a little bit easier for those dear to him.

"It was Charlie all over," remarked Nathan Hammond, aged father, himself a police officer for many years. "He was best when the going was roughest no matter what the occasion. As a boy Charlie was always taking the part of one of his chums in some trouble."

Before Hammond entered the police department he was a telephone lineman. There was a strike here and Hammond took an active part. The manufacturers opposed Hammond's appointment to the department but his bravery and reputation as an officer soon won him their good favor.

Town Goes Into Mourning.

Mayor Estes issued a proclamation commending the officer for his bravery and declaring a period of mourning. Wires came from many police chiefs praising Hammond. Gov. Groesbeck of Michigan took official notice. A movement was started to raise a fund for the officer's family. The city has declared a holiday Wednesday afternoon during the time of the funeral.

A reward had been offered for Anderson's capture dead or alive, in connection with the slaying Aug. 14 of Ben Hance and his wife at Muncie, Ind. Hance was a witness against Gerald Chapman in Chapman's trial for the murder of a New Britain, Conn., policeman, in which Chapman was found guilty and sentenced to death. After Chapman's trial Anderson, who had escaped from Atlanta penitentiary, as had Chapman, where they were serving sentences for a New York mail robbery, spent much time near Muncie and Hance was aware of his movements.

Police were called frequently during the night by startled persons whose imaginations had been keyed high by the shooting of Anderson. At the morgue, where Anderson's body was taken and identified yesterday, hundreds of persons gathered. Police reserves finally were called and the morgue closed.

4000 View Officer's Body.

At the undertaking rooms where the detective's body lies more than 4000 passed by his bier yesterday. The body lay in state today.

Neither local police nor secret service men here believe Muskegon has anything to fear from any accomplices of Anderson. Mrs. Alex A. Campbell told police she was on Western avenue when Anderson made his break for freedom and that Anderson grabbed her and placed her between himself and the detective as the latter started to fire.

Any doubt that the slain man was Anderson was removed last night when the body was identified by George Page, a secret service operative of Toledo, O., who knew Anderson.

Worthington Is Denied Claim to Minor Children

Court Recognizes Daughter Grace, 23, as Guardian of Three Girls in Permanent Injunction Against Father.

The eight Worthington children, for a while at least, may live in peace with the eldest, Miss Grace Worthington, 23-year-old school teacher, as undisturbed head of the family.

Circuit Judge McElhinney yesterday at Clayton issued a permanent injunction forbidding the father, James A. Worthington, a wealthy insurance man, from interfering with the family affairs so long as the Probate Court recognizes Miss Worthington's guardianship of the three younger girls, Ruth, 9 years old, and Mary and Alice, 7-year-old twins.

The ruling replaces a temporary injunction issued last winter and which was followed by some 30 days of court hearings in which the father sought to break the guardianship. Miss Worthington asserted he was unkind and cruel. The eight children, except one who is married, now live at Forest Park College with their aunt, Mrs. Anna Sneed Cairns, who was head of the school until it closed.

Custody of the minor children was given to the eldest sister after their mother's death in 1920. Worthington kidnaped the three three youngest girls two years ago, but they were recovered by Miss Grace Worthington in Canada.

At the hearing last winter the elder children and the 84-year-old aunt took the stand to denounce Worthington's treatment of his family while they lived on a farm in St. Louis County. After his wife's death, Worthington married twice. He divorced his second wife and now is said to be living in New Orleans with his third.

COURT BARS LAWYER FOR REST OF MONTH

Beck Rebukes Cecil Bloch Who Told Client Not to Bother to Appear.

Because he accepted a $10 fee and told his client "not to bother about coming into court," Cecil Bloch, an attorney in the Wainwright Building, was rebuked by Police Judge Beck today and forbidden to practice in that court for the rest of November.

The case was that of Joseph Harris, negro, of 3049 Marnice place, charged with peace disturbance by his sister-in-law, Mrs. Eva Harris. He was fined $60 on Oct. 23 when he failed to appear to defend himself. Later he appealed personally to Judge Beck and described his arrangement with Bloch.

Bloch was summoned to court today and required to testify under oath. He admitted telling Harris to stay away and explained that he "had been given to understand that the sister-in-law would not prosecute." On Oct. 22 the Harrises fought again and she changed her mind, he said.

"I am going to show you that lawyers cannot take the court's privileges into their own hands," Judge Beck said. "You are forbidden to practice in this courtroom during November and December."

Later he was persuaded to mitigate the punishment by a month. Harris was allowed two weeks to prepare for a trial and was given a list of approved attorneys to select from.

SEARCH FOR MRS. D. M. PARKS

Her Daughter Was Left an Estate by Fiance in New Mexico.

A letter requesting police to search for Mrs. D. M. Parks, a widow, who is said to be living here, that the whereabouts of her 20-year-old daughter may be ascertained, was received today by Chief of Police Gerk from Ray Beeman, editor of a newspaper in Elida, N. M.

In his letter Beeman said he is holding a sum of money and some real estate which was left Miss Parks by her fiance, R. L. Varner, who died in Elida three months ago, after willing his property to Miss Parks and making Beeman executor of his estate, the value of which Beeman did not estimate. Beeman said he believed Mrs. Parks to be employed in a department store here.

"I move the Court for a finding of not guilty."

Col. Sherman Moreland, the trial Judge-Advocate, briefly answered Reid, opposing the motion to strike out.

"It is my opinion," he said, "that these statements and attacks upon these two indispensable agencies of the Government constitute the offense s as recited. The motion therefore, should be denied."

NEW WORKING PLAN FOR THREE THEATERS

Missouri, Grand Central and Ambassador in Joint Management Arrangement.

A working arrangement affecting the ownership and management of the Missouri, New Grand Central and Ambassador theaters in St. Louis was announced in New York today by the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation.

The Missouri Theater, which has been operated by Famous Players-Lasky in competition with its New Grand Central, a Skouras Bros. neighbor on Grand boulevard, the enterprise, hereafter also will be managed by the Skouras Bros. The co-ordinated management will be for the joint benefit of Skouras Bros., Famous Players-Laska and Balaban & Katz, which is allied with Famous Players-Lasky, according to the statement from New York.

When the new Ambassador Theater downtown is completed, it will replace the New Grand Central under joint management.

Financial considerations involved in the deal were not made public. The Skouras brothers are in New York.

The change in the management of the Missouri Theater follows a decision of Famous-Players-Lasky to separate its theater interests from its production and distribution departments. To this end, a new corporation has been organized to bring under one management 200 theaters owned or otherwise controlled by Famous-Players-Lasky, and 500 others controlled by the Balaban & Katz interests in Chicago.

The arrangement announced today fits in with one announced Oct. 20 by William Goldman. Under that arrangement, Goldman's Kings Theater and Skydome will be united in a new corporationwith the New Grand Central, West End Lyric Theater and Lyric Skydome, the latter three being owned by Skouras Brothers. This arrangement becomes effective 30 days after the Ambassador Theater, now under construction at Seventh and Locust streets, is opened.

THIRTY-FOUR VIOLATORS OF TRAFFIC REGULATIONS FINED

Police Judge Beck Intimates He Will Impose Heavier Fines as Warning to First Offenders.

Thirty-four violators of city traffic regulations pleaded guilty before Police Judge Beck today and were fined from $5 to $25, plus costs.

"Eighty per cent of the traffic violators coming into this court are under 25 years old and are first offenders," the Judge remarked. "I have been imposing rather heavy fines, but it appears that I will have to deal more harshly with them in future to warn others."

Exceed All Expectations

Monday the New Orthophonic Victrola was heard for the first time by the public and it is safe to say that those who came to see and hear, remained to marvel. The promise of the Victor Company to "give the most important contribution to music since the invention, 30 years ago, of the Victor Talking Machine," has indeed been eminently fulfilled.

Special demonstrations of the New Victrolas will be given all week; hear and see them in our Victrola Department. The new models of the Orthophonic Victrola are priced at $85 and upwards.

RIVER FRONT SCHEME OUTLINED BY BROOKS

Director of Streets and Sewers Visualizes Improvement Plan on Large Scale.

A vision of an improved river front for St. Louis, which would have the extra merit of furnishing parking space to relieve the traffic problem, was described by Director of Streets and Sewers Brooks at a Civitan Club luncheon at the City Club today. He said, in part:

"Let us visualize St. Louis with a subway system. Let us look a few years ahead and see before our eyes a reconstructed river front, with commercial warehouses along the river on the ground level. On the next level, a loop parallel to the river, the street cars emerging from the ground approximately at Second street, which tracks they would make their loop. These street cars would bring their trailers down in the morning loaded and, instead of taking them back unloaded, an economic loss, would leave them parked there until the evening hour, when they would be needed to take out the evening load.

Details of the Plan.

"Imagine above this second level a third level extending from Second street to the river's edge, and from the municipal bridge to Eads Bridge. This would be made into a wonderful plaza, the ground level at Second street 65 feet high near the water's edge. Along the river could be planted grass, flowers and small trees, with park benches, where our citizenry could promenade and enjoy the cool river breezes on a hot summer day.

"Immediately west of this, a broad driveway connecting North and South St. Louis without going through the congested district. Just west of this, an enormous parking space for thousands of automobiles, where they may be parked during the day immediately adjacent to the business district.

"Please realize that between the municipal bridge and Eads Bridge, Second street and the river, there is included about 109 acres.

Considers Scheme Practical.

"I have discussed this matter with President Kinsey of the Board of Public Service, than whom there is no brighter mind in the city's employ, and let me tell you the situation I have outlined is not a fantastic and impractical scheme. With our present surface cars put underground, relieving our surface congestion on our streets, with the river front improved with a parkway, north and south thoroughfare, and automobile parking space made available, there still will be no excuse to leave private automobiles parked along our streets, and our traffic problem will be solved."

INDICTED SISTER OF MINE FOREMAN FREED IN FLORIDA

Governor Denies Extradition of Mrs. Farley to Kentucky—Sued for $65,000 by Insurance Firm.

By the Associated Press.

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 3.—Mrs. Hattie Mae Farley, who, with her husband, was made a defendant in a $65,000 suit filed by attorneys for the New York Life Insurance Co., will not be able to pay back all the insurance money she received, but will make restitution to the best of her ability, attorneys representing Mrs. Farley announced yesterday.

The attorneys pointed out that of the $60,000 she received in insurance money when her brother, W. H. Turner, was supposed to have been killed in a mine explosion at McKarr, Ky., she had given $10,000 and an automobile to Mrs. Turner and had spent some money on Turner's son.

Turner recently returned from Germany and told of the murder of two men in a mine explosion, his own identification as one of the dead and his disappearance, all as part of a plot to defraud the companies in which his life was insured.

Mrs. Farley, was free today after having been held by Dade County authorities since Oct. 18. She is under indictment on charge of murder in Kentucky. Release came yesterday after Gov. John W. Martin denied extradition to Kentucky and the Sheriff here refused to hold her longer in the absence of renewed legal proceedings.

Negro Gets 8 Years for Attack.

William Holmes, negro, 36 years old, 2820 Olive street, was sentenced to eight years in the State penitentiary by Circuit Judge Landwehr yesterday, on his plea of guilty of attacking a 10-year-old negro girl May 9 last.

TAKES THE AGONY OUT OF YOUR BACK

When neuritis settles in the small of the back it often causes untold misery. The terrible stiffness and soreness make it difficult for the sufferer to sit down or stand up, if he is not actually confined to bed. At best, he is unfit for work, has no appetite and sleeps poorly, his whole being is shrouded in gloom and he feels, that life is utterly hopeless.

Many persons in this condition have obtained lasting relief by applying Tysmol to the sore, aching back, night and morning. Tysmol is a soothing, healing preparation that is absorbed through the pores, helping to drive out pain and inflammation and restore proper circulation in the congested region.

Tysmol contains no dope—no dangerous drugs of any kind. Use it for neuritis pains in any part of the body. Price $1, at Judge & Dolph, Wolff-Wilson or any other good drug store. Mail orders accepted by Tysmol Company, Mfg. Chemists, 400 Sutter St., San Francisco.

CAR WRECK INQUIRY BY I. C. C. BUREAU

Company Says Motorman, Supposed to Take Siding, Ran Past It in Fog.

An inquiry by the Bureau of Safety of the Interstate Commerce Commission into the head-on collision of two street cars of the East St. Louis & Suburban Railway, near Nameoki, Ill., yesterday, in which the two motormen were killed, the two conductors critically injured and 27 passengers hurt, was announced today.

At the same time, Coroner Baxter of Alton is obtaining statements from passengers and railroad officials for presentation at the inquests into the deaths of Motormen Henry Roeder and Roy C. Griffin, both of Granite City, which will be conducted tomorrow morning at Granite City by Deputy Coroner Tate.

Company's Statement.

Officers of the traction company today made this explanation of the accident, which occurred at a point about one mile north of Nameoki on a single track line. Northbound car No. 8, in charge of Motorman Griffin, had the right of way. Southbound car No. 5, in charge of Motorman Roeder, was supposed to have taken a siding about 500 feet north of the point of the accident. Motorman Roeder ran by the siding, presumably not seeing it on account of the fog, which passengers described as heavy at the point.

Motorman Roeder was killed instantly, and Motorman Griffin suffered crushed legs, which were amputated at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, where he died seven hours after the crash.

Injured in Hospital.

The more seriously injured, who were being cared for at St. Elizabeth's Hospital today, were:

John Scarritt of Madison, conductor on the northbound car, fractured skull, still unconscious; John Purcell, conductor on the southbound car, injured [illegible]; W. M. Hunter, 77 years old, of 2825 North Fourteenth street, St. Louis, fractured leg and internal injuries, and James Beeley, 17, 1435 Maryland avenue, Richmond Heights, St. Louis County, concussion of the brain.

Fourteen other passengers remain under the care of surgeons at the hospital. There were 27 injured persons taken to the hospital in ambulances and automobiles, but many of them, after receiving emergency treatment, were sent to their homes.

MANAGER OF HOTEL SHOT IN SCUFFLE WITH A GUEST

King Kosure Was Trying to Take Pistol From Dr. K. V. Black at Coronado.

A scuffle between King Kosure, manager of the Coronado Hotel, and Dr. Kay V. Black, 42 years old, of Minneapolis, for possession of an automatic pistol in Black's room at the hotel last night resulted in Black being shot and slightly wounded.

Kosure told police the pistol was discharged twice as he was attempting to take it from Black, who, Kosure said, was intoxicated. One bullet struck Black in the left side and passed out on the right side without penetrating any vital organs. Black, who was treated at City Hospital, corroborated Kosure's statement.

500,000 Miles of New Highways.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—The Bureau of Public Roads of the Agricultural Department estimated yesterday that this year's road construction would bring the nation's total of hard-surfaced highways to nearly 500,000 miles. The estimate was based on reports from states and counties throughout the country.

What happened to Mrs. Mills

Indigestion—terrific gas pains—intestinal irregularity—bilious attacks and physical exhaustion, all these were the intolerable lot of Mrs. C. H. Mills of Worcester, Mass., until she took up internal bathing with the J. B. L. Cascade. A state of physical misery sufficient to break the spirit of the most courageous.

A year later Mrs. Mills reports:

"I haven't been near a doctor for over a year, have no more gas pains and have not had a bad attack since using the 'Cascade.' My digestion has improved wonderfully."

This is but one illustration of the health marvels worked by this modern, hygienic health practice. 800,000 homes can testify to new health and strength brought by the J. B. L. Cascade. Of health regained—misery tossed off. By all means inquire into this famous sanitary way of combating disease and preserving vitality. For your convenience the drug store named below holds a booklet for you describing in detail the treatment. It is called "Why We Should Bathe Internally." It is FREE—to you. Get it, for health's sake, today.

FIRST DEBATE ON ANNEXATION PLAN BY BOARD

Freeholders Discuss Proposal for Commission and Manager Government for City and County.

MOVE TO GET DOWN TO BRASS TACKS

Some Support for Proposal Indicated and Discussion Is Free From Friction Usually Displayed.

Working debate of a definite proposal for metropolitan expansion was had by the Board of Freeholders last night for the first time, meeting at their office in the Planters Building.

Heretofore, the board has confined itself largely to organization matters, although its Scope and Plan Committee has heard one member uphold a plan of full merger of city and county. The innovation last night was in talk across the table and mutual discussion, without formalities.

Several of the freeholders had expressed themselves as desirous of hearing the metropolitan area plan of Robert A. Roessel (county) discussed, so this was taken up after the brief formal meeting adjourned. Freeholders from city and county entered the debate without friction such as has marked some of their meetings, and some of them afterwards declared the board was getting down to brass tacks.

Support of Plan Indicated.

There were indications that a number of the freeholders were inclined to look with favor on Roessel's idea, which would consolidate city and county as one municipality, under a commission and manager government, but retaining local autonomy of the present incorporated city and suburbs. The discussion was largely among lawyer members of the board, with Frederick W. Lehmann (city) questioning the legality of Roessel's plan and Roessel defending it.

Lehmann's objection was that the form of consolidation proposed did not meet the terms of the enabling constitutional amendment, which empowers "consolidation" of city and county into "one legal subdivision under a municipal government." Roessel declared that his plan came within the meaning of consolidation.

Lehmann objected to the retention of autonomous municipal districts, such as Webster Groves and St. Louis, but Roessel pointed out that other analogous units, such as drainage and sewer districts—"subdivisions of municipal entities," like Webster Groves would be a subdivision of Greater St. Louis—already exist with legal sanction. A. E. L. Gardner (county) said Lehmann appeared to be hewing too close to the line.

Roessel explained that Greater St. Louis would be divided into three areas—urban, suburban and rural—merely for the purpose of electing the three commissioners, like other electoral districts. Henry S. Caulfield (city) suggested that the districts ought to be arranged with nearly equal population instead of with heterogeneous territory. Roessel upheld his idea for districts arranged by community of interest.

"It would be a very hazardous undertaking," said Lehmann, "to put through consolidation of city and county. If the plan was adopted, it would still be subject to the Supreme Court and our court is inclined to view matters of that sort very strictly. Endless confusion might result."

Question of Legality.

Question then arose as to whether the constitutional provision for "a municipal government" meant the present St. Louis government or one to be created for Greater St. Louis. Roessel and others thought the latter was meant. Roessel said he thought the plan of Hugh K. Wagner (city) for full merger of city and county as one city would be illegal because it would be a merger—not consolidation—under the present municipal government. Lehmann thought the constitutional provision referred only to the present government.

"If our plan should go to court," said Roessel, "the court would have to consider that an appointed group of the people passed on it and the whole people approved it. Any court would hesitate a long while before throwing such a plan into the discard. The nearest comparisons I could find to my plan were in New York, San Francisco, Denver and Boston."

Roessel announced that he had requested legal opinions on his plan from Chancellor Hadley of Washington University, Nagel & Kirby, and Charles P. Williams. He agreed with Lehmann that his plan made the relationship of Greater St. Louis and the incorporated towns within it similar to that of the Federal and State governments.

It is likely that the board will have more informal discussions. Its Scope and Plan Committee will meet Thursday night. Before it for discussion are Roessel's plan and seven other varying proposals.

Committee Deadlocked.

Only one taxpayer, aside from five newspaper men, attended the board meeting, although meetings are public. The only absent freeholders were J. F. O. Reller (city) and Wagner, but Wagner appeared at the informal meeting.

There was no report at the formal meeting from the Employes and Supplies Committee, which was requested at the previous meeting to recommend a lawyer, an engineer and a statistician for advisers to the board at $5000 a year each. The committee, as told in the Post-Dispatch yesterday, is deadlocked on the question of considering candidates.

Mrs. Roscoe F. Anderson (city) moved that the board's next meeting be Nov. 20, so that a rule could be invoked to recall the matter from committee. The motion was carried, the seven city members present and Frank A. Thompson (county) voting "yes," while seven county members voted "no" and Fred Essen (county) asked to be recorded as voting "present."

92 CASH REGISTER SALESMEN CITED

By the Associated Press.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 3.—Ninety-two salesmen for the National Cash Register Co. of Dayton, O., have been cited to appear in Federal Court here, Dec. 15, to face contempt charges for alleged unfair sales methods in violation of a Federal injunction issued in 1916. United States District Judge Hickenlooper granted the order of citation upon the application of John L. Lott, special investigator of the Department of Justice.

Policies of defendant salesmen in meeting the competition of the Remington Cash Register Co., Ilion, N. Y.; the American Cash Register Co., Saginaw, Mich., and the St. Louis Cash Register Co., St. Louis, have been under Federal investigation for a year and form the basis of the contempt proceedings.

Specific Allegations.

Specific instances in which the decree was violated, Lott charges, deal principally with the methods employed in meeting the competition of the Remington concern. The Government alleges that the National salesmen persuaded Remington customers not to buy Remington registers, that they persuaded others to break purchase contracts with the Remington company, that they interfered with Remington salesmen and with the mechanism of Remington machines and that they made false statements as to the solvency of the Remington concern and its ability to fill orders and make repairs.

The salesmen mentioned in the contempt order are the traveling agents of the National company, and their territories cover scattered parts throughout the country. The unlawful acts are alleged to have been committed since the Remington Arms Co. went into the cash register field three or four years ago.

The decree of 1916 was the outgrowth of litigation brought by the Government as a result of the sales practices of the National Co. in a trade war with the Hallwood Cash Register Co., now known as the American Co.

Permanent Injunction.

On charges similar to those in the present action the Government obtained the indictment of John H. Patterson, then president of the National concern, and a number of salesmen and employes. Patterson and 28 others were sentenced to jail terms of one year. On appeal from the decision the defendants accepted the proposal of the Government to submit to a permanent injunction restraining such sales methods. The criminal proceedings then were dismissed. The decree has since been in force.

A statement given out here by J. H. Barringer, vice president of the National Cash Register Co., declared that the Government's action did not involve the company or its officers, but affected only a small number of its selling force of approximately 2000 persons.

"Our force is under the most rigid instructions as to conduct in the field," Barringer said. "We believe it will be shown not only that the salesmen have not violated the policies of the company in that respect but have conducted themselves with propriety at all times It is our opinion that upon full investigation the charges will not be sustained."

Haveth E. Mau, United States Attorney, commenting on the proceedings, stated: "The proceedings originated with the Department of Justice in Washington. They are in no way directed against the National Cash Register Co. or any of its officers, nor is there any criticism of the business policy of the company itself. Complaint is made against certain sales agents and employes of sales agents, not all of whom, as I understand, are now with the company."

DIVORCE FOR W. F. GEPHART ON CHARGE OF DESERTION

He Testifies His Wife Told Him She No Longer Loved Him; Married in 1900.

Testifying his wife deserted their home, 6015 West Cabanne place, July 31 last, William F. Gephart, a vice president of the First National Bank and former dean of the Washington University School of Commerce and Finance, obtained a divorce yesterday.

His wife, Mrs. Theo Marjorie Gephart, entered a general denial. but did not appear at the trial. Gephart testified his wife had told him several times she no longer loved him. They were married in 1900 at Cattlesburg, Ky. They have no children.

James E. Allison, a civil engineer, and C. Allen appeared as character witnesses for Gephart. The divorce was granted by Judge Pearcy of the Court of Domestic Relations, the suit having been filed yesterday.

Gephart was local head of the Food Administration during the war period. He has spoken occasionally on economic and banking subjects.

George Washington U. Wins.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—The debating team of George Washington University, upholding the negative side of the subject of recognition of Soviet Russia, triumphed last night over the opponents from Oxford University. The audience awarded the home team, which included Miss Vivian Simpson, the laurels by a vote of 452 to 446.

—"sandwich, coffee, apple pie—an' please hurry it up!"

Do you gulp lunch?

So many of us do. And then comes indigestion, that nuisance of a trouble that can easily make you miserable all afternoon.

Hurrying through the noon-day meal is a habit hard to break. But there is a way, easy to learn that has helped many to dodge indigestion—simply eating a few Pep-o-mint Life Savers after meals. Try them. They often work wonders this way.

Indigestion is a miserable thing. So many people suffer this way. If they only knew that simple old method our grandfathers used—peppermint.

And now it is available in a new and really convenient form—Pep-o-mint Life Savers; the little candy mints with the hole.

It sounds very simple and old-fashioned. But Pep-o-mint Life Savers really do the trick. Try them after meals when that heavy, logy feeling comes over you—or to relieve that irritating distress of indigestion. Pep-o-mint is displayed at all good stores so you may help yourself; also Wint-o-green, Cinn-o-mon, Lic-o-rice, Cl-o-ve and Vi-o-let. Five cents a package.—Life Savers, Inc., Port Chester, N. Y.

Cures Rupture

Mr. Steve Seibert of 330 W. Cleveland St., Belleville, Ill., testifies:

"I was badly ruptured while lifting. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I took the Herniatone Treatment that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. Since then eight of Mr. Seibert's friends have been treated by us, and these eight, as well as hundreds more, will tell you of the satisfactory results obtained.

An investigation costs you nothing.

HOW TO JUDGE HOSIERY WISELY

The clever way to make comparisons. How to get the utmost in value. How to analyze this important part of your apparel budget.

"What need I pay," many women are asking, "to get good hosiery?" "Why do I have to buy so many pairs?" "Is hosiery flimsier, poorer than formerly?"

The answers are not so difficult as they seem. There are a few simple guides which everyone should know and follow.

The situation appears confusing but it is largely made so because of wild claims which one can easily analyze and come to the real truth.

Much can be saved every year if one will shop more cautiously.

First, discount all wild claims. For instance, there is the subject of "full fashioned." The genuine "full fashioned" hosiery is hosiery which is knit to conform to the shape of the leg. Look for the seam which extends from toe-tip to top of stocking.

Imitation "full fashioned" is the old style tubular hosiery with a fake seam merely up the back. There is no seam on the bottom of the foot.

The genuine "full fashioned" hosiery keeps its shape—while the tubular loses its shape after the first washing.

The chief guarantee in getting genuine "full fashioned" hosiery is the label of the manufacturer. For instance, when you buy Kayser hosiery you are guaranteed the genuine "full fashioned."

"Pure silk"—any one can claim.

"Pure dyes"—any one can claim.

So when one goes to the counter to buy, one cannot always tell by "feel" and "looks."

Some hosiery is weighted so as to make it feel heavier. If there is any skimping on the dyes—if pure dyes are not used—the fabric will rot and the life of the hosiery is shortened.

Again, your guarantee that the hosiery you buy is pure silk and that pure dyes are used, depends upon the label of the manufacturer. When you wear Kaysers, you are guaranteed pure silk and pure dyes—and you need have no doubts—you run no risk.

Your pocketbook will prove to you that pure silk and pure dyes give long wear and economy.

As to price?

To pay less than $1.50 is extravagance. For that amount you can get a very satisfactory hosiery—full fashioned—pure silk and pure dyes.

Naturally, if you pay more you get a higher grade with clocking, lace panels, etc.

What about "runs?" This is a constant annoyance to every woman. How disappointing it is to pay good money for a pair of hosiery only to find after wearing them a few times, that garter runs appear.

A clever invention ends this annoyance. It is called the Marvel Stripe*. This is an exclusive feature in Kayser Hosiery and saves every Kayser wearer from expense and annoyance.

Style features? To slenderize the ankle, Kayser offers the Slipper Heel*. This is a style feature which every woman appreciates.

Colors? While itemized last, this is of first importance to every woman at this time because of the desire for ensemble matching.

All the wanted colors and tints can be had in Kayser hosiery—thus combining the mode of the moment with long wear and economy.

While the hosiery situation is apparently so confusing, you will realize that after all it is really a simple matter to reduce your annual hosiery budget—the first requisite being to decide always to buy a high grade brand.

To specify Kayser and to insist upon it—is a safe way—an economical way. You get the utmost in beauty, the latest colors, and also economy.

Kayser hosiery is made with the principle ever in mind which will make women gladly say:

"I prefer Kayser hosiery because I get the finest and I save about 25% per year."

You can buy fewer pairs if you buy Kaysers because they last longer. In making such a saving you sacrifice nothing to sheerness and luxury.

If, like thousands upon thousands of other women, you will wear Kayser hosiery for a year, your pocketbook and your calendar will prove to you that there need be no puzzling questions in your mind as to how to judge hosiery wisely.

BARTHOLDT, 70, HONOR GUEST AT DINNER

Former Congressman Declares He Made First Wet Speech in House.

The distinction of having made the first speech in Congress against prohibition was claimed by Richard Bartholdt, former Representative of the Tenth, largest of St. Louis congressional districts, at a testimonial dinner marking his seventieth birthday, given by his friends at Hotel Jefferson last night.

Bartholdt, who served in the House at Washington for 11 terms, from 1893 to 1915, said of his official record:

"Thomas Jefferson said that men are responsible for the righteousness and not for the rightfulness of their opinions. In other words, a man is responsible for advocating that which he believes to be right and for opposing that which he believes to be wrong. He is not responsible for error of opinion. By this standard I want my public record to be judged, and you are the judges.

Was for River Improvement.

"I stood for the rebuilding of Jefferson Barracks until it was accomplished, and for Government aid for the World's Fair until we got it. I persistently fought for liberal expenditures, as does my friend and successor, Newton; for the improvement of the Mississippi and Missouri and for the erection of Government buildings wherever needed. Our new postoffice building opposite Union Station is an evidence of these efforts, as was the appropriation or $1,000,000 for another Government building on Chestnut and Fourth streets, which amount, for some reason or other, has been allowed to revert into the Treasury after my retirement.

"I favored liberal immigration laws, on the theory that our country has room for another hundred million of people, and I earnestly labored for the participation of the United States in all measures to safeguard the world's peace by the substitution of arbitration and judicial decisions for the arbitrament of the sword. I opposed whole-heartedly every threatened infringement of American liberties and traditions, especially of the freedom of speech, press and assemblage, and with my back against the wall, fought to a standstill every attempt at sumptuary legislation as a curtailment of that cherished individual liberty which is in the keeping of every man's conscience.

Spoke Against Prohibition.

"The first speech against prohibition ever heard in the American Congress was delivered by the gentleman from Missouri now addressing you. It was at a time when the people were still asleep at the switch, and never dreamed of losing their right of self-determination in matters touching their personal habits. I saw the cloud in the horizon and made up my mind to sound a timely note of warning. In that speech I quoted the German philosopher Kant, who expressed his guiding principle in life with the words: 'The stars above me and the moral law within me.' 'If prohibition ever comes,' I said, 'it will shock and offend the moral sense within us, because it undertakes to forbid something which is not wrong in itself.' I don't know what you think about it, but I believe this to be the real explanation of the general disregard of the prohibition law, even by the most conscientious and in every other respect law-abiding citizens."

Speaking of the World's Fair originally planned for 1903, to commemorate the Louisiana Purchase centennial, and held in 1904, he said that the credit for originating the idea belonged to the late Chas. M. Harvey, associate editor of the Globe-Democrat. He said Harvey made the suggestion to him in 1898, at a time when they were discussing measures needed for improving business conditions in St. Louis, and that he went to Washington, drafted a bill to authorize the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, "and without consulting another soul, introduced it in the House."

Worked for World's Fair Bill.

Later, he related, Speaker Henderson of the House manifested opposition to the passage of the necessary bill, appropriating $5,000,000 as the Federal Government's share for the Exposition. When the Speaker proved obdurate to other arguments, Bartholdt said, he asked whether consideration of the bill would be granted if a majority of the House requested it. Henderson said that under those circumstances he would not oppose consideration, and Bartholdt busied himself to get the requests of members.

"Within 48 hours," he said, "I had the signature of every member present, even of those opposed to our bill, because they deemed it but fair that we should have our day in court. The bill was passed by a safe margin, and not very long after that the greatest of all expositions lit its lights."

Bartholdt told of his interest in the question of world peace, and of his activity in the Interparliamentary Union, an international peace organization which met in St. Louis in the World's Fair year.

View of World Peace.

"The senior Senator from Missouri may not quite agree with me," he said, "but I have seen enough of the diplomatic game to know that without international co-operation lasting peace is impossible. To secure it we must bind the

Miss Rogers Gained 15 Pounds in 6 Weeks

Skinny Men and Women Gain 5 Pounds in 30 Days or Money Back.

My Dear Friends:

After my attack of Flu I was thin, run-down and weak. I had a sallow complexion, my cheeks were sunk in and I was continually troubled with gas on my stomach. I felt stuffy and had lost my appetite. I had read about McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets and decided to give them a trial. At once, I began to pick up an appetite, my cheeks filled out and my complexion became healthy looking and I gained 15 pounds in six weeks and am very thankful for what McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets did for me.

Miss Alberta Rogers, 264 W. Cerro Gorda St., Decatur, Ill.

To take on weight, grow strong and vigorous, to fill out the hollows in cheeks and neck, try McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets for 30 days. 60 Tablets—60 cents at Wolff-Wilson; Walgreen Drug Co., successors to Judge & Dolph Drug Stores; Enderle Drug Co.; Johnson Bros. Drug Co. and druggists everywhere. If they don't give you wonderful help in 30 days, you money back—you be the judge. But be sure and ask for McCoy's, the original and genuine.

Hiding a rash wont heal it

Attempts to conceal complexion blemishes usually fail, and only serve to draw attention to the defects.

Underneath most unattractive skins is a clear, pleasing complexion—all that is needed is the proper treatment! It is surprising how often a brief use of Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap will clear away blotches, redness and roughness and give the skin its natural freshness and charm.

Miss Rogers Gained 15 Pounds in 6 Weeks

Skinny Men and Women Gain 5 Pounds in 30 Days or Money Back.

My Dear Friends:

After my attack of Flu I was thin, run-down and weak. I had a sallow complexion, my cheeks were sunk in and I was continually troubled with gas on my stomach. I felt stuffy and had lost my appetite. I had read about McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets and decided to give them a trial. At once, I began to pick up an appetite, my cheeks filled out and my complexion became healthy looking and I gained 15 pounds in six weeks and am very thankful for what McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets did for me.

Miss Alberta Rogers, 264 W. Cerro Gorda St., Decatur, Ill.

To take on weight, grow strong and vigorous, to fill out the hollows in cheeks and neck, try McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets for 30 days. 60 Tablets—60 cents at Wolff-Wilson; Walgreen Drug Co., successors to Judge & Dolph Drug Stores; Enderle Drug Co.; Johnson Bros. Drug Co. and druggists everywhere. If they don't give you wonderful help in 30 days, you money back—you be the judge. But be sure and ask for McCoy's, the original and genuine.

Hiding a rash wont heal it

Attempts to conceal complexion blemishes usually fail, and only serve to draw attention to the defects.

Underneath most unattractive skins is a clear, pleasing complexion—all that is needed is the proper treatment! It is surprising how often a brief use of Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap will clear away blotches, redness and roughness and give the skin its natural freshness and charm.

FOUR FIREMEN FALL INTO FLOODED BROADWAY BASEMENT

Three Buildings Damaged by Water When $6500 Blaze Breaks Out in Acme Restaurant.

Basements of three buildings on the north side of Broadway, between Olive and Pine streets, were flooded with several feet of water poured by firemen on a fire in the basement of the Acme Restaurant, 205 North Broadway, early today. Four firemen were thrown into the water and injured when the kitchen floor collapsed.

Three of the firemen—Capt. John Brady, 41 years old, of Engine Company No. 12; Capt. John Haley, 43, of Engine Company No. 15, and Pipeman Walter Hines, 32—were treated at the city hospital for water exposure and lacerations of the face and body. The fourth fireman, whose name was not obtained, was given emergency treatment and remained on duty.

A heavy marble wall of the Liberty Central Trust Co. building prevented the water from flooding the safety deposit department of the bank. Basements of the restaurant, the Criterion Theater, 207 North Broadway, and the Universal Supply Co., 203 North Broadway, were flooded with three to five feet of water. Damage to the Acme Restaurant building was estimated by Fire Chief Alt at $5000 and $1500 to the restaurant furnishings.

CAR THAT RAN DOWN MAN IN GARAGE OWNED BY TWO BOYS

Indorser of Notes They Gave for Installment Payments Held for Falsification.

Ownership of a Buick roadster, the driver of which fled after seriously injuring Michael Sobel, 57 years old, in a garage at 2951 Easton avenue Sunday night, was traced to two 15-year-old boys yesterday.

The boys, Harry Feldman of 623 North Leffingwell avenue, and Tavern Tarzian of 3800 Olive street, were arrested, and Feldman admitted he was driving the machine when it struck Sobel. They said they saved $100 and purchased the machine last June on time payments, which, it was said, are now in arrears.

Albert Landweh, 24 years old, of the Leffingwell avenue address, who signed the notes as the boys' guardian has been charges with making a false statement. The boys were turned over to Juvenile Court.

SUIT OF REPUBLIC BANK DISMISSED BY STIPULATION

Depository Charged American Trust Co. and Frank C. Millspaugh With Conspiracy.

By stipulation filed yesterday in Circuit Court, the suit of the Republic National Bank against the American Trust Co. and Frank C. Millspaugh, former State Finance Commissioner, for $80,744.88, was dismissed at the cost of the plaintiff. The suit charged a conspiracy between the defendants to force the Republic bank out of business.

The affairs of the Republic Bank are now in process of liquidation.

S. Mayner Wallace, attorney for the plaintiff, and Rhodes E. Cave, for the defendants, said they had no statement to make concerning the dismissal.

WHISKY SEIZED BY POLICE IN AUTO ON FREE BRIDGE

Driver Says He Left Machine in East Side Garare and Didn't Know It Contained Liquor.

Seven five-gallon cans of moonshine whisky were found in the rear compartment of a Buick coupe by detectives stationed on the Free Bridge, after they had stopped the driver of the machine, who described himself as Ronald Probst 22 years old, of 3030 North Euclid avenue, at 6 p. m. yesterday.

Probst told the detectives after his arrest that he didn't know the whisky was in the machine. He said he left the car in a garage at Edwardsville Saturday night and called for it yesterday afternoon.

MADE FIRST WET SPEECH IN HOUSE, BARTHOLDT SAYS

world by arbitration treaties, make international order conform to national order; in a word, we must extend the rule of law to world relations. And there is one other essential: As peace cannot prosper except on a basis of truth and justice, the truth must be established by impartial investigation with regard to all the happenings in the diplomatic world since 1910, so that not only the American people but the people of all nations may be enabled to place the responsibility where it belongs."

Dwelling on the horrors of war, Bartholdt told of his post-war observations in Germany and Austria. He said that German banks refuse to loan money on real estate, because, with rentals fixed by law, realty yields no returns worth considering, and because all the realty of the country is already pledged as suretly to maintain the parity of the present currency. He asked the question whether, by putting Germany on her feet, this country would not benefit herself by creating customers for American industry.

John H. Gundlach presided at the dinner. The other speakers included Congressmen Newton, Dyer and Hawes, Senator Williams, President Neun of the Board of Aldermen, former Judge Shepard Barclay and Carl F. G. Meyer. Letters and telegrams from a number of men prominent in public life were read.

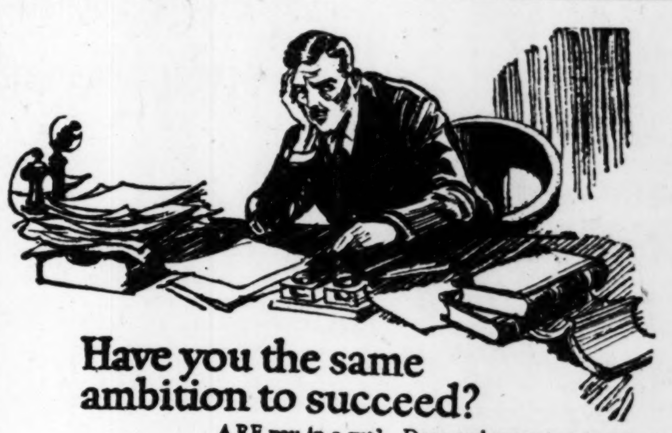
MISSOURI PACIFIC



Have you the same ambition to succeed?

ARE you in a rut? Does each morning start just another daily grind, or does it mean a further chance to succeed? Men and women with rich, red blood face each new day with revived energy, vitality and interest. Lack of vitality, eight out of every ten instances, is caused by anemia, blood starvation. Watery, impoverished blood can be the root of every minor ill—colds, nervous breakdown, indigestion, insomnia—diseases of the physical and nervous system which undermine your efficiency.

For thirty-three years, Gude's Pepto-Mangan has been prescribed by physicians to restore new health to anemic, run-down bodies. Its iron and manganese content is easily assimilated by the blood and distributed to every cell in the body, fortifying them against preying disease germs, and revitalizing the entire system.

Your druggist has Gude's Pepto-Mangan in liquid or tablet form. Start taking it today.

BOY, 6, ON SCOOTER, INJURED WHEN HE RUNS INTO AUTO

R. Bolland McLaughlin, 6-year-old son of Mrs. Helen McLaughlin, 4967 West Pine boulevard, while playing on a scooter at the driveway of their home yesterday, ran into the automobile of Mrs. William A. Stickney of the St. Regis Apartments. One of his hips was fractured and he was internally hurt.

A chauffeur was backing the automobile into the alley when the boy ran out of the drive. He was taken to Missouri Baptist Sanitarium.

ARRESTS HALT CRIME CAREER OF YOUTHS

Quartet Confesses Holdups and Theft of Auto to Get Some "Easy Money"

A career of crime, which four youths, between the ages of 19 and 21, embarked upon in South St. Louis, to get some easy money was brief, unspectacular and only negligibly profitable. Now the four are held at the Soulard Station, facing charges of robbery, for which applications for warrant will be made today.

Their arrests were brought about early yesterday morning, when a citizen stopped two policemen near Lafayette Park and gave a description of two armed youths he said had just held him up, robbed him of $1, and then returned it on his complaint that he was a working man. A little later the policemen arrested two youths, answering the description, at Armstrong and Chouteau avenues. They described themselves as Roy Rasin, 21 years old, a chauffeur, 2002 Hickory street, and Lee Thomas, 19, a presser, 1803 Wash street.

Questioned by Capt. Kirk, the youths admitted robbing a man at Jefferson and Eads avenue, about 12:30 a. m., of $15, a watch; of breaking into an ice cream parlor at 1411 Chouteau avenue Saturday night and taking $14; the robbery of a man at Compton avenue and Caroline street Friday night, of $2.85; and the theft of an automobile Thursday night, which was used in the last two named robberies.

In the robberies in which the automobile was used they named "Sam and Ches" as their companions, which resulted in the arrest of two youths, who described themselves as Samuel Moncado, 19, 2318 Chouteau avenue, and Chester Shively, 20, 1201 South Jefferson avenue. They also signed statements, which led to the recovery of $15 and a watch taken in the robberies, and a .32 caliber pistol, which Thomas said he had hidden under a bread box, and a .45 revolver and .45 automatic, which Moncado said he had hidden in a shed in the rear of his home.

Quincy Brewer Dies.

QUINCY, Ill., Nov. 3.—William J. Ruff, Quincy brewer, and since prohibition engaged in the ice cream manufacturing business, died here today after a brief illness.

$225,000,000 U. S. LOANS TO GERMAN CITIES HELD UP

Situation Due to Unclarified Point in Dawes' Plan to Prevent Drop in Foreign Exchange.

COMPROMISE PLAN DECIDED UPON

Reichsbank in Germany Asked to Supervise Applications to Prevent Impairment of Reparations.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.

Copyright 1925.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—The United States Government, acting with the knowledge and to some extent in accord with the wish of the German Government, has held up nearly $225,000,000 in loans which American bankers have been ready to make to German cities and states.

Naturally the Federal Government in Germany looks askance at any increase in the burdens of its cities and states just as in the United States the President and his Cabinet have from time to time issued warnings against the increased borrowings of local communities. But the indirect way in which the Washington government has interested itself in the German situation relates to another point which is entirely apart from the question of local extravagance.

Concerning Dawes' Plan.

It concerns an unclarified point in the Dawes plan whereby the transfer committee is obligated to use its power and influence to prevent any drop in foreign exchange when reparation payments are due. The Dawes plan does not say how the power shall be exercised. If, therefore, German cities and states should borrow large sums in America or elsewhere and then when the interest payments came due, the transfer committee should say that such interest payments cannot be made because to do so would ship such an amount of gold out of Germany as to disturb exchange, then an embarrassing situation would arise for the investors who hold coupons on the loans of German cities and states.

The American Gvernment cannot undertake to approve or disapprove or even enter objections to loans of this kind but under the circumstances warnings have been sent in writing and orally to New York bankers that they cannot expect diplomatic support if a few years hence the interest payments are interferred with by the transfer committee.

Such a situation if incured would mean that German cities and states would be without funds necessary to their ordinary development. The German Government as a matter of form could not admit that the transfer committee has any right to prohibit interest payments on the loans of cities and states. On the other hand, the finance ministry in Berlin has been conferring with the representatives of German states and municipalities regarding the nature of the loans to be made. Upwards of 20 cities are in the market for loans aggregating about $225,000,000. Since such a large addition to Germany's foreign indebtedness would place a heavy burden on exchange, the advisory committee of the finance committee has about come to the conclusion that borrowings abroad should be limited to extraordinary cases and that foreign borrowings should be restricted as far as possible to private corporations engaged in reproductive enterprises.

Some Loans Made.

American bankers already have placed loans for the cities of Berlin, Bremen, Cologne, Munich and Heidelberg and the States of Saxony and Bavaria in addition to a large loan for the Central Bank of Agriculture netting about $90,000,000 which when added to the $110,000,000 international loan under the Dawes plan, makes a total of $200,000,000. This total does not in the judgment of officials on both sides of the water constitute a sum too large to be handled so it may be said confidently that the present discussion does not affect the value of the loans to German cities and states which already have been made.

The American Government has finally worked out a plan which is in the nature of a compromise about future loans and may if accepted on all sides solve the whole problem satisfactorily.

The suggestion made by the Washington Government is that the Reichsbank in Germany shall un-

COMPROMISE PLAN DECIDED UPON

Reichsbank in Germany Asked to Supervise Applications to Prevent Impairment of Reparations.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—The United States Government, acting with the knowledge and to some extent in accord with the wish of the German Government, has held up nearly $225,000,000 in loans which American bankers have been ready to make to German cities and states.

Naturally the Federal Government in Germany looks askance at any increase in the burdens of its cities and states just as in the United States the President and his Cabinet have from time to time issued warnings against the increased borrowings of local communities. But the indirect way in which the Washington government has interested itself in the German situation relates to another point which is entirely apart from the question of local extravagance.

Concerning Dawes' Plan.

It concerns an unclarified point in the Dawes plan whereby the transfer committee is obligated to use its power and influence to prevent any drop in foreign exchange when reparation payments are due. The Dawes plan does not say how the power shall be exercised. If, therefore, German cities and states should borrow large sums in America or elsewhere and then when the interest payments came due, the transfer committee should say that such interest payments cannot be made because to do so would ship such an amount of gold out of Germany as to disturb exchange, then an embarrassing situation would arise for the investors who hold coupons on the loans of German cities and states.

The American Government cannot undertake to approve or disapprove or even enter objections to loans of this kind but under the circumstances warnings have been sent in writing and orally to New York bankers that they cannot expect diplomatic support if a few years hence the interest payments are interferred with by the transfer committee.

Such a situation if incured would mean that German cities and states would be without funds necessary to their ordinary development. The German Government as a matter of form could not admit that the transfer committee has any right to prohibit interest payments on the loans of cities and states. On the other hand, the finance ministry in Berlin has been conferring with the representatives of German states and municipalities regarding the nature of the loans to be made. Upwards of 20 cities are in the market for loans aggregating about $225,000,000. Since such a large addition to Germany's foreign indebtedness would place a heavy burden on exchange, the advisory committee of the finance committee has about come to the conclusion that borrowings abroad should be limited to extraordinary cases and that foreign borrowings should be restricted as far as possible to private corporations engaged in reproductive enterprises.

Some Loans Made.

American bankers already have placed loans for the cities of Berlin, Bremen, Cologne, Munich and Heidelberg and the States of Saxony and Bavaria in addition to a large loan for the Central Bank of Agriculture netting about $90,000,000 which when added to the $110,000,000 international loan under the Dawes plan, makes a total of $200,000,000. This total does not in the judgment of officials on both sides of the water constitute a sum too large to be handled so it may be said confidently that the present discussion does not affect the value of the loans to German cities and states which already have been made.

The American Government has finally worked out a plan which is in the nature of a compromise about future loans and may if accepted on all sides solve the whole problem satisfactorily.

The suggestion made by the Washington Government is that the Reichbanck in Germany shall undertake to supervise all applications for loans made by German cities and states. If the Reichsbank approves certain loans, it will assure the investing public by its action that interest payments will be forthcoming out of gold credits established in the United States and in foreign countries. It will be noted that Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, president of the Reichsbank, is now in America, being the guest of Benjamin Strong, Governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York.

Dr. Schacht was in Washington for several days conferring with Secretary Mellon and Cabinet officials here. There is every indication that the problem now will be solved both for German municipalities and private industrial enterprises by the establishment of credits in foreign countries which will not in any way come under the scope of the transfer committee of the Dawes plan which committee, by the way, has declined to date to isue any rating on what its course might be with respect to the ultimate payment of interests on loans out of gold accumulated in Germany.

FRENCH PASSING OUT DEATH SENTENCES FOR PLOTTERS IN DAMASCUS REBELLION

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
(Copyright, 1925.)

DAMASCUS, via Haifa, Nov. 3.—Damascus, the flower of the East, is cowed, but not pacified. With the native population thoroughly aroused over the bombardment of the city by the French, it is realized that new disorders may break out at any time.

Although a fortnight has passed since the bombardment of Damascus, many French officials are just now awakening to the fact that a serious situation has been created. While fighting is still reported outside the walls of the ancient city, in the city proper the French are undoubtedly the masters, and this process of subduing is being continued.

Though martial law has not been declared, a 9 o'clock curfew is being rigorously enforced and Damascus is a dead city after sunset—cafes are closed, houses barred and hotels closed.

Death Sentences Given.

A special court has been established for trying all cases in connection with the uprising and the wheels of justice are beginning to revolve, grinding out death sentences for all those proved guilty of complicity.

The French authorities refuse to state the number of prisoners they hold, but rumor says there are between 100 and 500 prisoners in the citadel. Some of these prisoners have been shot down while making a dash for liberty, according to report.

Tanks are drawn up in formation in the military parade ground and companies of French soldiers continually parade the streets with fixed bayonets. Barbed-wire entanglements and sandbag barricades have been erected.

The highest total of dead admitted by the French is 200, which includes rebels and members of the populace. This is undoubtedly an understatement and a fair estimate would be that between 1000 and 2000 lost their lives in the bombardment.

French officials claim that the shells destroyed only about 1000 houses, including mud huts. They claim that the rebels burned 25 houses. The correspondent, however, counted at random 50 ruined houses in the Jewish quarter near "the street called Straight" and solitary ruins were to be seen wherever he walked in the devastated area.

Oath of Death Taken.

The Christian population is divided on the subject of whether the bombardment was necessary.

"We would have been wiped out if it had not been for the French," one Christian said. "I have been through many massacres by the Moslems, in Armenia and in Bagdad and when on that Sunday night I heard the Moslem women raise their terrible death wail I knew we would perish if we fell into their hands, the men having taken the oath of death in the mosques on the Friday before. The taking of the oath of death means that either they or their enemies must die, and they declare us their enemies, saying we brought the French to Syria to protect us."

Other members of the American, British and European colonies generally condemn the French because they did not give notice before the bombardment and they did not protect the Christian quarters with anything but Syrian police.

RUSSIA WILLING TO ENTER LEAGUE

Soviet Organ Making Campaign for Rapprochment With Europe.

Berlin Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

BERLIN, Nov. 3.—Russia has begun a new foreign policy which leads to Geneva. There has been a complete about-face in the soviet attitude towards Locarno and a newly begun movement for peace. Russia is willing to enter the League of Nations.

Russia has suddenly discovered, in the words of Pravda, soviet organ, "The days of blockades are over because blockades are double-edged knives."

Only a week ago the Government saw Locarno as a British conspiracy to get Germany into the anti-soviet bloc. Now Pravda says that the expression of Locarno is a desire for peace, especially in England, where the workers will no longer tolerate war. The correspondent has received information that the campaign of Pravda for a rapprochement with Europe is a part of a definite new policy of the communist party.

The editorials of Pravda, it is declared, are intended to silence the left wing, which sees a movement against Russia in the Locarno pact.

Most of the communist leaders are convinced themselves that they must face the fact that Europe wants peace, if only for economic reasons. The communists realize that they cannot stay out of a club of peaceful nations without injuring themselves. Therefore if the Locarno pact is ratified and Germany becomes a member of the league, Russia will follow in a surprisingly short time.

LIBERIAN EDUCATION DRIVE

Phelps-Stokes Fund and Missionary Agencies Co-Operating.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—An educational and social project, sponsored by Americans for the negro Republic of Liberia, as extensive as the commercial developments planned for that country by Harvey S. Firestone, has been disclosed with the appointment of James L. Sibley as educational representative in Liberia of the Phelps-Stokes fund, the American, New York and Massachusetts colonization societies and the missionary bodies of the Episcopal, Methodist and Lutheran churches.

Sibley, an expert in sociology and education, has been commissioned by these agencies to formulate plans in co-operation with Liberian officials for a complete reconstruction of the educational system of that country.

STRENGTHENS GRIP ON PERSIA

LONDON, Nov. 3.—Reza Khan, Premier and dictator of Persia, is taking measures to prevent any counter-revolutionary attempt by supporters of the deposed Shah, according to diplomatic dispatches reaching London last night.

Reza has expelled from the country members of the Persian royal family and senior Generals of the army whose loyalty he doubted. It is understood that they have crossed the Persian frontier into Mesopotamia.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—A dispatch to the Morning Post from Teheran, Persia, says the Government is busy drafting regulations for convening the constituent assembly, ordered when the Shah was deposed. The assembly is expected to meet within a month and it is virtually certain that Premier Reza Kahn will be elected shah. Finance Minister Faroughi has been appointed acting premier.

Victor F. Lawson's Will Filed.

By the Associated Press.

GREEN LAKE, Wis., Nov. 3.—The will of Victor F. Lawson, late proprietor of the Chicago Daily News, and owner of a large estate in Green Lake County, was filed for probate in the Green Lake County Court yesterday by attorneys for the Illinois Merchants Loan and Trust Co., executor of the estate. Wisconsin real estate approximating $1,500,000 and personal property in the State valued at $50,000 will be disposed of under the terms of the will.

Gov. Baker Praises Lieut. Nelson.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 3.—A citation commending First Lieut. Fred C. Nelson, United States Army, until recently the regular army instructor for the 110th Observation Squadron, Missouri National Guard at St. Louis, for courage displayed in his handling of a plane which crashed at Lambert-St. Louis Field, Oct. 10, last, has been issued by Gov. Baker. Sergt. Clarence L. Boehm, who was flying with Nelson, was killed in the crash.

CONFIDENCE VOTE GIVEN PAINLEVE IN FRENCH CHAMBER

Ballot Is 221 to 189—New Ministry Declares for Sacrifice on the Part of All Wealth.

ATTRIBUTES SYRIAN REVOLT TO INTRIGUE

Announces Program Calculated to Hasten Hour of Self-Government in Mandate Zone.

PARIS, Nov. 3.—The Chamber of Deputies tonight gave a vote of confidence to the new Painleve Cabinet.

The vote as officially announced was 221 to 189 in favor of the Government, with 121 deputies abstaining from voting.

The new Painleve Government, in its declaration of policy to Parliament today, said it would "resolutely pursue, with determination to succeed, the negotiations with the allies, begun in London and Washington, by the preceding Government with a view to settlement of the debts."

Reading of the ministerial declaration was received with apparent indifference by the Chamber. The only passages bringing applause were a reference to reduction of the military service term to one year and a project for electoral reform. The Deputies sat silent throughout the entire portion relating to the financial situation.

The ministry's pronouncement finds the financial problem the greatest facing the country. As was expected, it declares for "a sacrifice, in which will participate all forms of wealth" and the revenue from which is to be used exclusively in reducing the debts.

To accomplish its program of financial rehabilitation, the declaration says, the Government intends to assure monetary stabilization.

The menace of the rebellion in Morocco, it declares, has been completely swept aside. The first move for peace must come from the rebellious tribesmen.

As for the troubles in Syria the Government says they arose from anti-foreign intrigue and "false news from Pan-Islamic and revolutionary centers."

It lays down a program calculated to hasten the hour "when the peoples of Syria shall be capable of governing themselves."

No Mention of Means.

Although emphatic in expressing determination to arrive at a definite settlement of the debts to America and England, the declaration does not mention the means by which such result may be reached. It says:

"However great might be the internal effort of the country, it cannot definitely shelter the franc from all risk so long as we have not concluded an accord on the war debts with the great friendly nations.

"Therefore we intend resolutely to pursue, with the determination necessary to complete it, an equitable solution of the negotiations begun in London and Washington by the preceding Government.

"The effort that the nation itself will make to save itself will at the same time be the best guarantee for the success of the negotiations."

National Sacrifice Necessary.

Solution of the financial crisis, the Government holds, depends upon a sacrifice, "national, exceptional and immediate," to the end that the debts be reduced, the franc stabilized and the budget balanced.

The Government says that it will maintain calm, absolute impartiality in Syria. Concerning the events themselves, the Government is seeking precise information with which it will inform Parliament, and will take the necessary measures to prevent recurrence of the trouble.

Fate of Ministry Doubtful.

The parliamentary group of the Socialist party this morning decided to abstain from voting on the motion of confidence.

For reduction of the debts, the government proposes taxation on all forms of wealth, the proceeds to be applied outside of any budget requirements solely to debt reduction, and to be independent of all state control.

Socialists Vote No Confidence.

The Socialist council last night voted lack of confidence in Painleve, especially because it was not his purpose to go far enough in the direction of a capital levy. The vote was 1431 to 1228. Painleve went over the entire financial situation in detail with a committee of the Socialist parliamentary group.

One of his ideas was a sinking fund which would be derived from the proceeds of a special contribution in the form of a sort of increased income tax, which would permit of the amortization of between 60,000,000,000 and 65,000,000,000 francs in 15 years. Socialists thought this plan not entirely in accordance with the party's ideas.

The Socialists brought up the question of stamping bank notes, in order that hidden hoards might be discovered, but the premier was averse to stamping because of the difficulty of preventing falsifications.

Faure Attacks Premier.

M. Painleve was attacked in a speech by Compere Morel, who was supported by Paul Faure, general secretary of the party.

A resolution proposed by Faure was approved. It declared that under previous decisions of the party it was compelled to withhold confidence from the premier and to leave in the hands of the parliamentary group the decision whether refusal of confidence should take the form of a hostile vote from the chamber for specified reasons.

The possibility of a coup d'etat as a means of solving France's political problem was suggested this morning at the congress of the Socialist party by Morel, a deputy.

"There is no way out but to resort to illegal means," he declared, and advocated the formation of a government which woould be ready to resort to such means.

It was explained that by his references to illegality he ment radical measures to overcome the resistance of the Senate to revolutionary financial policies.

Political Weekly Hints at Scandal in French Baking Circles.

Copyright, 1925, by the Press and Pulitzer Publishing Cos. (New York World and Post-Dispatch.)

PARIS, Nov. 3.—American Ambassador Herrick Sunday and yesterday urged Premier Painleve and Foreign Minister Briand to make an immediate statement on the debt.

Herrick's activities, which began the moment that Caillaux fell and continues through the time Painleve was forming a new Cabinet, are interpreted as meaning that Washington is anxious to get the settlement quickly made.

Caillaux made enemies of the most powerful French banking groups and they led the campaign while he was in Washington, against floating a new French loan in America. Wall Street's interest in Caillaux's offers is therefore presumed to be lacking.

But since Caillaux's fall these bankers again have an important voice in French finance and according to reports they are ready to make a loan through Wall Street, which would pass through their hands. So the new French offer, if it is little or no better than the one made by Caillaux, but with an important loan attached, is believed might have better success.

The little political weekly, "Aux Cooties" has astonished Paris by its boldness in telling what is purported to be the inside story of Caillaux's fight with certain banking groups. It says:

"On one side was Cailaux, with the Lazard Bank, the Societe General, the Banque d'Indio-China—and on the other side the Banque de Paris et Pais Bas, which has the suport of the Bank of France, which no one mentions, in the person of Director Robineau. It was a battle to the knife, and unfortunately it is probable that they played with the franc to bring down the Minister of Finance. It shows what power there is in these groups.

"Investigation would reveal a scandal worse than that at Panama. If a list were given out of the personalities, who on one account or another get something every month from the most important of these banks, it would be astonishing, and if it were examined, would show that they are mostly political radicals.

"We got a peep at all of that through the fall of Caillaux, but the peephole was promptly shut. The public will continue to vent its rage against dummies and will not see the real corruptors and exploiters of crudity."

The Weekly declares that Horace Finaly, who is head of the Banque de Paris et Pais Bas planned Caillaux's fall. Finaly, who is close to Herriot and his Finance Minister, Clemental, handled the bourse operations for the Government. Caillaux took business away and handed it to Lazard Freres, and from that time, says the Weekly, Finaly did not rest until he ousted Caillaux.

SECRETARY OF WAR TO BE GUEST AT DINNER HERE NOV. 19

Seventeen Civic Organizations Plan for Homecoming in Honor of St. Louisan.

The first homecoming of Dwight F. Davis since his appointment as Secretary of War will be the occasion of a public dinner at Hotel Statler, Thursday evening, Nov. 19, plans for which were formed at a meeting in the mayor's chambers, yesterday, attended by 40 representatives of 17 civic organizations.

John H. Gross, president of the Municipal Athletic Association, of which Secretary Davis, former St. Louis park commissioner, long has been honorary president, was named general chairman and Fred E. Windsor, executive secretary of the Advertising Club, secretary. A committee on arrangements, consisting of Justin T. Flint, president of the Lions' Club, Fred Pape, Park Commissioner, and Norman S. Lewis, president of the Advertising Club, was chosen.

A finance committee also was named consisting of William Sommers, president of the City Club; John J. Dowling, president of the Real Estate Exchange; Henry Giesenbier, of the Optimist Club; Paul Bestor, of the Federal Land Bank; C. S. Abel, of Hotel Statler, and Mrs. M. Sternberg, president of the Women's Chamber of Commerce. Other participating organizations were the Chamber of Commerce, Convention Bureau, Merchants Exchange, Manufacturers and Merchants Association, Associated Retailers, Rotary, Kiwanis, Civitan, Universal, Commercial, Co-operative and Exchange Clubs; Junior Chamber of Commerce, Downtown Improvement Association, and the commanding officer of Jefferson Barracks.

Carl F. G. Meyer was selected as toastmaster. Secretary Davis is expected to be a visitor here three days.

Colorado School Will Not Be Named for Fighter as Proposed.

By the Associated Press.

MANASSA, Colo., Nov. 3.—Proposals that Manassa's new high school be named in honor of her world-renowned son, Jack Dempsey, apparently were fading out of the spotlight today. Townsfolk were certain that such proposals had been made but just who are the actual sponsors was not known.

Protests made by American Legion officials of Colorado were followed today by the statement of Mrs. Stella Sowards, Superintendent of Schools, that the proposals never had been brought before a School Board meeting. The movement originally was launched, she said, by citizens who wrote Dempsey, but, so far as could be learned, the champion did not reply.

THOUSANDS NOW IN SYRIAN BRIGAND BANDS

Rebels Gain Recruits From Refugees Leaving Damascus—French Rushing in Troops.

JERUSALEM, Palestine, Nov. 3.—One of the results of the French bombardment of Damascus is the addition of many recruits to the Druses.

The brigands in the country, who normally are numbered in hundreds, may now be counted by the thousands.

Nearly everyone in Damascus who has reason to fear the wrath of the French is quitting the city and joining the Druses or brigands to await a favorable opportunity to avenge the shelling of the city and the bombing of many villages, which the French are continuing relentlessly.

The rebels, incensed by the vigorous campaign the French have inaugurated, are determined to sack and massacre at every chance. Aware of this danger the French are pouring troops into Syria on an unprecedented scale, hoping to have 50,000 soldiers there shortly instead of 20,000.

Just now four bandit bands are operating. One is between Beirut and Damascus, endeavoring to cut off the road between these two places and engage the French troops concentrated at Damascus; the second, usually numbering 200 and are now probaly 1000, recently recruited many men from the villages the French destroyed; the third band has for its object an attack of the Christian villages; the fourth, which is the largest of all, is robbing unprotected villages.

CORDELL HULL GIVES NOTICE OF FIGHT ON TARIFF LAW

He and Oldfield Want Entire Act Revised; Green and Administration Don't.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Notice of a fight to revise the tariff act at the coming session of Congress was served yesterday by Representative Cordell Hull of Tennessee, former Democratic national chairman, who is a member of the Ways and Means Committee, which has charge of such legislation.

Hull announced that he and Representative Oldfield of Arkansas were prepared to offer a resolution proposing revision of the entire act.

The announcement drew a quick reply from Chairman Green of the committee, who said he would oppose any attempt to open the tariff question at this time. This also is the attitude of President Coolidge and most administration Republicans, who have a clear majority in the new House. Hull, however, said he was preparing a comprehensive program of revision and expected it to receive considerable support.

1925 Nobel Prizes to Be Withheld.

By the Associated Press.

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 3.—The newspaper Dagbladd says that all Nobel prizes will be withheld this year, at least all those depending on Swedish authority. Of the five Nobel prizes, four are awarded by Swedish organizations, those in physics and chemistry by the Swedish Academy of Science, that in medicine by the Stockholm Faculty of Medicine, and that in literature by the Swedish Academy of Literature. The Nobel peace prize is awarded by a committee of five persons elected by the Norwegian Storthing.

ITALY POOR IN RESOURCES, RICH IN WORK CAPACITY

In These Words Head of Debt Mission Describes Condition of His Country.

POINTS OUT HEAVY BURDEN OF NATION

Secretary Mellon, Opening Negotiations, Says He Is Sure Commission Will Come to Terms.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Formal discussion of the funding of the $2,138,542,873 Italian debt to the United States was in abeyance today, to permit the American commission members to study until tomorrow's session, the 21 documents bearing on the problem which Count Volpi, Italian Finance Minister, presented yesterday at the first joint session.

President and Mrs. Coolidge will entertain members of both commissions tonight at a White House dinner.

Felicitations which opened yesterday's gathering were quickly followed by consideration of Italy's financial and economic status.

Secretary Mellon informed the visitors that his Government would ask but "a just settlement that will insure economic peace," bearing in mind the Italian capacity to pay.

"We will, I am sure," he said, "come to terms which will be within Italy's power to fulfill without undue pressure on her people and which will recognize the sacrifices made by the American taxpayer in the advances of our Treasury."

Count Volpi, the Italian Finance Minister, replied that he recognized that the American policy of holding a nation's capacity to pay as the basis for settlement was a proper one, and added:

"In determining the capacity of a nation, the report of the Dawes Commission has shown two principal elements—first, the capacity to collect in a country the necessary money from its people, and second, the transfer of the money, collected in the national currency, to the creditor country in the currency of the latter."

Rich in Capacity to Work.

Count Volpi predicted that a larger field for fruitful economic relations would be developed by a settlement of the debt question. While Italy is poor in resources, it is rich in capacity to work and to produce, he said, and the development "to which the United States has contributed" throughout the world will again be evidenced in his country.

The 21 documents which the Italian Finance Minister presented embodied data from governmental and economic sources. The American group has secured independent information.

Count Volpi's monograms survey Italy's war burdens and human tolls, her taxation, lack of raw materials, population growth and unfavorable trade balance.

Italy's Heavy War Burden.

General statements as indicative of his country's position were submitted by Volpi as follows:

"Italy's burden in the war was equal to 30 per cent of her total national wealth. She lost 652,000 men, and 458,000 of her youths were disabled.

"Italy received no valuable colonies out of the war.

"Italy's share of reparations is 10 per cent as against 52 per cent allowed to France and 22 per cent to Great Britain.

"Italy by immense sacrifices has balanced her budget, reduced her governmental expenditures, and is the only great Power whose military expenditures today are less than they were before the war.

"Italy has been the only nation to tax war profits at 100 per cent and to levy a capital tax.

"The burden of taxation in Italy, taking into acount the national wealth and the national income, is higher than that of any other country—38 per cent of her net income after deducting a minimum of subsistence.

"Italy has none of the principal raw materials. She must import food and all her requirements in oil, coal, cotton, iron and copper.

"With her constantly increasing population it is doubtful if Italy's industrial development keeps pace with the increased demands of her population.

"Italy's balance of trade always has been adverse. During the last nine months the exported 13,000,000,000 of lire and imported 20,000,000,000, a balance against her of 7,000,000,000 lire. During this period Italy imported from the United States 5,000,000,000 of lire and exported to the United States 1,331,000,000,000 of lire, that is to say her imports from America were nearly four times her exports to this country."

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

What Detroiters Drink.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

YOUR editorial, on Oct. 30, concerning Ontario's 4.4 beer, does not state the real reason for a falling off of sales of that commodity. Being a resident of Detroit I am in a position to give that reason.

In the first place, it is not true that most of the people drink "hootch," at least not where they can get good beer, as in Detroit. There is more beer sold in Detroit than there is whisky and "white mule." It is mostly wholesome brewery beer, manufactured in Canada. Its alcoholic content is 9 per cent as contrasted with Canada's nearly nearbeer of 4.4 potency. Hence most people living in Detroit prefer to visit someone of the city's 5000 saloons or purchase a case from their bootlegger rather than travel to Windsor for an inferior grade of beverage.

And in the second place, the people of Canada were never beer drinkers as in Michigan and most of the states. They drink strong liquor and are getting all they want of that now from government dispensaries.

Wheeler's statement that 4.4 Canadian beer is "poor stuff" is the bunkum. Having tasted thereof I can testify contrarywise. But the crux of the argument against Canada's 4.4 is that the prohibitionists are afraid that Ontario's experiment will react unfavorably in the States for their cause.

It has been my experience that where the people get good liquor there is less drunkenness, and where the liquor is poor there is more inebriety.

Perhaps 4.4 beer, which is nearly near, will not satisfy prohibition America, but there is nothing like experimenting along these lines. Any improvement, any step away from the intolerable conditions under which we are living, is to be welcomed. Prohibition is not working. Perhaps a "beer and light wine" regime will work.

Killing Quail Out of Season.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

AMONG all animals in creation there are some who play "hog." Could you, through your paper, help to put the fear into these fellows who go hunting and are killing quail now? Last Saturday and the Saturday before I saw quail killed, and the season does not open until Nov. 10. It is being done by hunters who go in gangs and are doing it just across the city limits. They come from their homes on foot, which is nearby, and don't expose themselves to wardens on the open roads like Lemay Ferry and Gravois road. Then there is the fellow who wants to train his dogs or limber them up for the coming season and accidentally kills one quail. Why should others wait until Nov. 10 to kill quail when some hunters are killing them now? Have the State Game Wardens stop these machines with hunters in them on the Gravois road city limits bridge and they will find dead quail on these hunters. I will close by stating that I am sure that quail are being killed now before the opening of the season, here along the Gravois road, every Saturday.

Tolerance Between Races.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

ON passing through St. Louis and Detroit on my way to Michigan from Texas, it pleased me immensely to see the cordiality which exists between the black and white races. Will the day ever arrive when such a beautiful and kindly spirit will be seen in Texas and other southern states. Which is the most Christ-like—the condition in the North or in the South—which is the most pleasing to the Father of us all? The Christian and public press would do well to discuss this great question. The negro race will not always remain under the white man's heel.

Extravagance and Home-Making.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

THE old-fashioned home has disappeared and like all evolutionary movements never will return exactly as of old. Why? Because the old-fashioned man has disappeared. Do you think any of those dear old heads of real homes spent money every day on such luxuries as baseball games and afternoon picture shows? The dear little wife, toiling at home to economize and save every cent, has gradually risen up in rebellion against modern man's extravagance and the master's (?) failure to shoulder financial responsibility.

All hail to Valentino if his motive was as ideal as you depict. But I suspect it was more comfortable for Valentino to escape the annoyance of jealousy rather than to build up an old-fashioned home.

A REBEL.

TRUTH VERSUS DISCIPLINE.

The courtmartial trying Col. William Mitchell, charged with conduct to the prejudice of good order and discipline in the army, has decided that Col. Mitchell may present evidence with regard to the truth of his charges against the air services, but that the truth will not affect the judgment of the court. The evidence he presents may work a mitigation of his offense, but the crux of the question of guilt is the violation of military order and discipline.

The point at issue in this trial is not whether Col. Mitchell has told the truth about the inefficiency of the air service, but whether he has told it publicly in such a manner as to prejudice good order and discipline. In short, military rank, regulation and discipline are put above efficiency.

Col. Mitchell charged the War and Navy Departments with incompetency, criminal neglect and almost treasonable conduct in the administration of the national defense. This is strong language. It may be that the language was injudicious, and that the charges are not couched in the respectful manner. But the vital question that concerns the army and navy and the American people is, are the charges true? Are they justified by the actual conditions existing in the army and navy?

If the charges are true, and a great deal of evidence has been submitted in support of them, showing incompetence, carelessness and ignorance in the handling of aviation, it is of vastly more importance to the army and navy and the American people that these conditions be corrected than that the man who had the courage to make them public so that public attention might be directed to the intolerable conditions, be punished for disrespect to his superiors.

We are not defending Col. Mitchell's language, but we are emphasizing the importance of the duty to discover whether his charges were justified, over any question of mere military order and discipline.

It is necessary to know the background of Col. Mitchell's charges to understand why he decided to speak out roughly with regard to existing conditions in the air service. He spoke publicly and roughly because he had failed utterly to accomplish anything by the regular order of procedure. For several years he has attempted to get the intolerable conditions remedied and to have suggestions making for efficiency adopted, without success. The cordon of red tape, like a wire entanglement, was too thick and strong to be broken through by regular procedure. Rank, rule, incompetence, ignorance and inertia high up offered a solid bulwark against reforms and needed changes coming from lower down. Col. Mitchell was not alone in his labors to redeem and strengthen the air service. He was backed by nearly all the practical air men. But old-fogyism, fortified by rank and rule and red tape, were too strong for the younger, lower officers in the new arm and what has turned out to be the most important arm of the service.

If the courtmartial ignores altogether the truth of the charges and judges Col. Mitchell solely on the language in which he couched the truth, it will be a notice to all army and naval officers that they must keep their mouths shut and submit to their ranking officers, no matter what effect the decisions of ranking incompetence and ignorance may have upon the adequacy and efficiency of national defense and the safety of the men engaged in the most dangerous arm of military service in times of peace or war.

Col. Mitchell's charge with regard to the Shenandoah has exposed the inefficiency of higher-ups in the navy, including the Secretary. His other charges have brought out strong evidence of inefficiency, neglect and ignorance in handling the air service. They have exposed conditions in the service affecting efficiency and the morale of the men and safety of aviators, which demand immediate correction.

Whether Col. Mitchell is found guilty or not, the charges cannot be disposed of by disciplining him. Whether his plan for a separate air department is good or bad, under whatever plan must be adopted, the air service must be corrected. The issue is far beyond and above the question of Col. Mitchell's disrespectful language or the preservation of order and military discipline by gagging men who go up in the air under orders and upon whom the adequacy of the national defense depends.

Col. Mitchell has taken his military life in his hands to say what he wanted to say. He may suffer for it. But his sacrifice ought not to be in vain. The air service must be cleaned up and put on an efficient basis.

CHILDREN AND A STORK.

Another sign of the unrest and revolt against conventions which seem to characterize this sprightly age bobbed up at Vietze, Germany, the other day. A stork came down to earth and followed children to school. All traditions are topsy-turvy in the village now. The ancient, revered connection between storks and children has been severed. For centuries the stork's business, as far as children are concerned, was supposed to end at a pre-school age. This particular stork, by forsaking his rightful place in childhood's story, has ruined a pretty fable. Not content with this, the villainous bird is trying to steal the place held by Mary's lamb.

If a stork follows children to school, what may the youngsters of Vietze expect next? There's simply no telling. Maybe Santa Claus will turn up on Easter and rabbits will take care of the Christmas trade. These are trying times.

KU KLUX TEST IN DETROIT.

The result of today's mayoralty election in Detroit will be a test of the strength the Ku Klux Klan can develop in the politics of a great city, after planning for a year and importing many of its strongest wire-pullers from other states where it has been more or less successful.

The Detroit contest is between the present Mayor, John W. Smith, a Catholic, up for re-election, with a good record, and Charles Bowles, a comparatively unknown attorney, who ran on a "sticker" ticket for Mayor a year ago, and has the support of the klan.

In this fight the klan has not only abandoned the use of its masks, hoods and robes, but has announced that it is now friendly to the Jewish and negro citizens, making its attack solely on the Catholic element, on the ground that that element secretly adheres to a foreign Power and is not 100-per-cent American.

In view of the fact that Detroit was founded by French Catholics, whom its citizens delight to honor, regardless of religious affiliations or party, and that there are more Catholic churches in the city than those of any other faith, the presumption of the klan leaders is obvious. If Detroit, the fourth city in population, goes klan, it would indeed astound the country and the world. Such an outcome is unthinkable.

TODAY'S ELECTIONS.

Interesting election news will be written today and, perhaps, political history will be made. In Detroit and Buffalo, which are electing Mayors, the klan is reported to be striving desperately to re-establish its waning political power. The hooded organization is also a factor in the Indianapolis contest, as well as in a number of smaller Indiana cities. In New York it seems to be a foregone conclusion that Walker, the Democratic candidate, will win decisively over his Republican opponent, Waterman.

The people of New York State, however, will pass upon the most important question submitted to popular judgment today. That is the question of the proposed bond issues in behalf of which Gov. Smith has stumped the State. Those issues aggregate $400,000,000, of which $300,000,000 will be expended in eliminating grade crossings. Republican leaders are fighting this proposal, principally on the ground that such a sum would inevitably lead to extravagance, though much of this opposition, it is said, is inspired by partisan determination to prevent Gov. Smith from winning the credit of this achievement and the increased prestige which would accrue to him. The stanchly Republican New York Sun is supporting the bond proposals.

Regardless of New York's decision on this question today it is patent that the grade crossing must go. It is a menace which the automobile age cannot tolerate. New York, with its great wealth, is pre-eminently the State to head the movement. If it lacks the courage to respond to its Governor's vision it will have forfeited an opportunity which some other State will grasp. And once the work of eliminating grade crossings is undertaken on a State scale other States will follow such leadership.

A FAMILIAR AROMA.

A special Federal grand jury has indicted Col. Thomas W. Miller, former Alien Property Custodian, and others on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the United States Government in connection with the release by the Alien Property Custodian of $7,000,000 of assets of the American Metal Co. Col. Miller has issued an emphatical denial of his guilt and announces he will withhold his defense until the case is tried in court.

While we are without knowledge of the evidence upon which the grand jury acted, there are certain particulars of the case which have a familiar aroma. The grand jury's report declared, for instance, that Miller, John T. King, former Republican National Committeeman from Connecticut, and the late Jesse Smith, alter ego of Harry Daugherty, arranged the release of the sequestered assets for a total consideration of $441,000.

The public, in view of recent history, is not likely to accept without a good deal of explanation any deal in which the notorious Jesse Smith was involved. It awaits with interest further developments in this latest echo of a political regime whose ramifications seem endless.

OUR NEGLECTED RIVER FRONT.

The statement of Dr. W. J. Mayo, the famous surgeon, that St. Louis' river front is the worst he has seen in his frequent trips up and down the Mississippi, must not be dismissed as unworthy of notice by St. Louisans. Dr. Mayo knows what he is talking about when he says:

> Your city doesn't seem to care about its river and shows it in an obviously neglected levee, while every other city to the north and south at least shows signs of attempted beautification and many cities, such as La Crosse, Wis., have extremely beautiful parks adorning the water front.

He called attention to the dumping of rubbish all along the central levee, befouling the river, as another evidence of the city's neglect of this great stream which was once gay with fine passenger boats and alive with the constant loading and unloading of freight—the most active and frequented part of the city. Today the citizen shuns the levee and cares not that the great river, which helped in such large measure to create values here, has become a backdoor dump.

It is a question not only of civic pride that this shall be changed, but of commercial and industrial progress. Shall we wait for the improvement of the river front until all the other contemplated improvements under the bond issue have been completed? That will mean several years of continued neglect.

The suggestion that a strong voluntary organization, of those interested in the river front, be formed, to keep interest alive and take steps for legislation at the proper time, is a good one. The property owners, who would be benefited to the tune of untold millions, should neglect no means to get an adequate plan, in keeping with the new spirit of the city, started.

MR. ANTWINE'S OPINION.

"The most interesting thing I have seen in some time is the theory of Dr. E. E. Free, editor of the Scientific American, that the region in which we live was formerly part of the colonial empire of the Mayas," Mr. Antwine said.

"He thinks the Mayas, like the Romans and ourselves, had a great empire, the seat of which was in the southern country where the Maya cities were built. They were interested in this country, so he believes, because of the pearl fisheries in North American streams and the copper mines in the region of Lake Superior. The Mayas used copper extensively, and they greatly prized pearls. The fresh water or pearl-bearing mussels occurred in great profusion all over the eastern half of the United States. Pearls were the gems of the Mayas, as pearls and turquoise were the gems and precious stone of the later American Indians, and money and Jack Daniel whisky are our own kohinoors.

"Dr. Free thinks it was the Mayas who built our so-called Indian mounds. That is, the colonial governors sent up from Yucatan and Central America brought with them the engineering, architecture and religion of the southern country. This explains why all our great mounds, such as those across the river from St. Louis, are identical with such structures south of the Rio Grande. It seems a better theory than the old belief that before going into the southern country the mound builders developed their earlier culture here.

"Probably if we think of the Mayas as empire builders we will be able to respect them more than we have respected them heretofore as mere builders of temples and of cities. Empire building is about all we can claim for ourselves," Mr. Antwine said.

Low-down upon our earth, by Prof. Horace Mann, Cambridge, mathematics:

> Age—"definitely between one and 10 billion years" as estimated by timing the decomposition of uranium and other radioactive elements. Structure—a hades-hot metallic core, rigid as steel; then an envelope of viscous material, kept fluid by enormous pressure, not heat conducting, having faint tides, upon which the earth's crust "floats." The elasticity of the envelope which is 60 miles beneath the crust, and the core's rigidity, had been deduced from studying waves of force in earthquake shocks.

If our fundamentalists could lay hands upon him, he would find himself in a Tennessee of doubt about where he is going to get his bread and butter, anyway.

Evidently the government is out to land every man Jack Daniel of them.

ISLAND DAWN.

I can't remember when it was
Except that it was long ago—
I only know we saw the lake
And felt the curling dawn-winds blow,
Watched cool waves hurry to and fro.

But I recall there was a bond
In waning stars that fluttered down,
How shadows woke and crept away,
A budding sun that bloomed to crown
The hills behind the island town.

Sir: The more I read about our friend, Mohammed Ben Abd-el-Krim, the better I like him. To begin with, he has taught his people to have no illusions and fine frenzies about war. There is no George Creel press in the Riff country, and folks there think the enemy is just about as good and as bad as they. Furthermore, M. Krim has set forth his rights and claims and backed them up rather convincingly. We observe no like gesture on the part of the Spanish or French gentlemen.

We are inclined to give three whoops and a ringing huzzah for the sort of a chap who says he will keep on as long as the enemy has guns to lose. We would like to split with him our last bottle of Chartreuse or Moselle, we forget which, and wish him success, and slip him a couple of million we wish we had made in Florida real estate, with the cheerful admonition to go ahead and lick the tar out of the big blubs that spend so much time preaching what they never have any intention of practicing.

Adois. I think that is M. Arata on the phone.

INNOCENT BYSTANDER.

Why not organize a society for keeping Lem Motlow out of the news? We have been observing Lem's newspaper career, and we have yet to discover anything creditable to him or seeming to explain the devotion to him upon the part of home folk down in Tennessee. We must conclude that Lem's genius does not lie in newsmaking. He certainly could not have succeeded as a distiller had he been as inexpert at whiskey-making as he is at newsmaking.

Recently we suggested that a viaduct be built over Indiana so we can pass that way without going through the state until the people over there recover their reason. Maybe this Associated Press dispatch from Goshen will make the point a little clearer:

> A. E. Kundred, gladiolus grower of Goshen, has been banned from the strict orthodox church he attended. The church cast out Mr. Kundred because authorities decided that in hybridizing his gladiola to produce new varieties he was interfering with the divine scheme of things.

Since the state is so narrow, it would not take a very long viaduct.

ANZIA YEZIERSKA.

From the St. Joseph News-Press.

AN almost incredible story is that of an immigrant, Anzia Yezierska. She entered this country with no knowledge of English and no education in her native tongue. • • • By working in sweatshops and at other forms of drudgery all day and by studying English all night and by sacrificing sleep, food, clothing, shelter and health, she has now won distinction as a novelist. At one time in her fight for a living she went to a famous New York hotel to get a job at scrubbing or as a scullion, but her clothes and general appearance caused her rejection. Not many years after she went to the same hotel as guest of honor at a literary banquet. According to her own story, she was on the point of committing suicide because her book, "Hungry Hearts," a collection of short stories, did not sell. Famished and with rent overdue, she came to her poor room in the New York slums to write a farewell letter to an unfeeling world when she found on her table a telegram offering her $10,000 for the movie rights of the book. • • • Her story is an exaggerated form of America's usual answer to the malcontent. He has here the opportunity to make good if the stuff is in him. He may not attain the meteoric rise to fame and fortune that characterized Anzia Yezierska, but he can win a place for himself among those who live in comfort and contentment.

THE PRINCE OF WALES.

From the Fargo Forum.

THE peregrinating Prince of Wales has returned to his native hearth. • • • He has covered Africa and South America, has met all the eligible young maidens en route, has danced with them and turned their heads, and is now home for England's great pageantry of royal hijinks. He is still young and handsome and still without a wife. His return home is the cue for all the ambitious mothers in the moulding palaces of Europe to awake their daughters for the great parade. Queen Marie, the wistful and sad ruler of Rumania, will bedeck her youthful daughter in all the finery of the court and start her out in front of the procession. There will be other glorious princesses, and many ladies of lesser rank. There will be a whole section of fair ones without royal designation and royal blood, and one likes to think that the prince will cast longing eyes on them.

SELF-RESPECT.

From the Houston Chronicle.

"THERE are two persons in the world whose respect I desire above all others," said a man the other day. "The first is myself, the other my wife. When I respect myself I am what I am, I am pretty sure of pleasing my wife also."

When you get to the point where you can respect yourself because you know that your thoughts, words and deeds are worthy of respect, you will not worry about what others think of you, nor will you regret that you are not popular with certain people. Conducting yourself to win your own self-esteem, your are bound to surround yourself with a class of friends who, while they may be few, will be worthwhile.

DEATH ENDS 32-YEAR SERVICE OF DR. JORDAN

City Hospital Commissioner Succumbs to Cancer at the Age of 60.

A career of 32 years in the public health service of the City of St. Louis was ended by the death of Dr. German Alexander Jordan, Hospital Commissioner, yesterday afternoon. Dr. Jordan had suffered from cancer for more than a year, and was last at his office, in the Municipal Courts building, late in the summer. He was 60 years old.

The funeral, at Christ Church Cathedral at 2 p. m. tomorrow, will be attended by city officials and many friends. The body will lie in state in the cathedral from 11 a. m. tomorrow until the time of the funeral.

From 1908 to 1921, as assistant health commissioner, Dr. Jordan had charge of the detailed execution of many measures for protection of the public against disease. His most conspicuous service was during the prevalence of influenza in 1919. Dr. Jordan's activity was continuous.

He worked for improved methods of protection against smallpox, and to check medical fakers and illegal practitioners. He fostered new health ordinances. He wrote articles, warning the public against unsanitary practices and exposure to possible sources of infection, and many of these were printed as weekly health talks by this paper.

Obtained M. D. in 1888.

He obtained his M. D. degree from Washington University Medical Schol in 1888, and in the same year he was appointed a member of the staff of city vaccine physicians. Later he became an assistant physician of the City Dispensary, and from 1895 to 1903 he was chief physician of the Dispensary, which was located in the old City Hall building at Eleventh and Market streets. During that time he was a consultant of the City Hospital and other city institutions on skin, contagious and infectious diseases, and for three years was in charge of the Isolation Hospital.

He resigned in 1903 to engage in private practice, but returned to the city's service in 1908, when he was made Assistant Health Commissioner. He was promoted to the office of Hospital Commissioner in June, 1921, succeeding Dr. Cleveland H. Shutt. The appointment was made by Director Cunliff, head of the Department of Public Welfare under the Kiel administration, and Dr. Jordan was reappointed last spring by Director Salisbury, Mayor Miller's appointee.

Daughter Survives.

As Hospital Commissioner, he has been in charge of the two city hospitals, the City Sanitarium, Koch Hospital, the City Infirmary and the Isolation Hospital.

Dr. Jordan lived at 4159 Lindell boulevard, and his death occurred there. He is survived by a daughter, Eglantine Celeste, his wife having died in 1898, a year and a half after their marriage. A sister, Mrs. Sallie Chandler, lived with Dr. and Miss Jordan.

6000 YOUTHS TO TAKE PART IN BOY SCOUT EXPOSITION

Troop From Missouri School for Blind to Be Among Contestants at Armory.

Over 6000 Boy Scouts will advertise the Boy Scout Merit Badge Exposition, tomorrow when by special permission they will wear their Boy Scout uniform to school. The exposition is to be under the auspices of the Rotary Club at the Armory, Grand boulevard and Market street, Friday evening and Saturday afternoon and evening.

Public and parochial schools and institutions will send troops of boys to take part in the Armory events. A troop of boys from the Missouri School for the Blind will be among the interesting contestants in the Armory show, these boys fulfilling all Scout duties and entering into all activities with no handicap asked or allowed on account of their blindness.

BURIAL OF MRS. DORMITZER

Funeral services for Mrs. Charles Dormitzer, 77 years old, who died at her home, 5736 Page boulevard, late Sunday of heart disease, will be held from the Wagoner undertaking establishment, 3621 Olive street, at 2:30 o'clock today. Interment will be in the Bellefontaine Cemetery.

Mrs. Dormitzer was a member of the old Germaine Club, and took part in a number of dramatic enterprises during the last century. She is survived by seven children: Mrs. William Merryweather, Paul Dormitzer, Mrs. Paul H. Krech, Mrs. A. I. MacKinnon, Miss Olive Dormitzer, Mrs. A. L. McCreary and Stanley Dormitzer. There are three grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Seven Mayors to Welcome Speaker.

Morris Anderson, Mayor of Hannibal, Mo., will be the principal speaker at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon tomorrow, his topic being "The Romance of the Up-Stater." He will be welcomed by seven other Mayors, including Mayor Victor J. Miller of St. Louis, Mayor M. M. Stephens, East St. Louis; Mayor J. H. Lackland, St. Charles; Mayor J. B. Chipman, Webster Groves; Mayor A. O. Cunningham, University City; Mayor J. M. Jensen, Richmond Heights, and Mayor Eugene Burke, Maplewood.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Paul Wittgenstein, Austrian pianist, whose right arm was shot off in the World War, played a special composition for the left hand with the Philharmonic Orchestra, directed by William Furtwaengler, last night before a crowded house.

The offering, a concerto entitled "Parergon to the Symphonia Domestica," was composed by Richard Strauss especially for Wittgenstein.

Coolidges Forego Army-Navy Game

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Two trips to New York in 10 days, President Coolidge has decided, is too much for a busy man, and as a result he and Mrs. Coolidge will not see the annual Army-Navy football classic at the Polo Grounds Nov. 28. The President has accepted an invitation to address the banquet of the New York State Chamber of Commerce Nov. 19, this engagement taking precedence over the football game.

Social Activities

MISS ELIZABETH DOUGLASS, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Douglass of 16 Vandeventer place, will make her first bow to society this afternoon at a tea at their home. Several hundred guests have been invited for 4 o'clock to meet the debutante, including a large coterie of the buds themselves and many of her mother's friends.

Memories of an earlier social life in St. Louis will be recalled as the guests enter the dining room of the Douglass home, for the room will be lighted entirely by the glow from yellow candles in gleaming old silver candelabra, and the Finney silver, which once belonged to the maternal great-grandmother of the young honor guest, will adorn the beautifully appointed tea table. Gold chrysanthemums will add color to the scene. The debutantes serving will be the Misses Eugenie Edmunds, Lillie Allen, Elizabeth Cuendet, Louise Church, Maud Streett, Agnes Benoist, Katharine McCluney, Josephine Bates and her guest, Miss Helen Abell Conley.

Miss Juliet Lee Carpenter will receive with Mrs. Douglass and her daughter in the drawing-room, in a bower of blossoms. Miss Douglass will wear white velvet and carry yellow roses and Miss Carpenter green satin.

A group of Mrs. Douglass' friends, invited to assist without hats, will include the Mmes. Edward Carpenter, George Fox Steedman, Edwin H. Steedman, Lansing Ray, Sterling Edmunds, Albert T. Terry, Richard T. Shelton, James Brookmire, Howard Benoist, Samuel C. McCluney and Stewart McDonald.

Miss Douglass is a graduate of Mary Institute and the Westover School in Connecticut.

Mrs. James H. Brookmire of New York is visiting her mother, Mrs. Samuel Kennard of 4 Portland place.

The second party to be given by Mr. and Mrs. John H. Douglass for their debutante daughter, Miss Elizabeth, will be a dinner dance the evening of Wednesday, Dec. 2 at their home.

Mrs. Douglass and her daughter will depart Thursday of this week for the East. They will attend the Princeton-Harvard and Yale-Princeton football games, and will visit friends in Philadelphia and Wilmington, Del., returning in ten days.

Miss Janet Wallace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon B. Wallace of the Price road, will make her formal debut at a dinner dance at the St. Louis Country Club the evening of Dec. 4, to be given by her parents. Miss Wallace attended Mary Institute and was graduated at the Holton Arms School in Washington, D. C. She is a younger sister of Mrs. Marion Niedringhaus, who, until recently, was Miss Grace Wallace.

Mrs. Festus J. Wade of 4532 Lindell boulevard and his son, Festus J. Wade Jr., are spending 10 days in French Lick Springs, Ind.

Mrs. Louis H. Egan of Brentmoor, president of the Vassar Club of St. Louis, and Miss Louise Woodruff of 4 Kingsbury place, are arranging for a rummage sale to be held Nov. 5 and 6. The following young women have been appointed committee heads: Miss Beatrice Morse and Mrs. Luther Avon Blue Jr., Mrs. Robert O. Meyer and Mrs. W. Ridgeley Young.

MISS HORTENSE NELSON.

MISS NELSON, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Nelson, will become the bride the evening of Nov. 11 of Ervin C. Hartman, at the home of her parents, 1 Aberdeen place. The ceremony will be performed at 8 o'clock by Father O'Connor of Our Lady of Lourdes Church.

Mr. Carlos F. Hurd and his daughter, Miss Emily Hurd of 5653 Vernon avenue, have returned from a visit to Washington, New York and New Haven, where they attended the Yale-Army game Saturday.

An unusual social diversion next week will be the exhibition of a mineature art gallery of old English prints, by Thomas Shotter Boys and Joseph Nash, hand-colored and dating from 1837 to 1841, by Mrs. Lida V. Bevis from Nov. 9 to 14, in the English room of Marx and Jones galleries. Mrs. Bevis and Mrs. G. Lacy Crawford have just returned from Europe, where they have spent the past eight months in travel, and brought the prints to St. Louis with them. A number of Mrs. Bevis' friends will assist. Mrs. Bevis and Mrs. Crawford have taken an apartment at the Forest Park Hotel.

Miss Helene Muetze, who is attending the University of Missouri will come to St. Louis Nov 6 to spend a few days with her parents Dr. and Mrs. Christian Muetze, and attend the Missouri-Washington football game. Miss Muetze is a pledge to the Chi Omega sorority.

The Wednesday Club will present at its special meeting, Wednesday, at 3 o'clock, Miss Ruth Rose, historian of the famous Beebe Expedition, who will speak on "The Cruise of the Arcturus." Miss Rose has accompanied Dr. Beebe on several expeditions among which was the one to the Galapagos Islands of the equatorial Pacific. She will tell of the fauna and flora peculiar to these islands and will illustrate her story with moving pictures. Mrs. Hermann von Schrenk, second vice president and chairman of the special program committee, will preside.

PAGEANT CHORAL SOCIETY REHEARSALS BEGIN THURSDAY

Members of the Pageant Choral Society will begin rehearsals Thursday night at the Musicians' Club, 3535 Pine boulevard, for a Christmas concert which this organization and the Symphony Orchestra will give on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 27. Persons wishing to become members of the Choral Society may enroll at the first rehearsal.

The chorus, under the direction of Frederick Fischer, will give two ensembles from "The Messiah," two Christmas carols, and a cantata, "The Story of Christmas," by H. Alexander Matthews. It is scored for four solo voices, chorus and orchestra.

The Symphony Orchestra's individual contribution will be the Pastoral Symphony from "The Messiah."

By RICHARD L. STOKES.

FORTY-SEVEN minutes from Grand Central Station lies Homecrest, a metropolis of Suburbia in which many people live and die, and you can scarcely tell which is which. This is the scene of a comedy entitled "The Lady Next Door," the charm and freshness of which, as well as the pungency, are endearing it to audiences this week at the American.

The work has a not uninteresting history. In its original avatar, it was a Saturday Evening Post story by Mrs. Dorothy Parker, who writes with relish of the inarticulate heart-throbs and humors of the yokelry. She turned it into a play with the aid of Elmer Rice, who, in "The Adding Machine," depicted the eternal comedy of the moron.

Arthur Hopkins produced it, and the New York critics performed rataplans of eulogy on their drums. Only one thing was lacking—the public refused to rally. The receipts for one matinee were $90. The comedy had a run of almost record brevity, and was withdrawn in a few days. But another producer purchased it and presented it in Chicago. The populace of the Windy City took the outcast to its bosom for an engagement of four months.

The Eternal Quadrangle.

In adjoining duplicate houses, somewhere in Homecrest, live the Grahams and the Sheridans. Ed Graham, a scrubby clerk, rejoices in a wife of fanatical domesticity and a small, most unpleasant daughter. Upon him descends periodically a plague in the form of his wife's strong-minded sister, Mrs. Towseley, a firm advocate of the subjection of husbands. Together they have reformed him. He no longer dances or goes to the movies. His homely dissipations have been quelled. His pipe fumes no more in the parlor, and his adored mandolin has lain for a year mute.

Mrs. Sheridan was formerly an actress. That is, in a Winter Garden show, she had the part in "The Rowing Girl" in one of those "dream pictures" wherein a man beholds a parade of all his sweethearts issue from the fireplace. Three years ago she gave up art to marry Bert Sheridan, who turns out a wastrel and brute.

The brow-beaten husband and the unhappy wife next door are drawn together. For a brief moment the transfiguring flame of romance plays about their heads. Graham touches her heart by remembering that she likes cigarettes, and producing a package at a moment of dearth. She, in turn, makes him comfortable with sofa pillows and Scotch highballs, actually lights his pipe for him, and plays a piano accompaniment for his appalling mandolin transcription of the "Blue Danube" waltz. Graham completes the conquest by turning her husband with violence out of doors.

Nerve Broken—But Not Quite.

It really seems for a time as if these simple and destined souls are to enjoy together the suburban tastes they have in common. The woman is resolute, and Graham goes so far as to take his valise from the closet. But at the moment of elopement, his spirit fails. Thirteen years of connubial routine fetter him to the hearthstone. Mrs. Sheridan departs alone to resume her profession, while her humble knight, fired by his lady's kiss, sets about putting his house in order.

"Bang!" goes the pipe against the sacred table, and ashes strew the carpet. Forth into space caroms Mrs. Towseley. "Sister's" yelps of consternation and pain, under the paternal slipper, shrill pleasantly backstage. Mrs. Graham flutters about, in mingled terror and fascination. The mandolin comes from its cover, and the curtain falls to defiant tinklings of Strauss.

The comedy, while by no means a work of eminence, is deftly constructed and cleverly written. A brawl between the slangy ex-chorus girl and her sarcastic, weary husband, in the second act, is a little masterpiece of the kind. Also the cast is excellent, with special commendation for Mr. Spottswood, Miss McKay, Miss Macks and Mr. Van Voorhis.

300 EXAMPLES OF WORK OF SARGENT IN EXHIBITION

By the Associated Press.

BOSTON, Nov. 3.—More than 300 examples of the work of John Singer Sargent, said to constitute a record number for a single exhibition of the work of one artist, were placed on view at the Boston Museum of Fine Arts today as a memorial to the painter.

At the same time 18 new mural decorations in the lobby of the Museum building, among the last work completed by Sargent before his death in London several months ago, were unveiled. The murals were shipped to Boston by Sargent shortly before his death.

Sargent treasures have been loaned for the memorial exhibition by private owners in many parts of country and in England, as well as museums and other institutions.

NOTED POLISH ARTIST DIES

Jan V. de Chelminski Succumbs in New York at 69.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Jan V. de Chelminski, painter of royalty, died of pneumonia yesterday at his home, in his sixty-ninth year.

Born in Warsaw, he received his first training there and was later a pupil of the military painter, Franz Adam of Munich. His portrait of Louis II of Bavaria brought him his first recognition. He later painted members of royalty of several countries. Hunting and military pictures also were his forte, the most celebrated of the latter being his "The Retreat From Russia."

Manchurian Troops Advance.

By the Associated Press.

NANKING, Nov. 3.—Reports received here indicate that Marshal Chang Tso-Lin's Manchurian troops, advancing south from Hsuchow, have captured Pengpu, on the railroad about 100 miles south of Hsuchow, where the Chekiang forces of Gen. Sun Chuan-Fang were concentrating. Gen. Sun appears to have established a new defense line at Mingkwang about 20 miles below Pengpu.

"Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has entirely relieved me of constipation," writes grateful father

The ravages of constipation can be promptly stopped. Here is signed evidence.

Mr. Hunt's case is typical of thousands of others who have found habit-forming pills and drugs of no avail in seeking permanent relief from constipation. Read this interesting letter:

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has entirely relieved me of constipation. Before I started using ALL BRAN I was a regular guy in taking pills—always getting something to bring relief. Now I never touch them. I fully recommend it to anyone to relieve constipation as you advertise on the package. My daughter also eats ALL BRAN and I can see her health improve.

(Signed) S. V. HUNT, Aurora, Ill.

You can get permanent relief from constipation with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN if eaten regularly—two tablespoonfuls daily, or in chronic cases, with every meal. Doctors recommend it because it is a bulk food which sweeps the intestine clean, stimulates digestion and normal, healthy action.

Eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN with milk or cream, or try the recipes given on the package. If eaten regularly, it is guaranteed to bring relief or the grocer returns the purchase price. Made in Battle Creek, Michigan. Served by leading hotels and restaurants. Sold by grocers.

MAYOR MILLER BACK AT DESK AFTER HUNT

Says "Two More" Ought to Have Been Indicted in Whisky Case.

Mayor Miller returned to his desk today after his second vacation of the year—a ten-day hunting trip with a party in Canada. His ruddy appearance testified to benefits of the outing, while an expansive smile, his intimate friends said, was traceable to his feats of the chase.

For, while no big game was tracked down, it was the mayor's gun which brought into camp a fine buck deer, while the best the combined efforts of the other hunters was to bag five does. In addition, the party brought down a large number of ducks and small game.

The party arrived in St. Louis at 1:30 p. m. yesterday over the Wabash from Detroit, returning from a hunting lodge at MacGregor's Bay, owned by Edward Bridges, president of the Bridges Asphalt Paving Co. They came in the private car of Henry Miller, president of the Terminal Railroad Association, which had been lent through another member of the party, John Fitzgerald, superintendent of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad, and a director of the Terminal.

As the train halted in the sheds, porters removed the carcasses of the deer, which had been stacked on the observation platform. Their disposition by their respective owners was not announced, but it was said the skins probably would be preserved. As to the bountiful supply of venison steaks—well, nothing was said about that.

Several personal friends met the mayor at the station and apprised him of the action of the Federal grand jury at Indianapolis in indicting 22 St. Louisans in the Jack Daniel whisky case. He asked interestedly for the names of those indicted, and when informed, remarked that there ought to be "two more." He then departed for his home.

The party, besides those mentioned, included Adrian W. Frazier, president of the Frazier-Davis Construction Co.; C. A. Homer, vice president of the Missouri Portland Cement Co.; G. Locke Tarlton, owner of the Central Paving Co., the Missouri Paving Co. and other paving companies in East St. Louis; Lon W. Harlow, local manager of the Southern Surety Co.; Frederick Pitzman of the Pitzman Surveying and Engineering Co. and his brother, Dr. Marsh Pitzman.

PERMITS FOR HOMES FOR 566 FAMILIES ISSUED IN OCTOBER

Buildings for which permits were issued last month were estimated to cost $3,408,124, as compared to $9,038,225 in October last year. The $5,000,000 Bell telephone building was included in the permits issued in October, 1924, however, and the total for the first 10 months of this year remains well above the total for that period last year.

Homes for 566 families were included in last month's permits. Structures for which permits were issued included 103 apartment buildings to cost a total of $858,500; 120 brick dwellings to cost $519,700; three stores to cost $245,000, and 89 frame dwellings to cost $197,400.

BOY WHO PICKED UP $27 IN PURSE GAVE PALS GOOD TIME

Lavish Expenditures for Ice Cream Cones Led to Recovery of $17.50 By Woman Who Lost It.

The lavish display of money by an eight-year-old boy living in the vicinity fo Fourteenth and Montgomery streets, where Mrs. Ethel Katz of 3936 Vest avenue lost a purse containing $27 last Saturday, resulted in recovery of $17.50 yesterday by detectives from the child and two companions to whom he had given a part of the money.

The boy said he found the purse and then proceeded to spend it, treating his friends to ice cream sodas and taking them to picture shows. Mrs. Katz declined to prosecute and the child's mother said his father would make good the $9.50 discrepancy.

Constant Dekeersgeeter Suffers Fractures of Skull and Right Leg and Ankle.

Constant Dekeersgeeter, 75 years old, of 2803 Semple avenue, suffered fractures of the skull and right leg and ankle at 7:05 p. m. yesterday when he was struck by an eastbound Cherokee street car as he ran in front of it from the north side at Gravois and Phillip avenues.

FLASK, NOT PISTOL, ON HIS HIP

Police Got Hurry Call From Woman That Man Was Armed.

Police, searching George Oberfeld, 55 years old, for a pistol that Mrs. Marie Kern told them she was in fear of last night, found, instead, a half-empty flask when they arrested him in Fountain Park.

Oberfeld gave his address as 4847 Fountain avenue, where Mrs. Kern lives. The arrest occurred when the police responded to a hurry call from Mrs. Kern. Oberfeld was charged with disturbing the peace, and held pending application for a liquor warrant.

2000 TURNED AWAY AT NEW YORK OPERA

Receipts for First Night of Metropolitan Set Record—Gowns in Silver Tones.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Opera is a great occasion for sartorial display but is appreciated without regard to raiment or social position. Society leaders in dazzling gowns, shop girls in the plainest of frocks and clerks in working clothes vied last night in applauding at the opening of the Metropolitan Opera.

Through a damp mist that beaded the bright lights of Broadway with thousands of crystal water drops, the capacity audience was on an equal for the night in common love for the music. Some were in array for the "Golden Horseshoe"; others in business clothes were glad of standing room; still others, unable to gain admission at no matter what price, buttoned up their collars against the penetrating rain and watched in envy the fortunate ticket holders stream in.

Chinese Mandarin Wraps.

Silver alone and toned into delicate shades of green and blue gave a glowing background to the parterre boxes and the dress circle despite the background of sombre dress suits worn by the men. East and west were represented in fashion and color, Chinese Mandarin wraps being possibly the most gay in color. One of the most striking of costumes was an all-white Colonial style full-length gown, reaching to the ankles, modernized by a short, black, boyish bob that its wearer affected. The bob, in fact, predominated, despite edicts and pronouncements of the beauty experts. Though here and there were elaborate coiffures of long hair, chiefly gray or white, the close bob was mostly in evidence. Feminine heads appeared cropped closer than ever and occasionally an almost mannish haircut presented itself. Elaborate hair ornaments were few.

Parisian gowns, by which the West was represented, were in soft pastel shades, still short and boyish and cut on slim lines. A few were long, but they were long in earnest, almost sweeping the ground. Pearls seemed to be the favored of jewels, harmonizing with the delicate tints of the dresses, and adding a softness and luster that would have been lost with diamond ornaments. Even shoes were silvered, making that color the predominating note throughout. Although opera night is not usually the night for the debutantes, many of the younger generation were present. They wore ermine wraps or light blue and velvets, further softened by fur.

Receipts Set New Figure.

"La Gioconda" was sung. Two of the three American women slated for leading roles were stricken with colds and were unable to appear. Rosa Ponselle sang the leading feminine part.

The receipts for the first night reached a new high figure, the management announced, with $16,000 taken in. This year's record was established through the increase in prices for orchestra seats and dress circle seats, which now stand at $7.50 and $4.50, respectively, without the tax. The advance subscription list for the year was announced at $1,800,000.

It was estimated that 2000 persons were turned away.

Jeanne Gordon, who was booked to sing the role of Laura, contracted a slight cold and lost her voice. She was replaced by Matzenauer an hour and a half before the curtain rose. Marion Telva was substituted for Merle Alcock.

To Celebrate Golden Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. William Eggers of 2215 South Seventh street will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary next Friday. Eggers was born in Braunschweig, Germany, in 1845, and came to this country at the age of 22. Mrs. Eggers was born in St. Louis 68 years ago.

DECISION ON NATURALIZATION

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—Federal Judge Wilkerson handed down a decision yesterday declaring in effect that an amended act of Congress providing that no alien citizenship within 30 days of an election, is indefinite and unenforceable.

He denied a motion of the Government to vacate the citizenship of Nicentio Ditorio. The decision is expected to affect thousands of aliens in Illinois. If the act is applied in its strictest sense, Judge Wilkerson held, no alien would be able to apply for his papers 11 months out of the year, as some election is likely to take place in any month.

Destroys the Germs That Infect the Gums

Bleeding Stops in 12 Hours—Soreness Disappears in 24 Hours—Pus Clears Up in 2 to 3 Days—and Infection Is Destroyed in Three to Four Weeks—Without Pain.

A pleasant tasting oil strongly fortified with germ destroying Creosote positively penetrates to the deepest infected areas and kills out tissue consuming Pyorrhea germs. Bleeding of gums stops completely in twelve hours; soreness and bad breath disappear in twenty-four hours; nasty pus clears up in two to three days; teeth begin to tighten in one week; poison secretions stop flowing the second week and if your Pyorrhea has not been completely eliminated in three to four weeks, get your money back.

Creo-sene derives its great curative powers from its ability to penetrate through healthy tissues without harm and carry germ destroying medication to the infected areas. Being an oil, it is not affected by the saliva. A thin coating of Creo-sene remains on the surface of the gums long enough to allow the medication to do its work thoroughly and effectively.

Creo-sene is the newest and most improved form of home treatment for Pyorrhea and infected gums. It completely banishes this terrible disease without pain or discomfort. Heavy dental bills and severe pains are avoided. It is sold on an absolute and positive guarantee of entire satisfaction, or money refunded by the druggist from whom purchased.

Sold by Wolff-Wilson Drug Co., Walgreen Drug Company, Enderle Drug Co. and all other local druggists, at $1.00 for a full size bottle, or will be sent direct from the laboratory on receipt of price. Address CREO-SENE COMPANY, Desk 3, Atlanta, Georgia.

$2,000,000 FUND FOR MUSICAL EDUCATION

Will of Theodore Presser Leaves Practically Entire Estate for This Cause.

By the Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 3.—Theodore Presser, music publisher and founder, owner and for years editor of "Etude," who died at his home here Oct. 28, left virtually all of his $2,000,000 estate to a fund he had established several years ago to the cause of musical education and to assist struggling musicians.

The will, filed yesterday, stipulated that the fortune, excepting a few bequests to relatives and employes, sall go to the Theodore Presser Foundation, which was created by the music publisher in 1916 to establish scholarships.

The will directs that the income from this trust fund shall "be applied in the discretion of my trustees to provide scholarships and loans for promising students whose educational courses include worthy instruction in music; increase the value of musical education as given in any present or future institution by creating suitable buildings for musical instruction exclusively, and to popularize the study of music and to encourage the choice of music as a profession; to administer emergency aid to worthy teachers of music in distress; to sustain a home for retired teachers of music in such a way as aforesaid trustees may determine."

Presser incorporated in the will his desire that the benefits of the foundations "be national in scope." At present the Theodore Presser Foundation supports 137 scholarships in colleges and universities in this country and the Theodore Presser Home for Retired Music Teachers.

MAN, SHOT SATURDAY NIGHT BY WOMAN, DIES IN HOSPITAL

Hugh Sweeney Said by Mrs. Margaret Seitz to Have Tried to Force Way Into Home.

Hugh M. Sweeney, 39 years old, of 3917 Lexington avenue, who was shot Saturday midnight by Mrs. Margaret Seitz of 3705A Garfield avenue, died of the wound at St. John's Hospital early today.

Sweeney, who had been arrested more than 40 times, threatened violence if he was not admitted to see Mrs. Marie Rickets, 28, a widow, daughter of Mrs. Seitz, according to the statement of Mrs. Seitz to the police. Mrs. Seitz, who is 50, shot Sweeney in front of her home.

Friday night Sweeney threw a brick through a window of the Seitz home and kicked in the front door, Mrs. Seitz declared. She said she feared he would have shot her and her daughter if he had gained admittance. Her bullet struck Sweeney in the abdomen. He was removed to St. John's Hospital from the city hospital.

Mrs. Seitz was arrested at noon today, at the request of the Coroner, and held at Dayton Street Station, pending an inquest.

Recently Sweeney was involved in an altercation with a policeman in a fire engine house at Ninth and Market streets, at which Mrs. Rickets was present.

JUDGE DECIDES "ON" MEANS NOTHING ELSE BUT ON

Instructs Attorney in Suit Over Fence to Amend Petition With "At or Near."

"How near is on," after a week's research, was decided yesterday by Circuit Judge McElhinney in a ruling from the bench. "On," he decided, means on, and not "near, at, by, close by" or anything else but on.

For a minute it looked as though Alonzo C. Church had won his suit on the philological contention of his attorney, Milton Hartmann. But it all came to this: Julius Nolte, attorney for the other side, must write three words, "at or near."

That will make his petition read that Church, who is a son of Mrs. Rolla Wells, built a fence of imported French woods "on, at or near" the property line at his home in Wydown forest, contrary to building restrictions. That also will enable Hartmann to pass on—not at or near—to his next question, which will involve not only deep research, but also high art: "When is a fence not a fence." Obviously, says he, when it is a decoration, or a screen. But Nolte, who showed a little philological speed in meeting the first question, holds otherwise.

SEVEN KILLED, MANY MISSING WHEN DAM BREAKS IN WALES

LLANDUDNO, Wales, Nov. 3.—Seven persons are reported to have been drowned and 17, including a woman and nine children, are missing as a result of the bursting of a dam and the destruction of the village of Dolgarrog.

Houses and buildings were swept away and hundreds of cattle and sheep drowned when 180,000,000 gallons of water from Eigian Lake rushed down the vale of Conway yesterday. Most of the occupants of the houses escaped.

North Wales is without electricity, as a result of the flood.

When the dam burst, the released waters formed two torrents, each from 20 to 30 feet deep, raging down the valley and leaving ruin in their wake.

The furnaces in the electric power station exploded when the flood reached them, filling the little valley with steam. The furnace man, however, had escaped, rushing down the valley to warn the occupants of the dwellings there.

A Peerless Value
from the master
mind of radio science!

Remember that all sets give finer reception when equipped with De Forest Audion Tubes. De Forest invented the first successful tube—and still leads in tube efficiency. A special type for every socket. $3.00.

SELDOM are the finer things of life introduced at popular prices.

But here is a notable exception—the new and marvelous De Forest F-5-M Radiophone, a masterpiece in performance, quality and beauty, from the master scientist of radio.

Everything about this wonderful set is exceptional . . . its tone . . . its mastery of distance . . . its ability to separate stations . . . and its simplicity of operation.

The De Forest Balanced Circuit, absolutely new, contributes a greater range of tone reproduction and more economy in operation. Low notes, high notes more clearly and musically borne to the ear . . . . reduced drain on both "A" and "B" batteries.

The loud speaker is built-in and has a seasoned-wood chamber that lends sweetness to the tone. There are compartments for all batteries so nothing is visible to the eye but beauty.

Yet the price is only $110! In giving the radio devotee qualities he most desires it has no equal; as a well-rounded value it cannot be matched . . . . in performance or in price. See it at your nearest Authorized De Forest Dealer's.

of National HOUSE FURNISHING CO. GRANITE CITY, ILLINOIS $175,000 FURNITURE STOCK!

ENDS WEDNESDAY, 10 P. M.—YOU MUST BUY NOW OR NEVER!

NOTICE!

You've just one more day to avail yourself of these "once-in-a-lifetime bargains."

The entire remaining stock of furniture, rugs and stoves secured in the adjustment of the National House Furnishing Co. fire and an immense stock of new Furniture must be sold by Wednesday.

OPEN WEDNESDAY TO 10:00 P.M.

Just one more day, tomorrow, Wednesday, and this most golden money saving opportunity will be no more. There is still an immense stock of Furniture, Rugs and Stoves to be disposed of. It seems almost impossible to sell all that remains in one short day, but we have no alternative—our landlord has demanded that we give up possession of this space by Wednesday and we must comply. Prices have been cut to the very bone in our effort to sell out in the time allotted. This stock embraces a great quantity of merchandise secured in the adjustment of the National House Furnishing Co., Granite City, Ill., and a big assortment of perfect new Furniture, Rugs and Stoves. Never before have you seen quality merchandise at such astoundingly low prices, and after Wednesday we doubt whether you ever will again. You cannot hesitate any longer, you must act tomorrow, for Wednesday is positively the last day. All sales must be final; no exchanges, no refunds and all goods sold "as is."

NOTICE!

Because of the necessity of disposing of every dollars' worth of goods by Wednesday night, we have made arrangements to store all goods bought for future delivery in a local warehouse for 60 days, without additional cost.

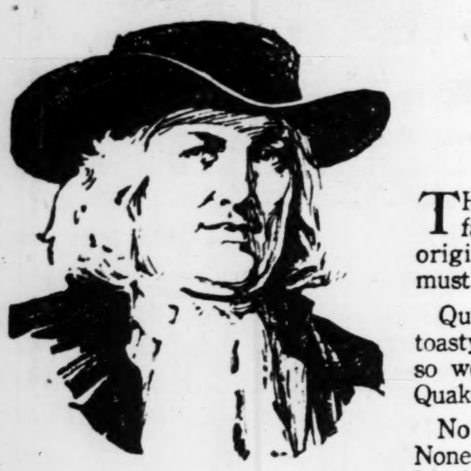
You must say "QUICK QUAKER"



To get true Scotch flavor—famous Quaker Oats flavor—in quick cooking oats

THE difference in breakfast oats is flavor. Oats, originally a Scotch dish, must have Scotch flavor.

Quick Quaker has the toasty Scotch flavor that's so wonderful . . . famous Quaker Oats flavor.

No other brand has it. None successfully imitates it. It's due to exclusive Quaker milling of the finest, plumpest oats. Milling methods which took some 50 years to perfect.

Makes all the difference in the world. Quaker Oats spoils folks for ordinary brands of oats. Cooks in 3 to 5 minutes. No kitchen muss busy mornings.

Due to Quaker milling methods, it supplies, too, the "roughage" you need to make laxatives seldom necessary.

DEADLOCK OVER ARCHITECTS FOR CITY SERVICE BUILDING

Estimate Board Opposes Recommendation to Spend Fee of $12,000 for Work.

Construction of the municipal service building, Twelfth boulevard and Clark avenue, under a $1,000,000 bond issue item, which was delayed for a long time by an argument over details of its use, now is being delayed by a deadlock over the employment of architects for it.

Director of Public Utilities Wall recommended employment of Study & Farrar as architects for a fee of $12,000, and the Board of Public Service approved this. The Board of Estimate and Apportionment, however, wanted city architects to design the structure. Officials pointed out that this city department already has all the work it can handle. Then the Board of Estimate, Mayor Miller absent, proposed that the lower bid of Otto J. Krieg, an architect and former city employe, to design the plant for $6000, be accepted.

Director Wall replied that Krieg had not had sufficient experience. Comptroller Nolte insisted Krieg was competent. President Kinsey of the Board of Public Service said the best architects should design this building on a major thoroughfare. Today the Board of Public Service repeated its recommendation favoring Study & Farrar.

"I don't care if they never build the building," said Comptroller Nolte. "Neither do I," Director Wall countered.

New Immigrant Plan Successful.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—The recently inaugurated plan for the intensive examination of immigrants abroad has proved satisfactory in the first two months of its operation. The State Department, making public its first report on the new system, said several hundred persons who, under the old practice, would have come to the United States only to be denied admittance, were prevented from sailing by being examined abroad when immigrant passports were requested.

The new system is in effect only in Great Britain and Ireland, is to be extended whenever Government agree.

Heroes of Louisa Alcott's Days

Curly headed chaps! And what has become of them? A curly headed man is a rarity. The style of closely shorn temples and back heads has put the ringlets in the discard.

As if resenting this affront to beautification, Nature idly permits early baldness to finish the job.

Easy to explain. Making the kinks behave by constant brushings with all sorts of germ-laden brushes.

Hotels, sleeping cars, clubs, swimming pools, and even the homes of friends garage this vehicle of infection.

Dandruff, itching and falling hair do not mean you are likely to get something—they are the effect of something you already have. You are as truly infected as if you had the mange, and the germs that are polluting and destroying your garden of hair must be given battle.

That restorers and tonics fail to give permanent relief is because their action is superficial. The hair-killing germs are down within the skin and are attacked and destroyed by the Thomas treatments, by virtue of which your scalp glows with health and your hair grows normally. An examination is free.

TRAVEL AND RESORTS. TRAVEL AND RESORTS. TRAVEL AND RESORTS. TRAVEL AND RESORTS.

For You—
Springtime Enchantments
In California Now

The voice of the meadow lark, the hum of bees in flowering orange groves, green valleys set against high mountain ranges. their snow-capped peaks glistening in a glorious sunshine. Golf, tennis, motoring—all sports at their best, and every day. Your "paradise of winter," you will call it.

YOU breathe deep, throwing out your arms as if to embrace it all, feeling its "great invitation" coming to you from all sides the moment that your train crosses the encircling mountains which form part of Southern California's boundaries.

Gorgeous flowers, stately palms, graceful eucalyptus and lacy pepper trees wave a greeting to you. And high up there you catch Old Sol grinning as he seems to say, "These are my winter headquarters, too."

You are won immediately and you thirst for fun. Don't worry, it awaits you.

Mountain climbing—perhaps a new experience—wooded trails for hiking or horseback riding, paved motor roads—even an electric car line—winding up to heights from which you can see a hundred miles away.

That vast brown stretch eastward is the great Mojave Desert, like Sahara in the Holy Land—across the way Old Baldy's snow-crowned head—down below that strip of green is nothing less than several million orange trees in bearing.

Descending, you come upon old Missions built in the Eighteenth Century by the Spanish padres.

Then you motor over smooth concrete to world-famous resorts—to Riverside, to Redlands, to Pasadena, scene of the Tournament of Roses New Year's Day and on to Los Angeles, fastest growing large city in the world, thence to Long Beach, San Diego, Santa Barbara, Ventura, Ojai or where your fancy wills.

No matter where, your interest is absorbing and your fun complete.

More than 50 golf courses, within a few minutes' ride by motor from Los Angeles, challenge your best scores elsewhere.

Tennis, too—thousands of courts. Camping, sailing, motor boating, polo by championship teams—all forms of sport in most ideal surroundings.

Or if it be your whim, there is a great symphony concert, or a modern dance at a gay hotel.

From this into a mountain cabin in a wilderness, if you so desire, in sixty minutes, for quiet rest and complete relaxation.

For fun, for health, for entertainment, sport, lectures, music, art or scenic grandeur—come to Southern California and select your favorite or enjoy them all.

A week or two, and real winter, if not already there, will be upon you. Let it find you on your way to this land where spring laughs at winter.

DIAL TELEPHONES ARE COMING

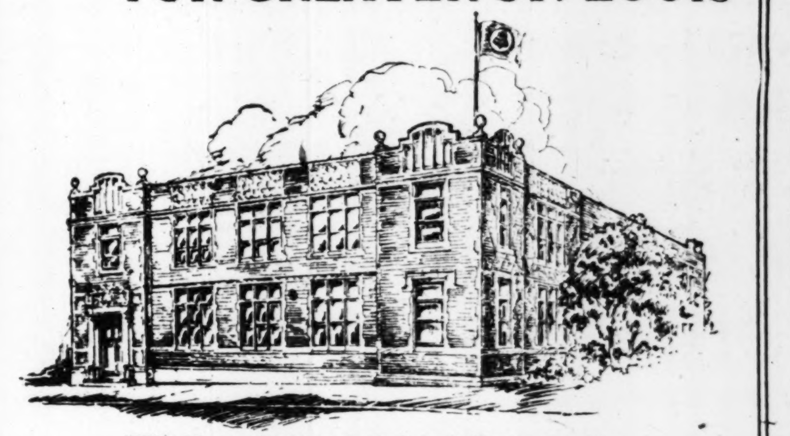
Published by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company to inform its subscribers of the telephone development of a Greater St. Louis

Vol. II No. 2

60,000 DIAL TELEPHONES IN ST. LOUIS BY 1928

SEVEN NEW BUILDINGS FOR GREATER ST. LOUIS



"Hiland," one of seven new telephone buildings now under construction or contemplated in the near future. It will be erected at Manchester Road and Lanham Avenue. It will replace "Benton."

Seven new buildings are being constructed during 1925 and 1926 in this Company's Program to provide a greater telephone system for Greater St. Louis.

The thirty-one story Administration Building being constructed on the block between Tenth, Pine, Eleventh and Chestnut Streets, will be completed in the fall of 1926.

The Laclede-Prospect Building at Grand Boulevard and Botanical Avenue has already been finished and machine switching equipment is being installed.

The new Jefferson Building at Spring and Washington Avenues, which will house several machine switching offices, is scheduled for completion in the early spring of 1926.

Excavation has already commenced for the new Hiland Building which will be another machine switching office and will take the place of the present Benton manual office. This building will be located at Lanham Avenue and Manchester Road.

A lot has been purchased for a new Northwest office to be located on Natural Bridge Road and Hamilton Avenue. Two other buildings will be constructed in the Greater St. Louis area during 1926 on lots which also have been purchased recently.

Additions are being made to the Bomont office to take care of apparatus necessary in connection with the completion of the New York - St. Louis cable, which will be finished sometime during 1926. The New York - Chicago section of this cable is now in service.

An extension to the Webster office will be commenced about the first of the year and will be finished in early summer. This is to take care of growth in the Webster area.

Additions are being made to Riverside and Colfax to accommodate call-indicator equipment. Call-indicator equipment which enables a machine switching office to get in touch with manual offices is being installed in all present manual offices in St. Louis.

A small addition is being made at Cabany-Parkview for additional main-frame equipment.

Besides the building program telephone men are at work on additions and extensions to the underground and overhead plant in many parts of the city. This is principally noticeable in the extension of the cable system.

Programs and schedules for construction have been adopted to relieve the situation wherever congestion is now being felt.

In every part of St. Louis, telephone construction is under way which reflects the great period of telephone expansion now going forward in the city.

First in Service in South St. Louis Next Year

"Laclede" and "Prospect", the first machine switching central offices in St. Louis, will be serving 1250 dial telephones in South St. Louis by next spring. Other dial telephones will be cut into service one by one so that by June 1, approximately 13,000 will be served by these two offices.

In the early fall, the third machine switching office, "Jefferson", at Spring Avenue and Washington Boulevard will be cut into service. Eventually 9,000 dial telephones in the Lindell and Delmar areas will be served from this office.

FIRST DOWNTOWN OFFICE

Then in the Fall of 1927, the first machine switching central office in the new Headquarters Building at 10th and Pine Streets will be cut over. This will replace the present "Main" office and will be the first of ten units which will ultimately provide all down town St. Louis with dial telephone service.

Following these machine switching offices, other new units will be cut into service at intervals of three or four months. Conversion from manual to dial telephone will proceed as rapidly as possible, and it is estimated that there will be about 60,000 dial telephones in operation by the end of 1928.

"LACLEDE"

Pierre Laclede Liguest

With the introduction of the dial telephone in St. Louis, many new central office names will appear.

One which is really historical is "Laclede" a new machine switching office which will be in service in the spring at Grand and Botanical.

This office is named after Pierre Laclede Liguest, who in 1763 selected the site on which St. Louis was founded. Laclede himself, many times no doubt, traversed the very land on which telephone subscribers now live who will be served by this new office.

PRospect, YOrktown (serving Normandy, Mo.) and, MIdway and ROckdale (serving the area between East St. Louis and Belleville) are other names which will appear for the first time in the new directory.

In addition Benton will be changed to HIland, Sidney to HUmbolt, Olive to GArfield, Ferguson to ATwater, Bomont to JEfferson and Bomont coin telephones to FRemont.

A NEW SERVICE

The simplified method of placing long distance calls by giving the distant telephone number direct to the local operator is rapidly gaining favor with telephone users. This service is applicable to station-to-station calls where the calling party knows the number of the desired telephone.

When the local operator asks, "Number, please?" the subscriber gives her the name of the distant town or city and the number of the desired telephone; for example, "De Soto, Missouri, 123." In many cases the connection is made while the subscriber remains on the line.

The new method is faster and more convenient. This is particularly true on calls to nearby points such as Alton, Collinsville and Edwardsville, Illinois, Ste. Genevieve, De Soto, and Creve Coeur. Try it the next time you call.

TALK

It is interesting to notice how the habit of telephoning has grown on the American people. As a nation we telephone five times as often today as we did twenty-five years ago.

In 1900 there was an average of three telephone conversations per month for every person in the United States. In 1925, the average per person is 16 each month.

Of course those who have telephones use them far oftener than 16 times a month. The above figures mean that if every man, woman and child in the United States—every babe-in-arms, every backwoods settler and every newly arrived immigrant—used the telephone with equal frequency, they would each use it 16 times per month.

25 Years' EXPERIENCE

FAILING TO PUT OVER THE 138TH, COMMANDER QUITS

Lieut.-Col. A. E. Deitsch, Regular Army Instructor, Asks to Be Relieved of His Duties.

Lieut. Col. A. E. Deitsch, commander and regular army instructor of the 138th, National Guard Infantry Regiment, has requested that he be relieved from duty with the organization because of his failure "to put the organization over," he said today.

Col. Deitsch, who was detailed for duty with the 138th as regular army instructor May 12, 1921, succeeding Col. Charles S. Thornton as commander of the organization March 25, 1924, last week tendered his resignation to Gov. Baker as commander of the regiment and followed this action with a request to the War Department that he be given an assignment with regular army troops. Neither the resignatin, which Col. Deitsch asked to become effective upon the appointment of his successor, nor the application for a change of assignment have been acted on.

Tells of Decision.

Discussing his decision to abandon further efforts with the One Hundred and Thirty-eighth Regiment, Col. Deitsch declared that "insufficient encouragement" from the great majority of St. Louisans and St. Louis business firms led him to believe that he could never "put the regiment over."

"When I took command the regiment was $6000 in debt and its personnel was chiefly on paper," Col. Deitsch said. "Today the enrollment is 269 enlisted men and 20 officers and there is $1500 in the treasury, remaining after the debts were paid. However, the organization is undermanned and, since I have been unable to overcome the apathy, I decided to let somebody else try."

Col. Deitsch said that during his term as commander of the organization, he interviewed the heads of 550 local business firms, seeking support of the regiment in the form of enlistments. "About one-fifth of these business people attempted to or did get some of their employes enlisted in the 138th. The remainder were not interested and, as a result, there are but four of the thirteen units in the two St. Louis battalions up to strength."

The lack of personnel mentioned by Col. Deitsch, has resulted in the nine undermanned units being placed on probation by the Federal Militia Bureau, with the probability that they may be withdrawn from St. Louis unless the ranks are filled by next February, the time set for the next strength inspection, Col. Deitsch said today.

"These units have been on probation for more than a year and the probation period was extended until February following a strength inspection made by me last August.

Situation a Local One.

The situation has been discussed by the Chamber of Commerce Military Committee and Generals Raupp and Rumbold, but no solution has been found to combat the lack of interest." According to Col. Deitsch the apathy is a local matter as the third battalion of the 138th, with headquarters at Hannibal, is over sterngth while the 140th Infantry, southeast Missouri regiment, is one of the largest National Guard organization in the country.

Col. Deitsch is 49 years old and began his military career as a private in the Tenth Ohio Regiment, National Guard, in 1898. He was commissioned a short time later and has served in the Philippines, Cuba, Panama, and was an officer of the Third Regular Army Division in France. He is married and has resided at 4531 McPherson avenue since coming to St Louis. One of his first official acts after taking command of the 138th Infantry was to rid the organization of members of the Ku Klux Klan, who, he alleged had attempted to dominate the organization. Despite considerable opposition, Col. Deitsch was successful in ridding the organization of klansmen

FAIRMOUNT RACE TRACK, Ill. Nov. 3.—The longest price of the Fairmount race meeting was paid today on the 3-year-old gelding, St Charles, which finished second to False Face in the sixth race of the program. A $2 ticket returned $145.20. This is the first time during the meeting, which will close Saturday, that a horse paid higher than $50 to $1. The longest price heretofore was $40 to $1.

Robert Maxwell, under the inspiration of hard urging by Jockey Vernon Wallis, put four lengths between himself and the field at the very start of the fifth race and this advantage proved sufficient to win nthe feature event of this afternoon's program. Maxwell had just enough to outlast the rushing Midwestern at the finish and Ball Gee, tiring badly in the last 50 yards, finished third.

Beautiful autumn weather brought out a crowd of 8000. The track was dry and fast, and the horses made better time than in previous efforts. The six furlong record for the track was lowered by Robert Maxwell. He stepped the distance in 1:12 4-5, which was 1-5 of a second faster than Ball Gee's mark on Monday afternoon.

Lierre captured the first race. Chopsticks, one of the heavily-played favorites, finished second and Barberry third.

Theo was the early breaker in the startaway from the six-furlong pole with Power second and the rest bunched. Before the horses had traversed one-sixteenth, Baby Lane had taken the lead away from Theo and Chopsticks had attained favorable position with Candorosa next. At the stretch turn, the race developed into a duel between Chopsticks and Lierre with the latter hard driven by Lloyd Geving, showing amazing speed in the last sixteenth. Chopsticks lost his scant advantage in the last five yards.

The favorites continued to run true to form when Kendall and Green Spring ran first and second in the second race, another six-furlong dash for 4-year-olds and up. Sister Helene set a terrific pace through the first half of the journey, but both Green Spring and Kendall were in good position, restrained by their riders for the final spring. Sister Helene did not show signs of weakening until they had passed the sixteenth pole and then she could show no speed whatever, allowing two competitors to pass her Kendall had only a neck to spare in the stirring duel with Green Spring. F. Marmile rode the winner, which is owned by C. W. Hall.

Geving's Second Winner.

Jockey L. Geving rode his second winner of the afternoon when he took the longest race of the day, the third, mounted on Belario, of C. N. Freeman's stable. Stone Age finished second and Ramkin third. The distance was a mile and one furlong.

Miss Anna Pine and Firth of Tay were early factors, their duel for the lead in the back stretch proving one of the thrills of the race. Miss Anna Pine was cut out on the far turn as Firth of Tay and Belario moved forward on the rail. Stone Age came to the front as they reached the head of the stretch. The finish was close, with only a neck to spare between the three lucky ones and Firth of Tay a close fourth.

New Track Record.

The competition was so keen in the fourth race that Dr. Glenn, with L. Neal up, was forced to set a new track record in winning from Bodyguard and Miss Rosedale. The Dr. clipped one and two-fifths seconds off the record for five and one-half furlongs, setting a new mark of 1:06. Topango and Fair Light appeared to have the better of the run down the back stretch but at the far turn, Dr. Glenn moved around the vanguard. He had enough speed and stamina, however, to take the long route and still go faster than the others. He was in no great danger of being overtaken in the last sixteenth, but the others were coming fast.

Ben Millers Practice.

he Ben Millers, last year's winners in the St. Louis Soccer League, will hold a workout this evening at 8 o'clock at St. Louis University Field, Bill Foley, manager, has announced. The team will also practice Thursday night in preparation for a game with the Vespers Sunday.

Pimlico Scratches.

Second race—Dubric, Prattle, Hillside, Haphagard, Heart Breaker, Sea Net. Fourth—Sarmaticus, Arno, Senator Norris. Fifth—Aucilla, Kitter. Seventh—Juno, Dentaria, Lanell and Viburnum.

Churchill Downs Scratches.

First race—Bill Todd, Atossa. Second—Glib. Third—Poinsettia, Hallo. Fourth—Bourbon Boy. Sixth—May Steil, Pan Quid, Little Tramp. Seventh—Bejula, Lighter, Randal.

Pikers at Concert Pitch for Saturday's Game With Tigers; Billikens Badly Broken

By John H Alexander.

To the casual visitor at the two local university practice fields, last evening, there was a study in contrasts. Out on the Pikeway, he entered the Francis Field enclosure and was greeted with the slap of varsity headgear against freshmen canvas, the barks of the coaching staff and the hoarse shouts of "Fumble! Get it!" as the white-painted "ghost ball" squeezed out of the scrimmage and rolled unevenly away.

"Come on! Squeeze it. You'll never beat Missouri that way!" Once more the green-jerseyed varsity would swing into position, hop gingerly in a well timed shift and tear into the red-jerseyed glory hunters with a din of slapping leather punctuated by short grunts.

The field was flooded with light from searchlights on the top of the gym. On the top floor of the building the band was rehearsing and one floor below, alumni were talking over the ticket sales. From the vicinity of the far-off quadrangle floated snatches of football yells, where a crowd of students were practicing cheers. All over the campus, the topic is the Mizzou game of Saturday.

Contrast at St. Louis U.

At the Billiken field, where the falling of nightfall is aided by the big hull of a grandstand, the coaches unfolded their arms and decided that that would be all for today. There were no floodlights, no hectic smell of sweating athletes, no shouting of signals, no gasping grunts, no scrimmage. There were hardly enough varsity men out to take on the freshmen who were there in full force.

What men were there went through their workouts and ran signals briskly, O'Reilly, the 145-pound quarterback, unbreakable as a drugstore comb both physically and spiritually, Wentker, the hard-playing center, McCarthy, the first-year center with a jaw like Bob Hannegan, Kahle the crashing end afflicted with the boils and a series of semi-sprains, and half a dozen others working out the kinks of body and temperament incurred the Rolla defeat. Coach Savage surveyed these men with [illegible] of satisfaction.

With the Detroit game on schedule for Saturday, it is unlikely that Savage will be able to scrimmage his men before tomorrow. They leave Thursday night. The Rolla team, which played with the abandon of a spring dancer, gave Trainer Paddy Fitzgerald one of the most comprehensive hospital lists he has had this season.

Guard Blum Out for Season.

Blum, the fine guard, has gone the way of Joe High and will be out for the rest of the season with two small leg bones fractured Albin, a tackle, and Stanton may not see action against Detroit, the former because of a leg injury and the latter because of a [illegible] wrist and a touch of sciatica, a combination of ills which invariably gets the big end. The status of Tom Sweeney, another end, has not yet been established. He has an elbow injury which dos not seem to improve. Ramacciotti, the spectacular captain and fullback, will not be out until Thursday, it was announced.

Ramacciotti, the captain and leader of the team, is giving his men a fine example of sheer courage every time he goes into a game. His injury, a regularly recurring one which keeps him out of practice for several nights after every encounter, is diagnosed by the doctors as an exposed nerve and a mere touch of the weak spot causes the big fullback to jump in pain. Yet he is in there, the most effective member of the secondary defense and sharing the bulk of the offensive work with O'Reilly.

[illegible] for Missouri.

The Pikers will face Missouri with all their regulars in the lineup, unless injuries occur in the week's scrimmage. No one appeared hurt after last night's strenuous [illegible] and Joe Henn sy, whose knee is not in first-class shape, will be ready for the game. Trainer Eber Simpson is keeping a close watch on the sidelines and is in attendance on an injuried man before he is fairly off the gridiron.

Coach Higgins saw Missouri beat Ames last week and knows what he will be up against. He described the Tigers as a good-sized, hard-playing team with a very versatile attack.

A good portion of the days remaining this week will be devoted to defensive practice against forward passes, a department of the game in which the varsity is bested even by the freshmen. Missouri places great reliance on the aerial game and any weakness here will mean [illegible] for the Pikers.

No "Flowers," Please.

Someone is always furnishing comedy relief for the fighting scrimmage at Francis Field. Last night it was the band, practicing in the gym next to the gridiron. There seemed to be a prophetic note in the smoky atmosphere when the brasses crashed out the triumphal march from Aida, but the musicians showed their versatility on the next selection by playing "Hearts and Flowers," the old third act weep producer.

Jockey Barred From Kentucky Tracks for Life

J. A. Mooney Said to Have Been Implicated by Mergler in Confession.

By the Associated Press.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 3.—J. A. Mooney, a veteran jockey, today was ruled off the tracks of the Kentucky Jockey Club for life. Mooney's expulsion came after Jockey D. Mergler had confessed to the racing stewards that he had pulled Bumpkin, a 2-year-old belonging to Frederick Johnson, Eastern turfman, in a race at Latonia, Oct. 10. Mergler implicated Mooney in his confession, it was said.

Wrestlers Draw.

Missouri Looks For Hard Fight Against Pikers

By Chester M. Brewer,
Director of Athletics of the University of Missouri.
(Copyright 1925.)

COLUMBIA, Mo., Nov. 3.—By taking Iowa State into camp by a score of 23 to 8, the University of Missouri stands as the only undefeated team in the Missouri Valley Conference. The previously undefeated Ames team fell before a strong line and a brilliant forward pass attack.

This game brought out two outstanding features. First, it showed the renewed emphasis on line play; and second, the importance of the forward pass as a scoring play.

Missouri scored two of her three touchdowns as a result of passes, one a spectacular heave of 53 yards by Bacchus, vresatile end. The real battle, however, was between two great lines and, as usual, the team with the better line won. The writer has always contended that a team is usually about as good as its line and that spectacular and successful backfield play is made possible by strong fundamental line play, while a team's defense is its line.

Nebraska won from Oklahoma 12 to by a good defense and a powerful attack again headed by Rhodes, while Drake defeated Kansas 7 to 0, largely through the good work of her line, which stood off Kansas and permitted Halfback Spears to drive for a touchdown.

The Kansas Aggies is the only team using a shift and the one they use is a clever adaptation of the Notre Dame shift of a few years back. The weakest part of the play of the section has been the kicking. There seems to be no real great punter in the Valley.

This next Saturday brings together Nebraska and Drake, each with but one defeat. Grinnell and Iowa State meet in a bitter state game while Kansas, defeated in her last four games, journeys to Oklahoma. Kansas State takes on an intersectional game in meeting Marquette at Milwaukee.

Missouri and Washington meet in St. Louis to settle their 29-year family argument. Regardless of the strength of these two teams, a hard fought and close game always results.

One of the delights of football is the traditional battle between long-time opponents who usually are both friends and enemies.

LIGHTWEIGHT TITLE HOPES FEATURE COLISEUM FIGHT TONIGHT

Terris "Best Man Since Leonard"; Basil Galiano, His Rival, Kayoed Moran

Rivals, Principals in Bitterly-Fought Contest Last Summer, Will Renew Hostilities Over the Ten-Round, No-Decision Route, at the Coliseum.

By John E. Wray.
Sports Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Esteemed the best lightweight fighter of his inches since Benny Leonard went into voluntary eclipse, Sid Terris, New York's candidate for the championship, will be asked to step his fastest paces at the Coliseum tonight. In front of him will be Bazile (Basil) Galiano, of New Orleans, called the "Southern champion," who can let out a few wraps himself, according to fistic lore.

Although youngest in a family of 22, Galiano has not been kept down. Today he is considered one of the best lightweight prospects outside of New York City.

It will be the Semitic against the Latin, when Terris and Galiano meet—types that are figuring more and more strongly in fistic affairs as the years roll by and foreign nations take up the pastime that Anglo-Saxons developed.

These two dark-eyed, olive-skinned boys, on their records, show their quality. Terris has been beaten only twice in his career—by Earl Baird and Eddie Wagner. Both of these defeats have been wiped from the slate by subsequent victories of Terris over his rivals.

Terris Once Beat Galiano.

In the list of Terris' victims one may include practically all of the leading lightweights in the game at this time, even Galiano. Terris once gained a point victory over the Southerner. He is favorite to repeat the same tonight.

Galiano's friends point to his knockout of the championship prospect Pal Moran, a feat Benny Leonard couldn't accomplish at Cleveland, where Moran gave Leonard such a fight that he was compelled to cancel an important match with Lew Tendler until he could be laid up for repairs. Yet Galiano has a knockout victory over the man that handled the Old Master, Leonard, in this fashion.

Galiano also has beaten Pinkey Mitchell, "junior lightweight champion," Mel Coogan, Joe Tiplitz, Johnny Reisler and others.

For some reason Galiano brought with him a reputation as a heavy puncher. The impression prevails that he is a rough-and-ready fighter, opposite to the type of Terris. New Orleans reports contradict this and, despite his kayo of Pal Moran, picture Galiano as a clever fighter who has not been distinguished for the power of his punch.

Tonight's Fights

Harry Felix, New York, vs. Kid Alberts, St. Louis, 10 rounds, no decision. Lightweights.

Mann Dugan, Plainview, Ill., vs. Sailor Maley, San Francisco, six rounds, no decision. Heavyweights.

Referees — Harry Sharpe and Walter Heisner.

First bout—At 8:30 p. m.

Terris Displayed Real Punch When He Stopped Foes Like Chaney and Coogan

The fact that Terris has stopped Andy Chaney, Johnny Lisse and Mel Coogan while such tough battlers as Sammy Mandell, Jack Bernstein and Luis Vicentini have been floored in their engagements with him, indicates that the new Gotham star packs a jarring right cross. Like Leonard, he also employs a tantalizing left jab with unerring accuracy.

In view of the great battle Galiano put up in his setto with Terris at the Coney Island Stadium in New York last summer, the fans may expect to witness an intensely interesting contest tonight. The decision in favor of Terris in their previous encounter was very close, according to news accounts of the bout.

The Galiano-Terris bout would cost plenty of money, if put on in Madison Square Garden. It cost Gene Straus and the Coliseum Athletic Club no inconsiderable sum as the certified checks in the hands of the boxing commission will attest.

Two other new figures will appear in the Coliseum ring tonight—those of Harry Felix and Danny Terris, brother to Sid. Harry Felix is one of the surprises Matchmaker Straus has for the fans. He promises a treat. Felix meets Kid Alberts of this city, well known to Mound City ringsiders.

The Kid is a good willing boy and will give all he has for the 10 rounds, even though it mars his appearance when he presents himself at his law office tomorrow to resume his legal profession.

Felix, who has lost but two decisions in 46 bouts, redeemed one of his defeats a week ago when he won a decisive point verdict over Joey Silvers. Prior to the engagement with Silvers, Felix attracted considerable attention by his 10-round triumph over Joe Celmars, who later fought Babe Herman a 10-round draw.

Danny Terris, junior member of the Manhattan fistic trio, is rounding out his first year in professional competition with a record of 12 consecutive victories. He is a rugged-looking youngster and appears qualified to give a creditable account of himself against Morris King, despite the latter's advantage in experience.

Two Preliminary Events.

Mike Sansone, erstwhile amateur champion, will figure in the opening four-round event with another former amateur, Buddy Schlereth. Mike probably knows too much for his opponent.

The man-eating encounter of the evening will bring together Mann Dugan of Plainview, Ill., known to this community by previous appearances; and Sailor Maley, a Frisco heavyweight. This will be just a "lay on MacDuff" affair.

Harry Sharpe and Walter Heisner will alternate in refereeing. When one is engaged in the ring the other will be inspecting bandages and getting ready for the succeeding fight.

Monohan, Browns' Scout, Resigns

Ivory Hunter Tells of His Conquests and Gives List of Prizes.

Pat Monohan, a man of a few million words, and a scout for the Browns for seven years, has severed his connection with the St. Louis American League club.

Here are some of the players that Monohan says he obtained for the Browns and the amount of money that each cost:

Marty McManus, $5000.
Cedric Durst, $4000.
Harry Rice, $1250.
Ernie Wingard, nothing.
Hubert Pruett, nothing.
George Grant, nothing.
Phil Todt (now with Red Sox), nothing.
Bill Mullen (recently bought by Detroit), nothing.
Bob Lamotte, $4000.
Pat Collins, $6000.

Monohan also says he recommended Joe Giard to the Browns before the deal was made with the Yankees, sending Giard from Toledo to St. Louis.

Monohan pointed out that Pat Collins, obtained by him for $6000, recently was sold to the Yankees for $20,000.

Stecher Throws Koloff.

CHICAGO, Nov. 3. — Joe Stecher, Nebraska heavyweight wrestler, last night defeated Dan Koloff of St. Louis in two straight falls with body scissors in 40m 50s and 10m 10s, respectively.

BARRACKS TEAM AND SCOTT FIELD PLAYERS TO PLAY GRID GAME

A service footbal game between Jefferson Barracks and the Scott Field aviators will take place tomorrow at the Barracks, starting at 3 o'clock. The Barracks eleven is last years' Sixth Army Corps champion. Tomorrow is the anniversary of the organization of the Sixth Infantry, one of the oldest regiments in the army.

The day also marks the anniversary of the crossing of the Meuse in France by the regiment. The team's outstanding star is Ray Gloven, a former high school star from New York State.

Scott Field has played several games this season and is considered a formidable machine. The Barracks athletes have defeated the aviators this season in boxing, wrestling and basket ball. Box seats have been erected aongside the playing field with free parking space for automobiles. The public is invited to attend. The Sixth Infantry Band will play.

CARL KAMP VICTIM OF MISTAKEN IDENTITY

Carl "Toddy" Kamp, who was reported in the summary of the Central-Roosevelt football game of Saturday as the head linesman, has discovered that high school football teams have a large following. A protest arose in the course of the game and Kamp has been subjected to an inquisition daily since the game.

As a matter of fact he was not present. He was head linesman in the Principia-Soldan game and did not even see the Central-Roosevelt contest.

Illinois Is Choice Of Los Angeles Critics For New Year's Game

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 3.

NEWSPAPERS here today combined in demanding the appearance of the Illinois football eleven as the Eastern representative in the annual East-West clash on New Year's day in the Tournament of Roses bowl, Pasadena.

Hundreds of letters were received by newspapers asking that Western fans be given a chance to see "Red" Grange in action.

Grange to Play In 3 More Games

Saturday He Will Make His Last Appearance at Champaign in Big Contest.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Nov. 3.—Coach Zuppke's University of Illinois football squad took things easy last night during the short time they were out on the practice field. Everybody around the camp, including the coach, felt like celebrating the victory over Pennsylvania last Saturday and did not attempt to do much work. The Illini emerged from the Penn game in excellent condition, and unless injuries crop out during practice in the next few days, they should face Coach Stagg's Maroons next Saturday with their entire strength.

Bernie Shivelly, Zuppke's beefy guard, was about the only man missing last night, but it is said he will be in shape to play Saturday. Starting this afternoon, Coach Zuppke will hold stiff practice sessions each evening until Thursday, when he will likely take his players to the Champaign Country Club, where they will be quartered until shortly before game time Saturday. A light limbering-up session will be held at the country club on Friday.

Illini followers are expecting a stiff battle between Chicago and Illinois. Coach Stagg's proteges can always be counted upon to put up a great fight, and this year will likely be no exception. After the decisive victory over the Quakers, the Illini fans are hoping their favorites do not become overconfident regarding the outcome of the Chicago game. Although all the tickets to the game—67,000 of them—were sold 10 days ago, thousands of requests are coming in for pasteboards. It will be Grange's last appearance on the local field in a big game. Illinois plays a practice game with Wabash here Nov. 14 and closes the season on Nov. 21 with Ohio State at Columbus.

EDDIE MOORE CLAIMED BY SEVEN N. L. CLUBS

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Seven club owners of the National League have spoiled the plan of Barney Dreyfuss, president of the Pittsburg Pirates, to send Eddie Moore, his young second baseman, to the Pacific Coast League in part payment for Paul Waner and Hal Rhyne, the Frisco club stars who were bought by the Pirates during the world's series for a price said to aggregate $275,000 in cash and players.

Every National League clubs put in claims for Moore. The requests for waivers, which must be obtained before a player can be sent to a minor league, never reached the American League. This was reported from a reliable source yesterday.

The only thing for Dreyfuss to do now is to pass Moore to one of the National League clubs for the waiver price, $4500, or withdraw the waiver request, keep the man and send some other player or players to the Coast in his place. Apparently the National League owners and managers were a unit in believing that a youngster who did such fine work as Moore did in the world's series and in the general run of the season was worth having around, even though Dreyfuss and Bill McKechnie were willing to gamble on young talent.

McARTHUR IS VICTOR IN BILLIARD MATCH

J. U. Music, 72, was defeated by M. McArthur, 73, yesterday at Petersons in the sixth match of the Perpetual Youth billiard tournament. The score was 45 to 37.

The match went 31 innings and was marked by spectacular shots, especially on the part of the loser. McArthur now holds high game and is tied with Hyatt with a high run of eight. N. J. Brown and W. H. Hennessy meet today at 3 o'clock.

Rogers Hornsby to Lead Cardinals Another Year

Manager and Owner Breadon Meet in St. Louis National League Office and Reach Informal Agreement — Leader Says Team Needs Two Right-Handed Pitchers.

By J. Roy Stockton.

Rogers Hornsby, leading hitter in the National League for the last six years, and Sam Breadon, president of the Cardinals, met in the Cardinal offices yesterday noon. Hornsby was making his daily visit and it was Breadon's first appearance since the world series, the president of the club having returned Saturday from Florida, where he spent 10 days after the world series.

"How about next year?" Breadon and Hornsby were asked. "You know there was some talk during the season that Hornsby might not care to retain the managerial reins. How about it?"

Breadon looked at Hornsby and Hornsby looked at Breadon.

"How about it Rog?" Breadon asked.

"Well, it's up to you," replied Rogers. "You remember the agreement, when we picked San Antone for a training camp. If I was not satisfactory you were free to get somebody else."

Both did some more smiling and then from Breadon:

"Well, I'll tell the world I'm satisfied. I guess I'd be hard to please, otherwise, eh?"

Now for a Pennant.

So that's settled. Hornsby has not signed a new contract and the matter has not even been discussed. But Hornsby will manage the Cardinals again in 1926 and the manager and the owner will not have any difficulty in getting together. Hornsby is as well as signed.

"Now, how about your prospects for 1926, Rogers? Is there any chance that the league's most valuable player, as you no doubt will be voted, will be able to pilot the Cardinals to a pennant?"

"Too early to talk baseball. Come around after Jan. 1. But this far ahead, which is much too far, it looks like our big hunt of the winter will be for right-handed pitchers. If we can bag a couple of good dependable right-handers we won't be so bad. Of course we will be on the lookout to strengthen our team in all departments. But if we land the pitchers I won't worry about the rest.

Outfield Looks Good.

"Perhaps we do need something in the outfield but the work of Douthit and Hafey toward the end of the 1925 season indicated that they had arrived and from long range it appears to me that candididates for the outfield positions will have a hard time breaking into that Blades-Douthit-Hafey combination.

"In the infield I believe we have one of the greatest shortstops of the game in Thevenow. He already is a great fielder and he will be better. The year's experience may make Bell. He fielded better than was expected last year and while he fell down in hitting, that is below expectations, he always has been a hitter and I'm confident he will hit in this league.

"Of course we could use another good catcher to help out Bob O'Farrell, but seasoned catchers are hard to obtain. We have two good prospects in Vick and Warwick.

"But pitchers are the thing we're after, right-handed pitchers. We have a lot of good trading material. We have men we haven't been using who could not be waived out of the league. Good trading material and we'll go after what we need. You know I don't want to pike along with an also ran and Mr. Breadon feels the same way. We want a winner as much as the fans."

GENNETTE WINS OVER RION AT BILLIARDS

In the weekly rapid-fire three-cushion billiard tournament at the Rogers Recreation Parlors, George Gennette landed in first place by winning from Jess Rion in the final match last night by a count of 14 to 12. Rion, playing from scratch, displayed excellent form in the previous rounds, eliminating his opponents with apparent ease.

Bill McClintock took first place in the consolation event by beating Otis La Tour, 15 to 12. Hugh Stevens carried off the high average honors of the tournament in his tilt with Roy Cochrane when he registered his needed 12 points in the same number of innings, giving him an average of one.

In his last frame Stevens put together a beautiful cluster of six, which was also the best indiviual effort of the evening.

Delaney Fit to Fight.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Jack Delaney, Bridgeport, Conn., contender for the light heavyweight championship, planned to return to his home this morning after having refuted claims that his physical condition was such that he would be unable to meet Paul Berlenbach for the title on Dec. 11. Delaney, recovering from a recent operation, was declared to be in sound physical health following an examination by Dr. W. G. Fralick.

Last Night's Fights.

PHILADELPHIA.—Benny Bass, Philadelphia lightweight, knocked out Lou Mayers, Baltimore, in the second round of a 10-round bout. Bass weighed 125 pounds, Mayers 127½.

Bobby Marritt, 161½, of Baltimore, earned the judges' decision over Jack Palmer, 162½, of Philadelphia, in one of the six-round preliminaries.

BUFFALO, N. Y.—Rocky Kansas knocked out Battling Kelly of Baltimore in the first round of a bout scheduled for 10 rounds. Kelly was floored by the first punch but managed to regain his feet and weathered the battle for two minutes.

NEW YORK. — Sergt. Sammy Baker, soldier welterweight, battered his way to a judges' decision over Georgie Levine, Pacific Coast welterweight in a 10-round bout at the new Broadway arena, Brooklyn. Levine was knocked down in the ninth and tenth rounds.

ST. JOHN, N. B.—Roy Mitchell, a light heavyweight of Halifax, won from Jack Ward, the Montreal heavyweight, on a foul in the ninth round of what was to have been a 10-round bout. Ward recently went 10 rounds with Jack Renault.

Plays, Not Time, To Mark Periods In Football Game

Quarters of Brown-Boston U. Game Will End When 40 Plays Have Been Run.

By the Associated Press.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 3.—Watches will be discarded and periods will be measured by the number of plays to a period in a football game to be played here Saturday by Brown University and Boston University.

Saturday's game will be the first time the plan, long discussed, will have been used in an official collegiate contest.

Each of the four periods will be ended when 40 plays by either or both sides have been effected. Watches will come into use only in timing intermissions and time out for accidents or other causes.

Harry R. Coffin, Harvard '94, and R. W. P. Brown, former Harvard coach and Brown strategist, claim for the play system that it will give a beter balance to football games. In timed periods, they say, the first team to score can block games by legitimate plays leaving the opponent with almost no chance to score. They say that in 39 Harvard-Yale games the team scoring first won every game except that played in 1916.

Members of the football rules committee and leading Eastern coaches are expected to watch Saturday's experimental game, in which no other football rules will be changed.

Little Use for Watch.

Under the "play" system that wach will be used only to time the intermission between the quarters and the halves and to time the length of "time out."

It is estimated that the maximum time out for any cause is to be two minutes. Penalties will be employed to enforce this regulation. All other rules of the game remains the same. The ball changes hands as under the time system and the fortieth play in each period marks the end of that period.

Every manner of playing the ball is considered a play. The total of 40 is for both teams. The number of plays elapsed will be shown on the score board.

Figures show that under the time period plan where one of two teams gains an early lead the number of plays under the time system tends to be very low, while in the case where the teams are evenly matched the number of plays reach a high figure.

Mr. Coffin is credited with first discovering the wide variation in the length of periods and the number of plays in each period in a careful study of the leading games during the 30 years. He brought it to the attention of Mr. Brown and the late Percy Haughton with the result that the three men combined to urge the adoption of the play system. Their endeavors had the sanction of the late Walter Camp of Yale but until this week no opportunity to give the system a trial under official sanction had been provided.

BOXER EATS STEAK BEFORE BOUT AND IS VICTIM OF KNOCKOUT

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Maxie Rosenbloom of Harlem knocked out Joe Silvani, the Italian heavyweight, in the ninth round at the Uptown Tennis Club last night. Silvani left his corner for the ninth round a bit tired and dazed, and after an exchange of punches Rosenbloom hooked a right to the jaw. Silvani crumpled to the floor and as the referee reached the count of 10 he struggled to his feet.

But his legs caved in and he fell to the floor for the second time. He was carried to his corner and then practically carried to his dressing room. The club physician was summoned and after working over Silvani allowed him to leave the clubhouse.

It was said that Silvani ate a big steak before he entered the ring.

Taxpayer Who Filed Action Dismisses It While His Attorney Is Taking Deposition in Case.

The suit in protest against the $53,000 road oil contract between the St. Louis County Court and the Cabell Petroleum Co. was dismissed yesterday by the taxpayer who filed it, while his attorney was busy taking a deposition in the case. It alleged conspiracy in the contract award.

William M. Boaz of Kirkwood, the taxpayer, told Circuit Judge McElhinney he was dropping the suit for lack of support in it, as he had thought that several persons in a group interested in "getting to the bottom of the oil contract" would support him. However, he said, the others hadn't even put up any money, and he paid the filing fee for the suit and the lawyer, George F. Heege.

Purpose of Suit.

Trial of the suit had been set for next week. Its purpose was to get an injunction against performance of the oil contract, but the Cabell company already has delivered the oil under the contract. An underlying intention of the suit was to expose alleged conditions of the public business. Boaz is former president of the St. Louis County Leader Publishing Co., an outgrowth of the Clean Election League. He is active in the new County Taxpayers' League, as a leader of opposition to the political machine of "Boss" Fred Essen. Boaz is a real estate dealer.

Finis P. Ernest, wealthy East St. Louis oil man, was the witness examined by Attorney Heege yesterday. He was an unsuccessful bider for the oil contract, representing the East St. Louis Gasoline Co. He declared he conferred with Fred Essen, Essen's son, Roy, and Al Autenrieth, chairman of the Republican County Committee, in Essen's Clayton newspaper office before the award of the contract on April 20. Fred Essen, he asserted, promised to do all possible to help him get the contract.

Asked About Note.

"Your oil is best, we want to get it," Ernest said he was told at this meeting. Asked whether he heard anything then about a $1000 note given by one of the Judges of the County Court, on which Essen was an indorser, Ernest replied: "I heard something about a note, but was not interested because it was none of my business. I went there to get Essen's help in getting the contract. I understood he was a big man in the county and stood for everything clean and right. My oil was right and I thought he would stand for me."

No consideration for obtaining the contract was mentioned, the witness averred. Since that time, he said, he met Essen on several occasions and their conversation followed the same general line. The morning the contract was to be let Ernest was greeted at Clayton courthouse by Roy Essen.

"Did young Essen say then, 'Did you see Al Autenreith? He wants to see you.'" Ernest was asked. "He might have," was the reply.

During the subsequent County Court session, Ernest said, he saw Autenrieth and former County Clerk William Seibel, an Essen adherent, whispering to Judges Preiss and Bobring, the Republican majority members of the court.

Refers to Specifications.

Specifications for the road oil were such that any oil, no matter how poor, might have been supplied, Ernest declared, adding that he told the court that the county could save money by delaying award of the conract, as oil was declining in price.

Ernest volunteered the statement that he appeared as an unwilling witness.

David Schmidt, vice president of the St. Louis County Bank, Clayton, was called and asked to produce the record of a $1000 loan to either Judge Preiss or Judge Bobring, indorsed by Essen. He refused to produce the bank's books unless ordered by the Court.

Previously depositions in the case were given by Carrington Cabell of Kirkwood, president of the Cabell Petroleum Co.; Judges Preiss and Bobring and Presiding Judge Smiley of the County Court, Autenrieth and Roy Essen. However, Fred Essen successfully evaded giving his deposition, although subpenaed.

Former Auto Firm Promoter Convicted.

HOUSTON, Tex., Nov. 3.—Jacques E. Blevins, former president of the Southern Motors Co., was found guilty on all 18 counts in Federal Court here today, involving use of the mails to defraud in connection with promotion of the company.

Miner Killed by Fall of Slate.

Ernet Craig, 25 years old, a miner for the Madison Coal Corporation at Glen Carbon, was fatally crushed today in a fall of slate. He died in an ambulance on the way to St. Mary's Hospital, East St. Louis.

Candidate, 83, Dies on Election.

LOCKHAVEN, Pa., Nov. 3.—Marcellus Myers, for 52 years a Constable in this city, died today in his eighty-third year while his friends were balloting to have him elected to another term to round out what is believed to have been the longest record in the State.

Two Die in Fire at Drinking Party.

WASHINGTON, N. J., Nov. 3.—Two men were burned to death last night in a fire following what police say was a drunken orgy in the home of Andrew Gunderman. The dead are Gunderman and Marshall Price. George Underman, 60 years old, father of Andrew, is in a hospital, probably fatally burned.

Save a Baby's Life

Blaming the parents won't help the baby. Pure milk and warmth and good medical attention are necessary if the baby is to have its chance in the World. That's exactly what the Community Fund gives. Under-nourished children, of all ages, are helped back to better health by your annual contribution.

But make your contribution large enough. Don't say carelessly, "Oh, put me down for $5, or $10, or $100." Add a few more dollars this year—and do the job right. Give enough.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

The Post-Dispatch reserves the right to reject any query. Personal and telephone calls, or answers by mail, cannot be given attention, except letters on medical questions of undoubted sincerity when accompanied by stamped addressed envelope.

G. C. W.—A half-dollar coined in 1854 is worth 50c to 55c.

MRS. S.—A half-dollar coined in 1877 is worth 50c to 55c.

EAGER.—Wash the sweater in lukewarm water and soapsuds and put it on a wooden hanger to dry.

A. L. W.—A half-dollar coined in 1853, with arrows on it, is worth 50c to 55c.

GRACE.—We do not advise nor do we give information regarding the dyeing of hair.

M. H. F.—A 5-cent piece coined in 1870 is worth 5c to 10c; a half-dollar coined in 1876 is worth 50c to 55c; there is no premium on a Columbian half-dollar coined in 1893.

A. J. M.—The formula used by the United States Government in making whitewash for lighthouses and other public buildings, which you request, is as follows: Two pecks unslaked lime, 1 peck common salt, 3 pounds rice flour, ½ pound Spanish whiting, 1 pound of clean and white glue, a sufficient quantity of water. Slake the lime in a vessel of about 10 gallons capacity; cover it, strain, and add the salt, previously dissolved in warm water. Boil the rice flour in water, soak the glue in water and dissolve on a water bath and add both, together with the whiting and 5 gallons of hot water to the mixture, stirring all well together. Cover to protect from dirt and let it stand for a few days, when it will be ready for use. This whitewash is to be applied hot and for that reason should be used from a kettle over a portable furnace.

A. A. A.—If a gentleman gets on a street car and the car gives a lurch just as he is about to be seated and throws him against another passenger, or he stumbles over or is jostled against other passengers, he should lift his hat and say "excuse me," or "I beg your pardon." If he passes a lady in a narrow space, so that he blocks her way or in any manner obtrudes upon her, he lifts his hat as he passes. Lifting the hat is a conventional gesture of politeness shown to strangers only, not to be confused with bowing, which is a gesture used to acquaintances and friends. In proffering his seat to a lady a gentleman rises, lifts his hat slightly, and says, "Please take my seat," and he lifts his hat again when she thanks him. If the car is very crowded when he wishes to leave it and a lady is directly in his way he asks "May I get through, please?" and as she makes room for him to pass he should lift his hat and say "Thank you." If he is in the company of a lady in a street car and another gentleman offers her a seat, picks up an article she has dropped or shows her any civility, he lifts his hat to the man.

JOHN S. — (1) Nickel plating may be done by preparing a bath of neutral zinc chloride and a neutral solution of nickel salt, then immersing the objects to be plated in the bath with small pieces of zinc, keeping the preparation boiling for some time. This process gives satisfactory results. The zinc chloride is easily prepared by dissolving it in hydrochloric acid, as well as a saturated solution of ammoniacal nickel sulphate in the proportion of two volumes of the latter to one of the zinc chloride. The objects should be boiled for 15 minutes in the bath. Nickel salt may also be employed, preferably in the state of chloride. (2) Objects made of copper may be satisfactorily tempered by subjecting them to a certain degree of heat for a determined period of time and bestrewing them with powdered sulphur during the heating. While they are hot plunge the objects into a bath of blue vitriol; after the bath they may be heated again.

LEGAL INFORMATION

(By a Member of the St. Louis Bar Association.)

CLARENCE L.—The charge for the marriage license is $1.50. If you or the girl were under legal age there is a charge of 50 cents more for the necessary affidavit. If both parties are under age, two affidavits are necessary and the total cost is then $2.50.

R. O. K.—The Missouri statute with regard to hours of labor for female employes provide as follows:

Sec. 6771. Hours of labor of female employes—No female shall be employed, permitted or suffered to work, manual or physical, in any manufacturing, mechanical or mercantile establishment or factory, workshop, laundry, bakery, restaurant, or any place of amusement, or to do any stenographic or clerical work of any character in any of the divers kinds of establishments and places of industry, hereinabove described, or by any person, firm or corporation engaged in any express or transportation or public utility business, or by any common carrier, or by any public institution, incorporated or unincorporated, in this State, more than nine hours during any one day, or more than 54 hours during any one week: Provided, that operators of canning or packing plants in rural communities, or in cities of less than 10,000 inhabitants wherein perishable farm products are canned or packed, shall be exempt from the provisions of this section for a number of days not to exceed 90 in any one year: Provided, further, that nothing in this section shall be construed and understood to apply to telephone companies; and be it further provided that the provisions of this section shall not apply to towns or cities having a population of 3000 inhabitants or less.

Sec. 6772. Employment of females, when.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to knowingly employ a female or permit a female to be employed in any of the divers kinds of establishments, places of industry, or places of business specified in Section 6771, within three weeks before or three weeks after childbirth. Any person, firm or corporation who shall violate this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

Sec. 6773. Employers liable, when—penalty.—Any employer or overseer, superintendent, foreman, agent or any other employe who shall require or permit or suffer any female to work in any of the places mentioned in section 6771 of this article more than the number of hours therein specified, or any employer who permits or suffers any overseer, superintendent foreman, agent or other employe to require or to permit or to suffer any female to work in any of the places mentioned in section 6771 of this article more than the number of hours therein specified shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined for each offense not less than $25 nor more than $100.

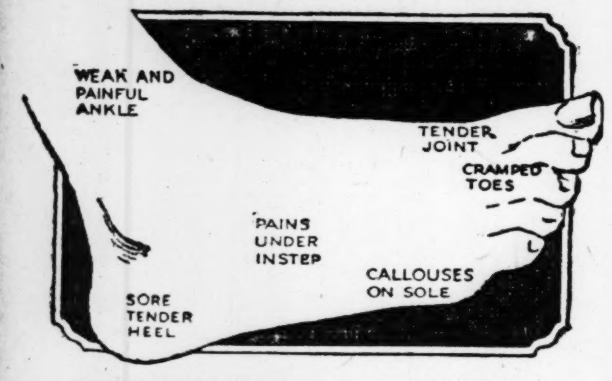
Foot Troubles?



DEMONSTRATION
All This Week

Seven persons out of every ten have some form of foot trouble. It may be weak or broken-down arches, weak ankles, corns, callouses or bunions or prabably a case of tired, aching, painful feet.

Regardless of what may be the nature of your suffering, you will find quick and permanent relief, this week, at our Foot Comfort Department.

Foot Comfort Expert to Serve You

For the benefit of all foot sufferers, this store has arranged with the Scholl Mfg. Co., for the service of one of Dr. Scholl's most skilled demonstrators, who will be at our store to give foot comfort demonstrations on the above date. Every foot sufferer should take advantage of this exceptional opportunity.

Pedo-graph Picture Made of Your Feet

—in a few seconds' time, without removing the hose, he can make a photographic print of your foot that positively shows if you have foot trouble and to what stage the trouble has progressed. This service places you under no obligation whatever.

Ask for Zino-Pad Samples

Do you want to know how to instantly stop corns hurting? Ask for a sample of Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads. They remove the cause of corns—friction and pressure. Thin, antiseptic, healing

Bring your foot troubles to this store during this demonstration and learn the true meaning of foot comfort.

Colonial Model 21, New Performance Results, Advanced Engineering, Supreme Quality.

Cutting engineering and manufacturing skill has given America the Colonial 21, an extraordinary radio of remarkable performance and supreme quality. From everywhere comes praise of this finely engineered product. Everywhere owners are talking about a new radio satisfaction that this Colonial gives.

Dr. Fulton Cutting in working out his adaption of the Weagant circuit has contributed another Cutting achievement to radio science.

Selectivity, power, refinement, sensivity are words that because of common usage mean little in radio descriptions, but they take on a new meaning when you hear the Colonial 21.

Women who like fine things are delighted with it. Men who revel in perfection are enthusiastic over its extraordinary performance and economy of operation. Test a Colonial 21 out yourself.

An authorized Colonial dealer is near you to prove these claims in competitive tests.

Sofia Reporters Get $8 a Month.

SOFIA, Oct. 1.—News reporters here presumably exist on what many newly married couples always feel they can fall back on—love and fresh water. The average reporter receives about $8 a month and, an important editor such as Nikola Mileff, who was assassinated, receives less than $50 a month. Sofia has 14 daily newspapers and they sell for about three-fourths of a cent each.

GRAIN LIST HIGHER ON LOCAL EXCHANGE

ST. LOUIS MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE, Nov. 3.—Grain futures sold higher today on the local market. Liverpool closed 1d to 2d net higher.

An estimate that 1,250,000 bushels of Canadian wheat had been purchased for shipment to Europe helped to lift prices late, and so, likewise, did assertions that the greater part of the wheat a Duluth is Durum. There was report of private estimate that the Australian exportable surplus this season would be hardly 50,000,000 bushels, as against 120,000,000 last year.

In the local cash grain market soft wheat was 1c to 3c lower. Hard was ½c to 1½c lower. There was slow milling demand. Corn was ½c up on old corn to ½c off. New corn was up 2c to 1c lower. Demand was fair. Oats were steady to ½c lower. Demand was fair.

Wheat prices were up more than a cent in the early trade, following a fractionally higher start. Liverpool afternoon cable came 1¼d to 2d higher and Winnipeg early was up 1⅝c to 2⅝c. Corn futures here showed fractional advance early.

December wheat opened at $1.56⅝. May wheat $1.49¼. December corn, 73⅞c and May corn 77⅞c.

Strength of Liverpool, which was said to have been due to bullish Australian and Argentine news, and report of bad weather in Canada interfering with movement were early influences in wheat market.

The three Northwestern markets combined had 2078 cars of wheat, compared with 3422 a week ago and 1569 last year. Minneapolis receiving 338 cars, Duluth 146 and Winnipeg 1594.

Local wheat receipts, which were 95,200 bushels, compared with 72,800 a week ago, included 57 cars local and 11 through. Corn receipts, which were 50,400 bushels, compared with 28,000 a week ago, included 36 cars local and none through. Oats receipts, which were 72,000 bushels, compared with 118,000 a week ago, included 30 cars local and 6 through. Hay receipts were 28 cars local and 16 through.

Stocks in St. Louis Public Elevators were 1,027,543 bushels of wheat, 133,989 bushels of corn, 1,129,396 bushels of oats. Grain stocks comprised 73,117 bushels of No. 1 red winter wheat, 529,428 bushels of No. 2 red winter wheat, 21,150 bushels of No. 1 hard winter wheat, 76,733 bushels of No. 2 hard winter wheat, 1213 bushels of No. 2 corn, 62,945 bushels of No. 2 yellow corn, 14,999 bushels of No. 2 white corn, 13,890 bushels of No. 2 oats, 258,718 bushels of No. 2 white oats, 578,646 bushels of No. 3 white oats.

Primary receipts of wheat were lighter than a week ago. Corn receipts were heavier than a week ago. Oats receipts were lighter than a week ago. Wheat shipments were lighter than a week ago. Corn shipments were lighter than a week ago. Oats shipments were lighter than a week ago.

Primary receipts of wheat were 1,084,000 bushels, compared with 1,088,000 a week ago. Corn receipts were 581,000 bushels, compared with 576,000 a week ago. Oats receipts were 543,000 bushels, compared with 576,000 a week ago. Wheat shipments were 964,000 bushels, compared with 1,258,000 a week ago. Corn shipments were 248,000 bushels, compared with 269,000 a week ago. Oats shipments were 297,000 bushels, compared with 515,000 a week ago.

Clearances were 3000 bbls. of flour and 14,000 bushels of wheat and flour.

St. Louis Cash Grain.

OUTSIDE NEWS BULLISH AND WHEAT PRICES RISE

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—Encouraged by bullish news local traders advanced wheat prices sharply today in early trade, but encountered heavy realizing sales later.

Wheat closed at top prices for the day. Eastern holders supported the market when local bulls took profits. Closing prices were 1⅝c to 2⅞c higher. New December $1.52 to $1.52½; old $1.50¾ to $1.51; new May $1.47 to $1.47¼; old $1.46⅛ to $1.46¼; July $1.29¾. Corn closed ¾c to 1⅛c higher; December 75½c to 75⅝c; May 79¼c to 79⅜c; July 80c. Oats were ¼c to ½c higher. December 38⅞c; May 43⅜c to 43½c; July 44⅛c. Lard closed unchanged to 7½c higher; ribs 20c lower. Local cash sales were 1000 bushels wheat, 156,000 corn, 48,000 oats, 12,000 barley. The seaboard reported sales of 1,000,000 to 1,200,000 bushels wheat for export.

The technical position of the market is weaker because of elimination of much of the short interest and failure of outside interests to respond to bullish developments. Locals were on the bull side as soon as the market opened. There was considerable pressure to sell after new December got above $1.51. At mid-session new December was $1.51¼, old $1.50⅝; new May $1.47, old $1.46; July, $1.29⅝.

Liverpool showed strength and followed our yesterday's advance. Buenos Aires, February delivery, opened 2½c higher and this, it was thought, confirmed frost damage news. A private cable said 2,741,000 acres were affected but the general loss was not heavy. Another bullish item was an Australian cable estimating the exportable surplus there at 50,000 bushels compared with 120,000,000 exported this year.

Weather was unfavorable in Canada. Winnipeg reported the pool having made good sales abroad over night and cash premiums were up half cent. Milling demand for wheat continues fair despite discouraging reports on flour trade. Minneapolis December at one time today was 4⅝c under Chicago, or nearly a shipping difference.

Commission houses and shorts were active buyers of corn. At 75 cents for December there was free selling by recent buyers and on resting orders. Shipping sales were much better, some shippers reported. Country sold only a few cars to arrive. At mid-session December was 74⅝c, May 78⅝c, July 78⅝c.

Oats were a shade higher with corn. A moderate commission house demand was noted. The East continues indifferent.

Trade in provisions was confined largely to lard, which was higher.

COURT BARS SALE OF TEXAS ROAD TO MISSOURI PACIFIC

By the Associated Press.

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., Nov. 3.—Temporary injunction restraining W. T. Eldridge Sr. and the Sugarland Industries of Sugarland, Tex., from selling or entering into any agreement to sell or otherwise convert control of the Rio Grande Railroad to the Missouri Pacific system, was granted in District Court here today. The road is 26 miles long, connecting Brownsville and Point Isabel, Tex.

At the offices of the Missouri Pacific system here officers declared their company held an option to purchase the Rio Grande road from W. T. Eldridge. The proposed purchase is part of the Missouri Pacific plan to acquire short-line railroads in the Rio Grande Valley district, recently opened to homesteaders. Missouri Pacific officials said they had no knowledge of the injunction proceedings or their cause.

SAN FRANCISCO EXCHANGE HAS RECORD TRADE DAY

By the Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—All records for the San Francisco Stock Exchange were broken by a bull market which yesterday sent prices skyrocketing. Nearly $3,000,000 worth of stock of the Caterpillar Tractor Co. changed hands, opening at 130, selling up to 135, and closing at [illegible].

P. G. & E. stock jumped from 130¾ to 133 under heavy demand; Paraffine common, which closed at 85 Saturday, opened at 87 and sold up to 90. Pacific Oil went from 53¼ to 57 and other stocks reflected the buying market.

During the day the sales of stock on the exchange totaled 667,732 shares with a value of $14,438,965 and bond sales totaled $74,500 in value.

Boston Wool Market.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

BOSTON, Nov. 3.—While the wool market showed little change as to prices today and a fair weight of wool continued to move to the mills, probably of most interest at the moment was the disposition of the mills to anticipate future requirements on a somewhat more liberal scale. Thus far there has been little relaxation in the hand-to-mouth policy. The mills have had a successful worsted goods trade, and are now looking forward to a good season in the heavyweight woolen goods, all of which has helped the market for fine and medium grades. Sales of Ohio three-eighths blood combing fleeces have been made above 55c grease basis.

SAN FRANCISCO EXCHANGE HAS RECORD TRADE DAY

By the Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—All records for the San Francisco Stock Exchange were broken by a bull market which yesterday sent prices skyrocketting. Nearly $3,000,000 worth of stock of the Catterpillar Tractor Co. changed hands, opening at 130, selling up to 155, and closing at 150.

P. G. & E. stock jumped from 130¾ to 183 under heavy demand; Paraffin common, which closed at 85 Saturday, opened at 87 and sold up to 90. Pacific Oil went from 55½ to 57 and other stocks reflected the buying market.

During the day the sales of stock on the exchange totaled 667,732 shares with a value of $4,438,955, and bond sales totaled $74,500 in value.

Boston Wool Market.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

BOSTON, Nov. 3.—While the wool market showed little change as to prices today and a fair weight of wool continued to move to the mills, probably of most interest at the moment was the disposition of the mills to anticipate future requirements in a somewhat more liberal scale. Thus far there has been little relaxation in the hand-to-mouth policy.

The mills have had a successful worsted goods trade, and are now looking forward to a good season in the heavyweight woolen goods, all of which has helped the market for fine and medium grades. Sales of Ohio three-eighths bloods combing fleeces have been made above 53c grease basis.

LEADING LINES OF RUGS FOR SPRING ARE LOWER

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The new floor covering season for spring was opened yesterday with prices showing declines ranging from 7 to 10 per cent on leading lines of rugs.

Prices for the new season are guaranteed until April 1 by the largest producer, thus serving as an added inducement for the placing of advance business with mills. Raw silk sold below $7 per pound for the first time in weeks. Trading in fabrics has slowed up temporarily on account of the holidays. Cotton goods were steadier in the gray goods division following the rise in cotton but new business was light.

Yarns were in better inquiry for future delivery and spinners were better disposed toward meeting revised price ideas of buyers.

The demand for cloaks and suits and other winter garments for immediate shipment continued active

FURTHER ADVANCE SCORED BY COTTON AT NEW ORLEANS

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 3.—The cotton market today was bullishly affected by strength in the British market, fairly heavy rainfall over the southwestern portion of the belt and a rather general feeling that the technical position of the market had not yet been corrected by recent short covering. Prices started at gains of about 35 points all around and maintained a starong tone throughout, closing at around the high point of the day, with net gains of 48 to 53 points. Closing qoutations from Liverpool were from 13½ to 20 points over yesterday's finish, to reach a parity with which local prices were due to advance 27 to 40 points.

Wall Street News and Comment

—SPECIAL DAILY—

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—With the stock exchange closed for election day the principal happenings on Monday continued to be discussed along with their possible sequel.

It was commonly agreed that the last 10 points of the spectacular 22-point rise in Hudson Motor was the work of a badly frightened short interest. It was also agreed that the speculation in the motor stocks had reached the state where it was making conservative people more cautious.

Nobody of experience could forget what has occurred after similar sensational upheavals in the past. These have not been corrected by any thing moderate in the way of reaction. The usual outcome has been a decline of sufficient severity and extent fully to undo and frequently a good deal more than undo the previous speculative excesses.

Even houses which are still expressing sanguine views over the longer future were sending out advices Monday night not to follow up the present advance, but to look for a period of increased profit-taking.

The oils were doing better in the last hour on Monday and were becoming more active. The steels were discounting more favorable reports in the midweek reviews, especially on the question of prices.

Definite plans are believed to have been formed for rewarding Atlantic Coast Line shareholders for their long wait and part of the program is rumored to involve the sale of Atlantic Coast Line's holdings of Louisville & Nashville.

In times past when American stocks were actively dealt in abroad a holiday did not mean the almost complete suspension of business as it does now. Then the market for "Americans" in London was the subject of vital interest and many sales occurring while New York was shut down, were quickly registered when business reopened here. But at the present time the supply of American stocks available for trading purposes in London has so dwindled that the market has become insignificant. Most of the business done is by direct cable and consequently London and Paris or any of the European centers has little business of any consequence in American stocks during an American holiday.

Straus Financing in New York

NEW YORK! Today a metropolis so great that its magnitude defeats our comprehension. Tomorrow, inevitably a world-capital so titanic that its destiny defeats our imagination.

The city we see today did not grow merely from magic in the soil of Manhattan. New York is New York because of its strategic location as the nation's principal gateway; because the judgment and foresight of men grasped its potential advantages; and because the skill and labor of men were applied to their development.

Among those who have played a part in the building of present day New York is S. W. STRAUS & CO. From all over the Union the Straus Organization has mobilized money that has played an important part in the development of the city's best districts. On the roll-call of Straus-financed buildings in New York are such office buildings as the Pershing Square, Westinghouse, Canadian Pacific, National Association, the Fisk Building and the Straus Building itself; such hotels and apartment buildings as the Ambassador, the towering Shelton, 277 Park Ave., 580 Park Ave., all pictured above, and scores of other impressive structures in selected locations, where solid values and certain earning power assure sound investments.

Yet, perhaps, more important is the fact that tens of thousands of Straus investors have been able to profit with safety by the prosperity and growth of New York through the purchase of Straus Bonds—bonds tested and judged with the knowledge born of long experience—bonds that have proved themselves as sound and strong as the stone and steel of the great buildings that stand back of them, rooted deep in the flint and granite of Manhattan.

A booklet we have recently published tells the story of STRAUS PLAN Bonds and why they embody the four requisites of sound investment—safety, attractive yield, diversification and marketability. Write for your copy of "Forty-three Years Without Loss to Any Investor." Ask for

TALKS OF OFFICERS' HOUSING SHORTAGE

His Stop at Post Follows Conclusion of Inquiry Into Charges of Inferior Material for Dirigibles.

Major-General Mason M. Patrick, Chief of Air Service, departed from Scott Field by airplane for Washington this morning after having spent 24 hours at the post on a visit of inspection.

His arrival at the field followed by only a few days the conclusion of a nine-day hearing by a military board of inquiry named by him to investigate charges of A. Leo Stevens, civilian employe of the field, that inferior material had been supplied for use in flying equipment there.

Stevens laid particular stress on material for dirigible envelopes, or bags. He declared that envelopes were shipped to the field by the manufacturers in bad condition, that re-enforcements had given away and panels had pulled out while ships were being handled on the field.

Visit Had no Bearing on Inquiry.

Gen. Patrick told a Post-Dispatch reporter last night that his visit had nothing to do with the investigation of the board. The report of the hearing, he said, has already been forwarded to his office in Washington and he will review it when he returns.

Stevens declined last night to discuss the character of testimony at the hearing, held behind closed doors, but it is understood that he was on the stand most of the time. Maj. Norman W. Peek of Scott Field was associated on the board with Majors F. M. Kennedy and Harold Strauss.

Flying officers at the field, while unwilling to be quoted, are inclined in private to discount the charges made by Stevens. It was pointed out that while there had been some faulty material, its defects grew from the fact that it was experimental and were corrected as soon as they were found out by actual test. There was slight interest among officers in the hearing. Lieutenant-Colonel John A. Paegelow, commandant, said last night that he had not attended a single session.

Patrick Prises Work at Field.

Gen. Patrick, a guest at Col. Paegelow's quarters for the evening, expressed satisfaction with the management of the field.

"I find the post in better condition than ever before," he said. "I am particularly pleased with the progress on the new semi-rigid airship, RS-1. Care, rather than haste, has been the watchword in preparing the ship and we are certain it will have a successful trial flight when it is brought out for its first trip."

One of the problems now confronting Gen. Patrick is the housing of officers and cadets at flying fields. Officers have been bitter in their criticism of housing conditions and steps have been taken to get appropriations for permanent quarters such as are supplied in the older line posts.

Officers in Frame Buildings.

"Any civilian who has been a visitor at this field for example, can see that officers are living in poorly constructed frame buildings and that many conveniences are lacking," Gen. Patrick said.

"The flying fields are still using buildings put up for use only for the duration of the war. At many fields even such quarters as are available are too limited to house all the officers. At Scott Field, for example, Col. Pagelow tells me that 60 per cent of the officers of the permanent detail are living off the post.

"These officers are getting commutation quarters from the Government ranging from $40 monthly upwards, according to rank. That money would pay the interest on the cost of construction of new buildings here. I hope that we will be able to arrange for better living conditions in the near futre."

STYLE SHOP RECEIVERSHIP DENIED IN AUTO INJURY CASE

Circuit Judge Miller yesterday denied the petition of Mrs. Rose Glickser for a receiver for the Broadway Style Shop, 1242 South Broadway, owned by her niece, Mrs. Nathan L. Robstein, and her husband.

Mrs. Glickser charged that Robstein had transferred most of the stock in the corporation to his wife to evade a judgment for $18,600 that Mrs. Glickser got against Robstein several weeks ago for injuries suffered in an automobile accident.

Testimony in the receivership case indicated that Mrs. Robstein was the actual owner of the stock, having paid for it with money she earned before her marriage and with money her father had loaned her.

The DIVINE LADY

by E. BARRINGTON

LADY HAMILTON AS CIRCE

FROM THE PAINTING BY G. ROMNEY

"The Divine Lady" is the story, partly fiction but largely based on fact, of Lady Emma Hamilton, the Englishwoman of lowly birth who became one of the best known and most talked about women in all Europe.

CHAPTER FIFTY-NINE.

BUT pity or no pity, the climax was nearly upon Fanny now. Nothing could stave it off. She spent her solitary Christmas sitting at the windows of their lodgings in Arlington street and wondering whether in all broad London there was any heart so heavy as hers. Not in London, perhaps, but certainly in the midst of all the gaiety at Beckford's palace on Fonthill. Nelson was sick in spirit—and the more mortally offended with his wife because he knew that in ways he could not explain to himself she was the cause of his unrest—even in Emma's company and the noisy gaieties of Beckford's meretricious Fonthill; all of which suited her Ladyship exceedingly well.

They returned to London, and Fanny had her orders to attend the Hamiltons to the opera and show herself in the box with them. Emma made a point of that, for the time was not now far distant when Lady Nelson's countenance might be vital to her in Sir William's and the world's eyes. Fanny pleaded fatigue, but soon saw there was no alternative. She put on her quiet black satin and sat in the box a little behind the beautiful glittering Emma in her purple spangled satin with the cachemire draping her fair shoulders. There were very few eyes in the house which were not turned upon that box, with their owners speculating on the drama it held. Nelson sat in front, brilliant in stars and orders as Emma in jewels. Sir William went placidly to sleep.

Half-way through the performance, in the very midst of the great soprano aria, "Non dirmi addio," where the prima donna swoons into the arms of the distracted tenor, Emma followed her example and fainted quietly away. Nelson and her husband sprang together to her assistance. Fanny sat death-still, not moving a finger. It was as if something had snapped in her brain with the result of an extraordinary lucidity in all her perceptions. She saw, she understood, and her own hitherto obtuseness filled her with shame and self-disgust. No wonder that Nelson, that every one despised her. She had carried obedience into caricature and made a show of herself for all London. She rose and walked out of the box without a look in Emma's direction.

Presently the two men followed, supporting Emma between them. She was recovering but still pale as death, her eyes showing but as blue line under heavy lids. They had dragged some cushions out of the box and made a kind of couch for her in the passage, which was quite empty.

"Have you no smelling salts?" Nelson said imperiously. He was stooping over the sufferer with Sir William. There was no direct answer.

"I am going home," Fanny said. She pulled her cloak about her and turned her back on the group without another word. She walked swiftly along the passage.

"My dear Nelson, pray attend to your wife. I will see to Emma. See, she is recovering quickly. Lady Nelson cannot return alone." So said Sir William, realizing the potentialities of the situation and anxious to avoid them. An attendant came hurrying up with salts, and Nelson strode away after his wife a heart full of anger which was but pain reversed.

He overtook her half-way down the stairs, and calling a carriage, put her in in dead silence, and followed her. Not a word was said on the way to Arlington Street, the wheels jolting over the cobbles, and the dim lamps shining and darkening as they passed. Fanny opened her own door at the end, and got out and went upstairs. She knew she must face it now, and a kind of desperate resolution came to her. Things could not last like this. A change there must be and who could tell it might not be for the better? Certainly nothing could be worse.

Nelson followed her and shut the door of the sitting room. He looked ill and pale in his fine coat with its stars; even less fit to face the ordeal than she. But he moved straight up to the attack and laid his ship alongside the enemy, as he always did at sea. She sat down, quite unable to stand.

"I wish to know why you publicly insulted Lady Hamilton? Why, when she fainted, did you not show her the common humanity of help as one woman to another? Why did you turn your back on her and walk out of the box?"

Her teeth were chattering with terror. She could hardly control her voice. There could be only one thing more dreadful than this scene—to endure as she had been enduring. But she got some words out at last.

"If you ask me that question I must answer. But you had better

His tone was like tempered steel: "I ask it."

She raised herself in her chair, supporting her two hands on the arms, and looked into his eyes.

"It is terrible to me to say it, but I cannot screen your mistress and the mother to be of your child."

There was an awful silence. His face was livid. Every particle of colour had fallen away even from his lips. So they faced each other, the ruins of their life between them.

For a minute or more neither spoke—nor could. Then he rallied.

"How you dare make that base and foul attack on a woman better than yourself, God only knows. I can only suppose your mind is poisoned through and through by the Jacobin lies. Never while I live will I forgive you. And this to the husband to whom you owe everything!"

A sudden courage fired her at this most unjust speech.

"When my husband withdraws his love and gives it to another, what else he has given me is worthless in my eyes. And as to stories—I go by your own conduct. Have I had a kind word from you since you returned? Have we lived as husband and wife? Have I not been dragged about with a woman whose shameful past made her an unfit companion for me in any case?"

"Be silent," he said, with low, concentrated fury.

"I cannot be silent. I have always obeyed you and my one prayer is to do so again and forever. Oh, my husband, my dear, dear husband; we were happy once. I implore and entreat you let us be happy again. Put her away and come back to me. She is ruining you in the eyes of men. On all sides are stories of her worthlessness and your misplaced belief in her. That is the cause of all the coldness that wounds you. I love you. Come back to me and forget this most miserable thing and let us be happy again."

She spread her hands out in the quick gesture he knew so well. The tears were thick in her eyes, but did not overflow. Even then her reserve stood in her way. Even to herself she seemed strained and cold. She wanted to kneel before him and cling about him and tell him all her love, but could not. Oh, for a word, a sign of love from him and then the frost would break up and dissolve in a rain of passionate tears and kisses.

He turned to the window for a minute and stood looking out on the dim lights as if taking a moment to think, and then turned back again.

"I won't insult the woman you speak of by defending her from your vile attacks. She is utterly beyond your malice; the truest, bravest heart in the world. If you wanted love from me you should have met my friend as your friend and taken her to your heart as I have. She was willing to love you, as she wrote you more than once, but you would have nothing but your own poor jealousy. Well, have it! Keep it! I tell you here and now that you have so acted that one hair of her head is more to me than all you have and are, and that though most unfortunately I must live with you for her sake, it shall never again be as husband and wife. And if you injure her in word or deed it shall be at your peril."

She got up from her chair steadied by these dreadful words and stood holding by it for a moment. Then she spoke in a choking whisper.

"What must the passion be that can make a man like you speak to the wife he has loved and trusted? I have no more to say. God judge between us."

She went quietly to the door that led to her bedroom and passed through and he heard the key turn. If even then she had faltered and shown some sign of weakness he might have—no, not relented, for Emma possessed him too strongly for that!—but have thought of her more tenderly. But her reserve stood her in ill stead, and moreover he knew he was in the wrong, and he who has done the wrong never pardons. He would have left the house forever then but for the injury to Emma's reputation at that crisis.

He sat down by the table and buried his face in his arm and thought of Emma and yearned for her and for the comfort she only could give him. Indeed, his love for her, misplaced, guilty, is none the less one of the rememberable passions of the world, incalculable to himself and in its results.

When he had a little recovered, he went out into the street and to Piccadilly that he might judge by the light in her window whether she had returned and was still suffering or could sleep. Up and down in the cold rain he walked, his eyes fixed on that square of light, and at last was rewarded more than once by seeing her figure flit across it with long disheveled hair, and Mrs. Cadogan evidently in attendance. This was the best he could hope, and then he went back and crept into his small bedroom and never closed his eyes any more than did his wife; and so those two miserable hearts were side by side, united yet apart in a very different suffering, for the few last nights left them.

There were not to be many. In his tactlessness and cruel persistence, hardened by the slights shown almost everywhere to Emma, he scarcely opened his mouth at home but to praise her. He had a faint hope of convincing Fanny that all was innocent between them, and that therefore the subject was not one he need avoid, but still greater was the desire to insist on the virtues and greatness of soul which all the world must realize. His brother Maurice came up to London and, shocked at the state of affairs and the talk which greeted him on every side, implored Nelson to be reconciled with his wife, even if it were only for the sake of Lady Hamilton's reputation, which he himself privately considered past praying for. Nelson's answer was an ultimatum.

"I am willing to live on friendly terms with Fanny but will never desert a woman to whom I owe so much and insult her by what my desertion would imply. Fanny must accept her as an honored friend."

And Fanny could only reply that there might be some hope if she could be allowed to ignore the woman. That surely was not too much to ask. It was much too much, as it proved. There was a deadlock.

It added to her agony that Nelson's sisters, Mrs. Bolton and Mrs. Matcham, had struck up the most cordial friendship with the woman whose hand, as they well perceived, could dispense all the favors they could hope from their famous brother, and the elder brother William, the needy clergyman, was not long in imitating them. His letters to Emma, sickening with adulation, often contained such gentle reminders as the following:

"I am told there are two or three very old lives, prebends of Canterbury, in the Minister's gift, near £600 a year, and good houses." And then she would set Nelson, much against his taste, to beg the authorities for favors which he hated to ask.

She was flattered in the extreme by this family recognition and too free and easy to care to trace its wellspring very closely—all was confidence and sympathy on that side.

(To Be Continued.)

DO'S AND DON'TS FOR BUSINESS WOMEN

By NELLIE E. GARDNER

YOU may have learned how to work, but have you learned how to live?

If not, you are far from being as successful as you may think.

Real "living" involves much besides making dresses, trimming hats, typing legal briefs, mixing dough or chemicals, or whatever your means of livelihood may be.

To perfect a proper balance in life and to acquire poise and philosophy that nothing can disturb is one of the secrets of happiness and success.

How many men and women do you meet who know all about their work, and nothing about anything else? In conversation at a dinner or theater party, they are lost. When it comes to matching wits in any field outside their own particular little bread winner, they are as helpless as a fish in a flying contest or a piano in a swimming race.

The whole trouble is, they have not learned how to live. They have been too busy earning a living.

In the broad pattern of life, take care that you do not become near-sighted. Myopia of the mind is more deadly than any defect of the eye. Anything that broadens your vision, stimulates your experience, will help to overcome paucity of ideas. But ideas alone will not solve your deficiency. Emotions must keep pace with the intellect if you would avoid the accusation of not knowing how to live.

Awakened emotions will not entirely supply your need. The completely rounded life—as you will become more and more convinced with the years—holds something more than thinking and feeling. It possesses a definite, reasoning, and reasonable scheme for all things. That is, from the melting pot of experience—of work, of play, of grief, of gladness—a man or woman has evolved a philosophy of life which provides a satisfying answer to all its setbacks and queries.

Have you done as much?

If you make money or lose it, can you be equally placid and fair-minded?

When the end of all things comes for you—and you face the great finality—will you plead for more time, for just one more chance, so that you may begin to learn to live?

That chance may not come. The time to start is today.

MEDITATIONS —OF A— MARRIED WOMAN

By HELEN ROWLAND

CUPID'S crop of flirtations and love-affairs is increasing in numbers every year—and deteriorating in quality.

This is because kissing has become a habit instead of an art and a pastime instead of an adventure.

Now, that a kiss has fallen from the glory of an occasional luxury to the ignominy of a social obligation, it has lost all of its flavor and most of its kick.

* * *

The thing that has taken all the charm and enchantment out of a kiss is that it is always "expected"—never a SURPRISE! The only thrilling kisses, like the only thrilling Christmas presents are those that you didn't expect.

* * *

When a girl never could guess whether or not a man would try to kiss her and a man never could guess whether or not he DARED? the whole thing had a dash of adventure, a piquant flavor of uncertainty—like the night before Christmas—that tingled through you and buttoned up the back.

But, now that you know that every man EXPECTS to kiss you, and that every man thinks that you EXPECT him to kiss you—well, it's just about as thrilling as knowing that you will have chicken for dinner, every Wednesday and Sunday.

Love is a game. But what is exciting about a game, in which there is no chance to lose and nothing to win?

* * *

Easy petting is the penny-ante of love—on which only a cheap sport with a bargain-counter soul and a cafeteria taste would waste a moment's time.

Increase of the Crease.

The newest felt and velour small hats are remarkably alike and decidedly different. The crease is what makes this possible. Nearly all are round, moderately high of crown, narrow of bri min front and narrower still behind. They are trimmed with flowers or leaves of gold, leather, or those formed of feathers. Individuality and chic are attained by the manner in which the high crown is creased by each wearer.

Muffs.

Long before Roger Peckinpaugh's world's series errors were forgotten merchants put muffs on the market. The latest Parisian importations are feather muffs, composed of the body plumage of wild ducks and pheasants. The brown and gold of the latter blends wonderfully with the fall colorings. A band of plumage on the small hats frequently matches the muffs.

THE DATE TREE

By ERNEST SEEMAN

Nov. 3rd, 1495 — 430 years ago—Henry VII writes in his Book of Private Expenses the following item: "4 shillings to the singing-children for the king's spur fine." This odd entry may be traced to a curious tipping law then prevailing in England, which read: "If any knight or other person entitled to wear spurs enter a chapel in that guise, he shall pay to the choiristers a fine; but if he command the youngest chorister to sing the gamut and he fail in the same doing, then said knight shall be excused from the said fine thereupon.

THE time when cool weather arrives is an excellent time to take stock of your claims to beauty.

The change of seasons, as a rule, affects our complexions more than anything else about our appearance. For this reason I advise you to give your complexion a close scrutiny in the best light possible. Take your hand mirror to a window where the light can fall on it over your left shoulder, and don't be afraid to face the facts.

Is your skin smooth and lovely, or are there blemishes which you would like immensely to wipe away?

After the hot summer weather, many of us are likely to find signs of the touch of summer on our complexions long after the cool weather has arrived. If this remnant of summer lingers in touches of tan which have lost their attractiveness, there is no better bleach than and Peroxide.

Mix these ingredients in equal parts, and rub the lotion over your skin with a bit of soft absorbent cotton. Do not use it too frequently, as the result may be too drying, but a judicious use of this bleach will help to soften and whiten your skin. It is often wise to use a light application of cold cream or skin food after applying the mixture.

Also, I advise generous use of cold cream for cleansing your skin. For the heat of summer may have left the skin dry and in need of a bit of oil. Then, too, the air of our steam-heated houses is very drying in its effect on delicate skins, and we need something w counteract this effect.

Children's Bedtime Story

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

The Travelers Are Waylaid

Who travels never knows when he May face to face with danger be.
—Nanny Meadow Mouse.

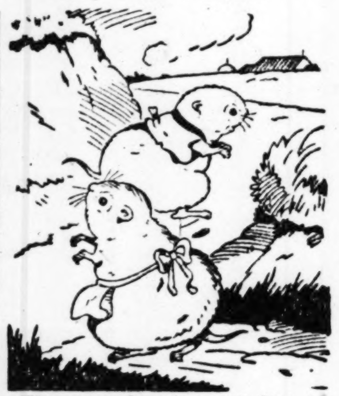
DANNY and Nanny Meadow Mouse were peeping out from under an old board at the foot of a post at the lower end of the Long Lane while they talked with Peter Rabbit. They were explaining to Peter that they were preparing for winter by traveling, and Peter was having hard work to get that through his head. They teased him for a while and then they explained. "You see," said Danny, "we had such a very comfortable winter when we went down to the Sunny South that we decided we must do something this year to have as comfortable a winter as possible. So we are moving up to Farmer Brown's."

"Farmer Brown's!" cried Peter. "Do you mean to say that you are going up to Farmer Brown's to live?"

Again Danny chuckled that squeaky little chuckle of his. "We're going up to his barn to live," said he. "It is a wonderful place, that barn. You know Nanny and I lived there one winter, and we've never forgotten it. It is warm, there is plenty to eat, and there are no end of hiding places. I wouldn't care to stay there in the summer, but in the winter it is wonderful. Nanny and I talked it all over and decided that we would move up there for this winter. So we're on our way. We're taking our time, you know, because there is no particular hurry about getting there. So far we've had a very pleasant journey. Blacky the Crow was the first one to make any trouble for us. This old board came in very handy."

Peter Rabbit looked up. Then, without even stopping to say good by, away he ran. You see, Farmer Brown's boy was heading right straight for that old post. Stooping over, he picked up the board. He was going to take it back up to the barn. My, you should have seen Danny and Nanny Meadow Mouse take to their little heels! They squeaked with fright and away they ran. Farmer Brown's boy apologized, but they didn't hear him.

"You poor little scamps," said he. "Were you living under there? I'm sorry to give you such a fright." Then he looked very carefully to see if there was a nest. Of course there wasn't a nest, and then he concluded that they weren't living under that board at all, but were just hiding there. He went whistling up the Long Lane and on his shoulder he carried the board.



They ran from one shelter to another

As for Danny and Nanny Meadow Mouse, they also continued on up the Long Lane. But they went by a series of little runs followed by stops. You see, there were no little paths for them up there. They ran from one shelter to another, and in each shelter they stopped to look and listen for danger. You see, it was a very dangerous trip for two such little persons. They had been lucky that so far no one but Blacky the Crow had discovered them. Presently, as Danny ran from one little clump of grass to another, a great black creature sprang. Danny squeaked with fright for two black paws had all but landed on him. In fact, they had landed on his funny little short tail. Nanny Meadow Mouse had wanted to squeak, but she wisely had kept her mouth shut. Just in time she had seen Black Pussy the Cat. So now, with her heart going pitter-pat, pitter-pat, she crouched under the grass and, holding her breath, watched to see if Black Pussy would catch Danny. She expected every second to see Black Pussy with Danny in her teeth. But Black Pussy seemed to be having difficulty. She hadn't caught Danny. Nanny couldn't think how Danny could have escaped, but she was sure he had escaped. She could tell that he had by Black Pussy's actions. "Don't you let her get you, Danny. Don't you let her get you," she kept saying over and over under her breath.

You may be quite sure that Danny had no intention of letting Black Pussy get him—not if he could help himself.

Brown two small onions, sliced, and two green peppers, sliced in rings, in a little butter. When tender add tomatoes cut in half-inch slices across the grain. Allow two slices for each serving. Brown quickly on both sides, adding a little more butter if necessary. Then add one-half pound grated American cheese. As the cheese melts take out the tomato and peppers, place on slices of toast, and pour over these the melted cheese, seasoned with salt and Worcestershire sauce to taste.

APPLE BROWN BETTY.

Small loaf of bread, one quart of sliced apples, one-fourth cupful butter, one-fourth cupful sugar, one lemon, nutmeg. Crumb the bread, butter crumbs and cover bottom of a baking dish with them. Spread in a layer of apples, sprinkle with one-half of sugar and a little nutmeg and cover with crumbs, then repeating process and having the top layer of crumbs. Bake 40 minutes in medium oven. Prunes can be used instead of apples for a change.

'Terrible Tale' of a Fashionable Veil

If a veil makes a lady alluring
Why fret if it's eye-obscuring?

By WINIFRED BLACK

WINIFRED BLACK

VEILS—they're coming back! Hurrah! I didn't know they'd ever gone out—not with women who know how to dress.

And all the doctors are issuing solemn warnings about it.

"Veils are bad for the eyes," say the doctors, "veils are bad for the nerves," say the doctors, and "no woman with any sense will wear them," say the doctors.

And the veil makers read what the doctors say and go right on manufacturing veils just the same.

Why not?

Since when have pretty women listened to what the doctors had to say?

When high heels came back two or three years ago, after the low heel of the wartime went out, didn't you hear the doctors rave?

To listen to them we were all going to have curvature of the spine and cerebral headaches and indigestion and nervous breakdowns and bad dispositions and ungovernable tempers—all on account of high heels.

But the women went right on buying them and wearing them just the same.

And do you know there isn't a single woman of my acquaintance down with backache or spinal meningitis or cerebral headache or anything!

A few of them have had the flu and some of them have starved themselves till they're not as strong as they used to be, but in other respects, as they used to say in the old song, "they're doing quite well."

Then there were the corsets. What terrible tales we used to hear about the corsets. We were going to be a race of invalids or we were going to be a race of morons if we insisted on wearing those terrible instruments of torture.

Well, they were an awful nuisance, weren't they, girls, and aren't you glad to be rid of them once and for all?

But, whisper. If somebody in Paris or London or New York decided to go back to corsets and the somebody was very pretty and very smart and very well dressed—how long would it be before every woman you know would be tying herself up in a whalebone bandage—no matter how much it hurt or how she hated it.

I wonder if the invalids will increase according to the prophecies of the doctors, and if they did why should the doctors mourn, tell me that?

Veils? I'm glad they're coming back.

Carnation BRAND EVAPORATED MILK
Carnation MILK
It tastes creamy
It looks creamy
It is creamy!
(Canned Foods Week November 9th to 15th "Stock Your Pantry")

It's fine for babies—and they like it!

The same good Carnation Milk that you use for cooking and in place of cream, is wonderful milk for babies and growing youngsters.

In the first place, it is absolutely safe. Sterilization after the milk is placed in airtight cans kills all germs and bacteria and prevents any contamination from reaching the pure, fresh contents.

Then, Carnation contains all the vital elements essential to proper nourishment—butter fat with its growth-promoting vitamins; protein; carbohydrates; and minerals. No artificial sweetening is added. Carnation is just clean whole milk with part of the natural water content evaporated away.

Again, Carnation is palatable and digestible. Babies take kindly to it, easily digesting the fine, soft curd which it forms. And they are protected by its uniformity from the upsets so often caused by milk of fluctuating quality.

It's insured milk for your baby, and for every milk use—the milk which has become the world's biggest-selling brand through quality alone, without resort to premiums or other artificial sales stimulants.

Write for infant feeding chart and consult your physician for the correct formula for your baby. Also write for Mrs. Mary Blake's famous Carnation Cook Book. It's FREE

I WANDERED to the village, Tom; I sat, beneath the tree,
And as I sat in uffish thought a chestnut fell on me;
That's how I come to feel the urge to write this parody.

Maud Muller on a summer's day beneath the yew tree sat;
The Judge came riding up and said: "Where did you get that hat?"

Said Sweet Marie to Finnigin, "I was a happy bride;
You made me what I am today, I hope you're satisfied."

"I loved you, dear," said Finnigin, "when you were sweet sixteen,
And L. Bopeep was herding sheep upon the village green."

"Oh, rise up, Willy Reilly, and come along with me."

John Brown of Ossawattomie spake on his dying day:
"Whaddaya make them eyes at me for when they don't mean what they say?"

The Walrus asked the Carpenter what made the wild waves wild.
"They have no pepper with their salt; no wonder they are riled."

"Ring up Sir Arthur Sullivan, the Lost Chord has been found!"

Then Old Cap Collier in a flash, appearing on the scene,
Arrested Mary's little lamb for gamboling on the green.

Why Not?

When they start running electric cars through the Eads bridge tunnel our dreams of a subway will have practically come true. All right, Abner, let's go.

Of course it won't be very long but it will be long enough before it's any longer.

That tunnel was made to order for electric cars although it was built 25 years before there were any. Great foresight we calls it.

SWEEPING VICTORY FOR TAMMANY IN NEW YORK CITY

CARRIES EVERY BOROUGH IN CITY

ELECTION RESULTS IN BRIEF

New York City.

New York State.

Republicans carry majority of assembly districts.

New Jersey.

Wet Democrat elected Governor.

Detroit.

Ku Klux Klan candidate beaten for Mayor.

Kansas City.

Mayor Beach, Republican, re-elected, but Democrats control Council under the city manager system.

Indiana.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—James J. Walker, Tammany Democrat, has been elected Mayor of Greater New York by a plurality of 401,581 over Frank D. Waterman, Republican.

Walker's running mates on the city ticket were swept into office in one of the most impressive victories ever scored by Tammany yesterday. The next Board of Estimate will be solidly Democratic.

Walker carried all five boroughs but his plurality did not reach the high-water mark of 427,401, with which Mayor Hylan won in 1921. The total vote cast was less yesterday, however.

District Attorney Joab H. Banton, Democrat, was re-elected over former Governor Charles S. Whitman, who had waged a vigorous campaign. Whitman was twice elected District Attorney before he became Governor. Banton's majority was 115,000.

A semiprofessional ballplayer, a song writer in New York's famous Tin Pan Alley and a stage manager earlier in his career, Walker has been in the Legislature for 16 years. He has been an active supporter of welfare legislation. He was sponsor of laws permitting boxing, Sunday movies and Sunday baseball. He is a lawyer.

His victory came on the thirteenth anniversary of his wedding, and Mrs. Walker, who was a Chicago girl, formerly an actress, was prouder than ever of the display on her piano of her husband's musical masterpiece, "Will You Love Me in December as in May?"

Berlin Wrote Campaign Song.

Tin Pan Alley helped him. His prophetic campaign song, "Walk In With Walker," was written by Irving Berlin.

Walker is a little fellow, weighing 125, but has a mighty voice. He is 44 years old.

Gov. Smith's comment on the election was: "This great Democratic victory will be watched throughout the world."

Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate for Mayor, received about [illegible]0,000 votes.

The vote was surprisingly large in view of the decrease in registration and the apathy that characterized the campaign. It totaled approximately 1,125,358, though many observers had predicted it would be less than a million. At the last mayoralty election the vote was 1,165,800.

The mayoralty election is regarded as another triumph for Gov. Smith, as is also the ratification of four constitutional amendments for which he stumped the State. These amendments were opposed by the Republican organization.

One authorizes a $300,000,000 bond issue for grade crossing elimination. Another provides consolidation of State offices.

Honus Wagner Loses Election.

By the Associated Press.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 4.—Unofficial returns indicate that the Republican ticket had swept Pittsburg and Allegheny County yesterday. Judge Charles H. Kline was elected Mayor. Honus Wagner, former major league ball player, was defeated for sheriff. Wagner ran on the labor nonpartisan ticket.
